WHEELER SLIGHTED
 Because He Was an Officer in United States Army
Left Out of List of Guests to Ride in Reunion Procession.
Feared He would Overshadow All Other Attractions.
Thousands Screamed and Yelled in Vain for the Little Fighting Hero—General Walker Blamed.
 Charleston, May 13.—The fact that General Wheeler was snubbed at Charleston because he was an officer of the United States, furnished another sensation as the closing climax of the convention of the United Confederate veterans. In the great confederate parade on Wednesday afternoon, thousands of people lined the streets and screamed and yelled for General Wheeler, but the long procession moved by, with the little fighting hero missing. The city today has just come to realize the situation.
 General C. I. Walker, commander of the state division, is responsible. In the list which he gave the committee of the guests who were to ride in the procession, the name of General Wheeler was not included. General Walker's only excuse is that he forgot.
 It is publicly stated here that he intended to keep General Wheeler out of the parade, because he would overshadow all the rest. General Wheeler is visibly affected by his treatment. The better element here publicly condemn General Walker.
 Today District Judge Erawley, with whom General Wheeler is stopping, gave the press a statement of General Wheeler's treatment by Walker, in which he states that he notified Walker's officer at his house, and asked him to let Walker know that General Wheeler is at my house until informed as to what his movements were to be. He adds:
 "After waiting for some response I came to the court room and sent my messenger to Walker to ask what General Wheeler was to do. Receiving no definite information, I wrote a note to Walker, and asked him if I should bring General Wheeler to the auditorium."
 "I received a reply saying that General Wheeler was not to go to the auditorium then, as the convention was about to adjourn, and asking me to bring him up to the night meeting. I had seen it stated in the News and Courier that General Wheeler was to go in the procession in the carriage with General Butler, Colonel Turner and R. E. Lee, Jr.
 "When the time arrived for the procession to start I took Miss Wheeler

CORONER BEGINS INVESTIGATION
Jury Viewed Bodies, and Took Notes at Scene of Wreck.

Reading, Pa., May 13.—The coroner today began an investigation of the Reading railroad horror at Exeter. The jury viewed twenty-four bodies brought here, and then proceeded by train to the scene of the wreck, where they took notes and returned this afternoon. The inquiry begins Wednesday.

It is stated that the two trains left Reading within four minutes of each other, and Engineer Orrell, of the second section, ran from here to Exeter at the rate fifty-six miles per hour, while the first section went slower, and the surprise is that when the first train stopped they were so close together as to preclude the warning of the second train of the stoppage. There is a report that Engineer Orrell did not have time to put on the brakes. The total dead is twenty-seven.

The various undertaking establishments and morgues were crowded today with people from Norristown, Conshohocken and other points, identifying relatives and friends. In many instances there is evidence that the dead have been robbed as the pockets were turned inside out. There are many sad scenes in the hospitals where relatives and friends have been found injured.

PRESIDENT VISITS NATURAL BRIDGE
Greeted by a Score of Girls Beneath the Arch.

Hot Springs, Va., May 13.—President and Mrs. McKinley and a party of friends spent the day at Natural Bridge. The trip was somewhat marred by the showery weather. Mrs. McKinley because of the rain remained in the train when they arrived at the bridge.

The postmaster at Clifton Forge met President McKinley at the entrance of the bridge reservation, and escorted the visitors to the bridge. A pretty sight greeted them when they arrived beneath the arch. A score of girls from Hollins Institute, near Roanoke, greeted the president. He shook hands with all. After taking in the sights, President McKinley visited Mrs. Parsons, the owner of Natural Bridge, and then was driven back to the train.

FILIPINOS WILL QUIT
Insurgents South of the Pasig Will Surrender, On Promise of Pardon—Funds Exhausted, Soldiers Worn Out.

Aguinaldo Suggested Submission and General Trias Advised It

New Powder Mill at Buena Vista—Trenches of San Ildefonso Captured and Two Americans Wounded.

Manila, May 13.—Lieutenant Reyes, representing the Filipino general, Gregorio Pilar, entered the American lines on General Lawton's front yesterday with a flag of truce and requested the permission of the military commission to pass to Manila for the purpose of conferring with the American Philippine commission.

Today Lieutenant Reyes came to Manila and called upon General Ochs, who told him the Americans would at any time permit the Filipinos white flags to pass through the lines. He added, however, that he would leave the matter to the discretion of General Lawton. This is probably another attempt on the part of the Filipinos to gain time.

A Filipino priest from the province of Cavite, brings the information that 2,000 insurgents are under arms in that province, but they desire to quit fighting. The priest also says that General Trias, who is in command of all the Filipino forces south of the Pasig river, has said that he would surrender if he received the promise of pardon. General Trias recently received a letter from Aguinaldo stating that the Filipino funds were almost exhausted and the soldiers worn out. Aguinaldo suggested submission to the Americans and asked General Trias' advice in the matter. General Trias replied favoring surrender.

The Filipino, the priest says, have started a new powder mill at Buena Vista, obtaining their sulphur from a volcano and their supply of saltpetre from a recently discovered mine.

The priest also reports that Private Coates, of the First California Infantry, who has been held a prisoner at Paranaque, has been transferred to Batangas. Lieutenant Gilmore, of the gunboat Yorktown, and his fellow prisoners are at Blancnabo.

The peaceful condition of Manila has caused a suspension of the order requiring inhabitants to be in their houses at 7 o'clock in the evening. The hour is now eight o'clock.

A party of thirty scouts, under Captain Bluckheimer, captured the trenches of San Ildefonso after a brisk fight, in which the Americans had two men wounded.
