With the exception of Arkansas North Carolina has more miles of railway under construction than any other southern state. Arkansas has 216 and the old North State 183. Any one who chooses may poke fun at the Tar Heels, but they are fairly sprinting in the race for progress and will soon have their turn to laugh. Danville Register.

Today Sheriff Wycoff, of Iredell, telegraphed the attorney-general as follows: "Does section 15 of the revenue

A Virginia Mother

Friend, beginning six months before confinement. She felt perfectly well up to a few hours before the baby was born, and was in labor less than two hours. She had no morning sickness, no headache, no distressing tightness, no swollen or rising breasts. Her baby was strong and the picture of health.

Mother's Friend is the only remedy known which relieves the expectant mothers. It is a liniment to be applied externally. Nothing but harm can come from taking medicine internally at such times. All internal preparations said to relieve coming mothers are not only humbugs, but positively dangerous.

act include baseball games where an admission fee is charged? The attorney general referred this letter to the state treasurer, who replied: "Liable." This taps the baseballists and makes Father Worth smile. Raleigh Cor. Charlotte Observer.

State Superintendent of Public Instruction Mebane says that under the new school law only $50 is available for teachers' institutes annually in each county, and that there must be separate institutes for blacks and whites, thus giving each only $25. His solution of the difficulty is to have the white institute one year and that for the negroes the next.

The fact that Northern capital is seeking to build a large hotel here demonstrates that this field is fast being appreciated. Not that we have no good hotels here, but the fact that guests are becoming more numerous and are bound to increase and there must be more accommodations. We now have three of the very best appointed hotels in the south (one being finished at Yynn) with all modern conveniences. Tryon Bee.

Charles, the twelve-year-old son of Mr. C. W. Love, of Paw Creek township, committed suicide Saturday afternoon by hanging himself. From the surroundings it was clearly a case of self-destruction, carefully planned. It seems that after arranging the rope he got up on the joist, fixed the noose about his neck and then jumped. The neck was not broken and death was the result of strangulation.

The noted temperance lecturer, Dr. N. W. Tracy, has arrived here and will give his series of lectures in the Baptist church, beginning Thursday night, continuing for twelve successive nights without intermission. Dr. Tracy, together with his wife and daughter and Rev. O. H. E. Rauche and wife, come here under the auspices of the W. C. T. U. of this place, and on account of the seating capacity the Baptist church has been selected for the lectures. Concord Standard.

The Tarboro Southerner says that in 1874 Judge Phillips of that town purchased for $25,000 some land near Norfolk. A few years ago he sold a portion of it for $52,000, and now he sells the balance of it for $110,000. This gives a profit of $125,000. The interest on the investment for the twenty-five years the commissions for the selling of the property may be said to reduce the net profit to $100,000--a very comfortable fortune, all due to the wisdom and foresight of the wise and successful judge.

Some time before 8 o'clock Wednesday night one of the buildings at the Montgomery mine a short distance above Forest Hill was found to be on fire. Work was recently begun on this mine by Col. Stith, and a number of improvements have been made. The building in which the engine and boiler stamp mill and Huntington mill stood was consumed. The engine and boiler were only slightly damaged. The stamp mill is not badly damaged, though the copper plates were ruined, which means a loss itself of over one hundred dollars. The Huntington mill was unharmed. Concord Standard.

After sixteen years search in every part of the country, F. J. V. Frie, of Marion, Ohio, has found his son Harry, who was abducted from his home in Des Moines, Iowa, in 1883. The boy was then ten years old and an heir to a fortune of $200,000, left by his mother. He was stolen one morning in 1883, and from that time until now the father never relaxed his search, moving in the meantime from Iowa to Ohio. The boy was found a few days ago in Richmond Va., where he is the proprietor of a tailor shop. The object of the abduction is supposed to have been the money to which the boy was heir. Greensboro Record.

One of the leading democrats of North Carolina was asked by Col. Fred Olds what in his opinion the new democratic directors of the state's prison should do; that is, whether they should resign now. He replied: "I have read with care the law, and also the decision of the supreme court in the Day case, and see that the board of directors has very little power and direction; that the superintendent is absolutely independent, and further that they can not by remaining on the board, save the state from any possible mismanagement by the superintendent. I therefore think it best not to have a divided responsibility, and that the new members ought not to remain. If they had any power I would say that they might stay."

Theophilus White, fusionist shellfish commissioner, was here today. He was with the state treasurer and with him were Auditor Ayer and Revenue Collector Duncan, who is a sort of confidential adviser of the administration. White says: "The decision in the Day case makes me all right. It settles my case. It is not worth while for me to bring suit. I have never surrendered, and am still in charge, and have all my deputies. The oyster patrol boat, Lily, was taken by Mr. Clayton by means of a policeman, who took off Capt. John Dudley. But I have had papers served on Clayton, the policeman, and others, who have to appear in Newbern in August for trial. The policeman went on the Lily and forcibly dragged Dudley." Auditor Ayer then said: "Here is a telegram I am sending the democratic officials telling them to send me no more accounts until this matter as to White's title is settled. C. C. Allen is secretary of the board. White insists that under his regime the state has a net income of $5,000 or $6,000 a year, and asked the auditor if this were not true. The auditor said it was.
