He Wishes to Return to His Home in Phoenix,

Declares He Was Never Opposed to White Supremacy.

And Asserts That the New York Independent Misquoted Him.

Wants to Come Back to His Home and Live in Peace With His Neighbors for the Rest of His Days.

Columbia, S. C., May 6 .- Through the editor of the weekly paper published at Encountered a Gale Thurs-Greenwood, R. R. Tolbert, the republican nominee in the last election for congress from the Third district of South Carolina, and the present contestor of Congressman Latimer's seat, has sent to his former neighbors of Phoenix a statement. He wishes to return, and makes promises for the future, while claiming to have been misrepresented in the past. He says:

"If a year ago I could have foreseen what was going to occur, I would not have accepted the nomination for congress. I have always been a republican and was never afraid nor ashamed to declare republicar principles, but have never knowingly given any rian advice that would tend to make him other than a good citizen. I have never been afraid of negroes holding office, or in favor of any man, white or black, exercising the right of suffrage unless qualified. I am a believer in white supremacy. When I was nominated for congress I wanted to make as good a showing as possible, and wanted to refute the statement that republicans were receiving nominations for office solely for the purpose of getting money out of the rational campaign

Tolbert repudiates the interview with him published in the New York Independent, wherein he was made to allude to the people of Greenwood as "white trash."

"I have been misrepresented and misunderstood, and I want to get right been a republican from principle, but if any one can convince me that I am wrong I will speedily abandon the party. I want to go back to my home with my wife and children, and live there in peace till the end of my days. Mush- I want to have the friendship and good will of my neighbors. I don't ask anywith anything less."

THE ORIZABA MAY BE LOST

day--Due in Havana Yesterday.

Norfolk, Va., May 6.-A despatch was received by the weather bureau this evening from the Kitty Hawk life saving station, on the North Carolina coast, stating that a man had picked up a cork jacket about a mile north of the station, which has the name of the steamship Orizaba on it. The Orizaba sailed from New York for Havaria and Mexican ports May 3 last. Sle should have passed Kitty Hawk May 4. She would probably have kept at least fifteen miles off shore.

There was a griff northeastern gale blowing fifty miles an hour of the coast May 3. It is regarded as highly improbable, however, that any accident has befallen the Crizaba. Seafaring men believe the jacket was lost overboard. The New York agents say they have no fear for the safety of the Oriz aba. She is due at Havana today.

Necessary Will Return "With Three Men of War,"

Advised Americans to Pay Duties to Third Party Until the Courts Give Their Decision.

New Orleans , May 6 .- Advices reeived here from E uefields report conditions there unchanged. The British cruiser Proserpine arrived during the week. Her orders place her at the disposal of the British consul. After a short stay at Bluefields the Proserpine went to Greytown. Her captain says Nicaraguans carry out the instructions

Minister Merry is disgusted at his inability to receive news from Washington by telegraph. He has notified the authorities that unless he could hear from home he would leave on the cruiser Detroit for Colon to enable him to communicate with Secretary of State Hay, and, if recessary, he would eturn with three men of war. As the conditions were unimproved Minister Merry sailed on the Detroit,

Before leaving he advised Americans to pay the duty in dispute to a third party to be held until the courts decided whether it was legally due. The merchants do not relish the advice and view it as an abandonment of the American contention, and also say Merry's departure will be viewed by the natives as a backdown , and will result in subjecting the Americans to humiliations and persecutions, which will render remaining there impossible.

EXTRA SESSION OF CONGRESS?

Washington, May 6.-Representative Henderson of Iowa, one of the prominent candidates for speaker in the next house, says that there is some slight probability of congress being called together in October. Still, nothing has yet been decided in regard to the time for calling the session, if, indeed, there will be an extra session. So far as he knew an early meeting of the new congress was therefore more of a possibility than a probability.
