I am a farmer located near Stony Brook, one of the most malarious districts in this State, and was bothered with malaria for years, at times so I could not work, and was always very constipated as well. For years I had malaria so bad in the spring, when engaged in plowing, that I could do nothing but shake. I must have taken about a barrel of quinine pills besides dozens of other remedies, but never obtained any permanent benefit. Last fall, in peach time, I had a most serious attack of chills and then commenced to take Ripans Tabules, upon a friend's advice, and the first box made me all right and I have never been without them since. I take one Tabule each morning and night and sometimes when I feel more than usually exhausted I take three in a day. They have kept my stomach sweet, my bowels regular and I have not had the least touch of malaria nor splitting headache since I commenced using them. I know also that I sleep better and wake up more refreshed than formerly. I don't know how many complaints Ripans Tabules will help, but I do know they will cure any one in the condition I was and I would not be without them at any price. I honestly consider them the cheapest-priced medicine in the world, as they are also the most beneficial and the most convenient to take. I am twenty-seven years of age and have worked hard all my life, the same as most farmers, both early and late and in all kinds of weather, and I have never enjoyed such good health as I have since last fall; in fact, my neighbors have all remarked my improved condition and have said, "Say, John, what are you doing to look so healthy?" After Six Years of Intense Suffering, Promptly Cured

Obstinate sores and ulcers which refuse to heal under ordinary treatment soon become chronic and deepseated, and are a sure sign that the entire circulation is in a depraved condition. They

by 3. 3. are a severe drain upon the system, and are constantly sapping away the vitality. In every case the poison must be eliminated from the blood, and no amount of external treatment can have any effect.

There is no uncertainty about the merits of S. S. S.; every claim made for it is backed up strongly by convincing testimony of those who have been cured by it and know of its virtues by experience.

Mr. L. J. Clark, of Orange Courthouse, Va., writes: "For six years I had an obstinate, running ulcer on my ankle, which at times caused me intense suffering. I was so disabled for a long while that I was wholly unfit for business. One of the best doctors treated me constantly but did me no good. I then tried various blood remedies, without the least benefit. S. S. S. was so highly recommended that I concluded to try it, and the effect was wonderful. It seemed to get right at the seat of the disease and force the poison out, and I was soon com-pletely cured." Swift's Specific—

LATEST DREYFUS STORY.

Told by a Woman About Letters From the Kaiser to Dreyfus.

Paris, May 3.-But for the proved accuracy of the stories of staff officers masquerading as veiled ladies, using stage beards, etc., the following story might be ridiculed, but nothing seems to be too remarkable to cover the hidden truths of the Dreyfus affair. According to a statement in the Aurore, which has received confirmation from the Temps, a woman named Elodie Wattier, who is serving a term of imprisonment at Amiens for embezzlement, wrote recently to M. Mazeau, president of the Court of Cassation, expressing a wish to make a deposition relative to the Drey-

A commissery of police and an examining magistrate were sent to receive her statement, whereupon the woman declared that she was acquainted with the lete Col. Henry, who had employed her to copy several documents. These she accurately specified, and added that she had had relations with Adjulant Loriller, who committe suicide on April last. One day Loriller brought her a saddle, in which several important documents were concealed. These were removed and placed in a clasket, which Loriller and she buried beneath a tree in the forest at Marly-le-Roi.

The magistrate smiled and declared whereupon the woman replied that as directed, I gained in weight 24 pounds, weighthough Col. Henry was dead, Lordler, ing more than ever in my life; bringing me health that he did not believe a word she said who was residing at Catelet, would confirm her statement about the burial of the papers. She further said that among the documents were letters to Dreyfus written by Emperor William. The magistrate responded that unfortupately Lordler had killed himself some days before. because of a letter I wrote warning him my life," that I would tell everything to the Court of Caussaltion."

Mme. Wattier referred the magistrate to a receipt given by a Paris jobmaster which she had in her possession when count of Col. H.," for an expedition to Marly-le-Roi. The receipt is now in the Mme Wattier asks to be taken to Marlyle-Roi to indicate the place where the documents were buried.

A man or set of men a technicality makes himself and those who put him there partil ceps criminis to the act. It was necessary, perhaps, just after the war to have a large homestead to protect the good people until they could be able to pay their honest debts, but unfortunately what was necessary for the good became a hiding place for dishionest men, hence to secure a debt the mortigage system was introduceed, which has caused many a man to lose his home. There are times when a horse knows more than a man; when instinct is superior to reason. The horse fights against being forced over the brink of a precipice which he can see in the dark but which is veiled from the man's eyes. It is often the same with a man's body; it fights against carrying the man over the brink of the preci-pice, disease. When the heart beats irregularly; when there are pains in the head, ringing in the ears, cough, indigestion, loss of appetite and lack of energy—some or all of these symptoms-the body is on the brink of danger and is crying "halt!' No man need be carried over the fatal brink of disease if he will heed Nature's warning and accept her help. This help in its most concen-trated and perfect form is contained in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. This great alterative extract completely modifies every abnormal condition of the disordered digestive or alimentary functions. It makes the stomach strong, the blood rich and healthy, builds up the nerve centers and so regulates the functions of all the vital organs, that they co-operate' perfectly for the health of the entire system.
