INDIGESTION
DYSPEPSIA
What with barbarism, religious intolerance and indifference, little could have remained to us of the literatures of Greece and Rome but for their almost inexhaustible wealth.

Of Sappho we possess only an ode or two and quoted fragments. Her works were burned in the eleventh century, by order of the great Hildebrand. Addison says, by way of consolation, that they were filled with such bewildering tenderness and rapture, it might have been dangerous to give them a reading.

Of 108 comedies of Greek domestic life, the work of Menander, a writer whose field was never occupied by anybody else and whose purity of style Plutarch declares to have been surpassed by Homer alone, not even what may be called a fragment remains. Stray lines are quoted here and there. Twenty-four of the plays are known to have existed until the seventeenth century, when they were erased from their rolls to make space for the works of an ecclesiastical writer.

Of the 276 dramas of the great Greek tragedians, Eschylus, Sophocles and Euripides, only 32 are possessed by the world today.

The brilliant Livy, to whom Macaulay, among moderns, is often likened, wrote 140 volumes or rolls of his "Annals" of Rome. Of these only 35 remain to us.

Of the 30 historical volumes of Tacitus we have four.

Of Pliny the Elder, the sole great naturalist of the Roman race, but one work has escaped destruction.

Varro, a Latin biographer, placed by common consent beside the otherwise incomparable Plutarch, is totally lost to us.

Of Caesar's orations, for which his contemporary fame was as great as for his generalship or statesmanship, not one has been preserved.—Demorest's Magazine.

The Decorative Possibilities in Vines Vines indeed may cover a multitude of sins—foundations, bare walls, unsightly band fences, often covered with signs and unpainted sheds; vines may serve as screens and give privacy to the yard; vines may give a shady nook in the little corner that has so often worried us to care for; but, above all, vines may make our houses homes indeed, adding grace and beauty to even the staidest mansion. There is such an endless variety of vines and most of them are so easily cultivated that they appeal to the veriest novice or the busiest housewife. In planting you may have all of one kind or choose many varieties. For quick effects over balcony, fence or screen the morning glory, moon flower, nasturtium, Cobae scandens and cypress vine give most pleasing effects. For slower and more permanent results are the ivies, woodbine, honeysuckles and their kind.—E. L. Shuey in Woman's Home Companion.

But roads or no roads we are happy at our house—our son has got home from Cuba. Yes, he is free, free as Captain Hannah or Colonel Armfield. I was thinking of liberty, of the Cubans, of the Filipinos—seeing the statements of the Filipinos burning everything rather than let it fall into the hands of the United States troops—and I thought that every Filipino killed by our troops was a blot on liberty, and a murder directly chargeable to the American nation, and particularly to the president and his advisers.

NEWS FROM ACTON.

Acton, N. C., May 1.—Seldom has our neighborhood witnessed a more impressive funeral service than that of last evening over the remains of Mr. John Smith who died at his home on the morning of April 29. The funeral ceremonies were conducted by his pastor, Rev. Mr. Malone, assisted by Rev. Mr. Brown, chaplain of the Elm Grove I. O. O. F., of which lodge Mr. Smith was a much esteemed member, and the respect and honor shown him by that grand order plainly bespoke the high esteem in which he was held by his fellow workers. The remains were conveyed to the Acton M. E. church and interred at 6 o'clock by the members of the lodge. The pallbearers were Mr. Mark Ownbey, Mr. John Welch, Mr. James Reynolds, Mr. Dick Penland, Mr. John Leadford, Mr. and Maurice Shook. Mr. Smith, while only 22 years of age, was an earnest worker in the Acton M. E. church, and no matter how heavy the burden was always ready to bear it for the Master's cause.

A noble son, an earnest Christian and a light to our community is lost to us forever in this world, but we hope in the beautiful beyond, where parting is no more we will be reunited with the loved hosts of regenerate souls who have gone on before.

HENDERSONVILLE ITEMS.

Hendersonville, May 1.—G. F. Stradley left for Greenville, S. C., Friday, being called there on account of the serious illness of his brother.

Mr. C. H. Smith, mother and sister, who have been spending the winter here left last Thursday for their home in Indiana.

The new hotel is going up rapidly, and will probably be opened by July 15th.

Mr. W. M. Thompson of Charleston, S. C., spent a few days with friends in Hendersonville last week.

"Uncle" Solomon Jones, a well known citizen of Hendersonville county, died recently at his home on Mt. Hebron. Mr. Jones was probably the oldest man in the county, being nearly 98 years of age.

Don't think you can cure that slight attack of Dyspepsia by dieting, or that it will cure itself. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure will cure it; it "digests what you eat" and restores the digestive organs to health.

Dr. P. M. Ashland Anderson, of Knoxville, and eleven deputies are in jail at Murphy, N. C., on the charge of criminal trespass. Anderson went to the mountain section a few days ago to serve a writ of possession on parties occupying the tract of land, the ownership of which was settled by United States Judge Clarke's decision, a few days ago, determining the location of the Tennessee and North Carolina state line. The occupants refused to yield and after being ejected from the premises, secured North Carolina warrants for the posse for criminal trespass. The matter has been reported to the department at Washington.

CLASSICS LOST TO US.

Not One Work of Menander or Varro Remains to the Present Day.

What with barbarism, religious intolerance and indifference, little could have remained to us of the literatures of Greece and Rome but for their almost inexhaustible wealth.

WHEN SETTING OUT PLANTS.

An important point in setting out plants is to firm the soil well about the plant after setting it in the ground. This can best be done with the feet, stamping the soil gently immediately about the base and against the stalk of the plant. This serves to keep the plant in position, so that it will not be whipped about by the wind, and prevents the air from getting at the roots. As the plants are knocked out of the pots dip the ball of soil surrounding the roots in water, and pour a little into the hole into which the plant is to be set. Fill the soil in about the plant, and compress it as suggested above, and if no water is applied for a week the plant will not suffer. By the former method only the surface of the soil is wet, and the roots of the plant remain dry.—Robert McGregor in the May Woman's Home Companion.

Pneumonia, the grippe, coughs, colds, croup, and whooping-cough readily yield to One Minute Cough Cure. Use this remedy in time and save a doctor's bill or the undertaker's.

M'CLURE'S FOR MAY.

The May McClure's is especially notable for its articles of sharp present interest. J. L. Steffens supplies a valuable, and often dramatic, chapter in recent politics in the story (never before told) of Theodore Roosevelt's experiences with the warring political reformers and party politicians during his recent canvass for the governorship of New York and since. A new and fuller view of Admiral Dewey and his way of dealing with affairs in the Philippines is given in Oscar King Davis' "Stories of Admiral Dewey."

Mr. Davis, writing from his own personal knowledge, acquired as the Manila correspondent of the New York Sun. Ray Stannard Baker gives a popular exposition of Dr. T. J. J. See's important new theory, that as a gaseous body shrinks its temperature increases, and that, contrary to the common opinion, the sun is at present not growing colder but rapidly hotter.

ROSEBUDS

Budding womanhood! What glorious possibilities! What half-hidden dangers! What a time for tender sympathy! At puberty nature generally makes some attempt to establish physical regularities, but when nature fails to assert itself, developments result which injure the health and impair the constitution of the maiden. The timely use of Bradford's Female Regulator, the standard remedy for all weaknesses and irregularities peculiar to women, is what retarded nature needs in all such cases. Sold by druggists for $1. Books for women free.

THE BRADFORD REGULATOR CO., ATLANTA, GA.

S. S. S. GOES TO THE BOTTOM.

Promptly Reaches the Seat of all Blood Diseases and Cures the Worst Cases.

In every test made S. S. S. easily demonstrates its superiority over other blood remedies. It matters not how obstinate the case, nor what other treatment or remedies have failed, S. S. S. always promptly reaches and cures any disease where the blood is in any way involved.

Everyone who has had experience with blood diseases knows that there are no ailments or troubles so obstinate and difficult to cure. Very few remedies claim to cure such real, deep-seated blood diseases as S. S. S. cures, and none can offer such incontrovertible evidence of merit. S. S. S. is not merely a tonic—it is a cure! It goes down to the very seat of all blood diseases, and gets at the foundation of the very worst cases, and routs the poison from the system. It does not, like other remedies, dry up the poison and hide it from view temporarily, only to break forth again more violently than ever; S. S. S. forces out every trace of taint, and rids the system of it forever.

Mrs. T. W. Lee, Montgomery, Ala., writes: "Some years ago I was inoculated with poison by a nurse who infected my babe with blood taint. I was covered with sores and ulcers from head to foot, and in my great extremity I prayed to die. Several prominent physicians treated me, but all to no purpose. The mercury and potash which they gave me seemed to add fuel to the awful flame which was devouring me. I was advised by friends who had seen wonderful cures made by it, to try Swift's Specific. I improved from the start, as the medicine seemed to go direct to the cause of the trouble and force the poison out. Twenty bottles cured me completely." Swift's Specific—

S. S. S. FOR THE BLOOD

—is the only remedy that is guaranteed purely vegetable, and contains no mercury, potash, arsenic, or any other mineral or chemical. It never fails to cure Cancers, Eczema, Scrofula, Rheumatism, Contagious Blood Poison, Tetter, Boils, Carbuncles, Sores, etc.

DISCOVERED BY A WOMAN.

Another great discovery has been made, and that too, by a lady in this country. "Disease fastened its clutches upon her and for seven years she withstood its severest tests, but her vital organs were undermined and death seemed imminent. For three months she coughed incessantly, and could not sleep. She finally discovered a way to recovery, by purchasing of us a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, and was so much relieved on taking first dose that she slept all night; and with two bottles has been absolutely cured. Her name is Mrs. Luther Lutz. Thus writes W. C. Hammick & Co., of Shelby, N. C. Try our bottles free at T. C. Smith's and W. C. Carmichael's drug stores, and at Felham's Pharmacy. Regular size 50c and $1.00. Every bottle guaranteed.

NOTICE.

By virtue of a deed of trust executed to me on the 20th day of October, 1896, by Joseph M. Pinner, conveying to me the real estate hereinafter described, for the purpose of securing the payment of certain notes therein described which said deed of trust was registered in the office of the register of deeds of Buncombe county, N. C., in book 41, at page 375 of the records of mortgages and deeds of trust, and by reason of the failure of the said Pinner to pay or cause to be paid the principal and interest of the said notes, and to carry out the provisions of said deed of trust according to its terms I will sell at public auction at the court house door in Asheville, to the highest bidder for cash.

ON WEDNESDAY, MAY 24, 1899, the real estate aforesaid, situated in the city of Asheville, Buncombe county, North Carolina, being lot No. 3, in block No. 1, of a map or plat of lands registered in the office of the register of deeds of said county, in book 39, at pages 60 and 61, and bounded and more particularly described as follows:

Beginning at a stake in the north margin of West Chestnut street, the southwest corner of lot No. 2 of said block, and running thence with said north margin south fifty-five degrees, thirty-one minutes west, 77.58 feet to the southeast corner of lot No. 4; thence with east line of No. 4, north 84 degrees and 29 minutes west, 150 feet to the northeast corner of same in the south line of lot No. 17; thence with said line north 55 degrees and 31 minutes east, 69.55 feet to its southeast corner; thence with west lines of lots Nos. 1 and 2, south 37 degrees and 32 minutes east, 150.21 feet to the beginning, reference being hereby expressly made to the registration of said deed of trust as aforesaid for a more perfect description of said lot of land and for all necessary purposes.

This 21st day of April, 1899. W. B. GWYN, Trustee. 4-23 d sat 57.

WINE OF CARDUI

FOR ALL WOMEN

NINE-TENTHS of all the pain and sickness from which women suffer is caused by weakness or derangement in the organs of menstruation. Nearly always when a woman is not well these organs are affected. But when they are strong and healthy a woman is very seldom sick.

Is nature's provision for the regulation of the menstrual function. It cures all "female troubles." It is equally effective for the girl in her teens, the young wife with domestic and maternal cares, and the woman approaching the period known as the "Change of Life." They all need it. They are all benefitted by it.

For advice in cases requiring special directions, address, giving symptoms, the "Ladies' Advisory Department," The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn.

THOS. J. COOPER, Tupelo, Miss., says "My sister suffered from very irregular and painful menstruation and doctors could not relieve her. Wine of Cardui finally cured her and she is helped by mother through the Change of Life."
