The contract for the erection of Wilmington's new $250,000 cotton factory, the Delgado mills, has been let to Messrs. Zachary & Zachary, of Raleigh.

That was a very graceful and praiseworthy act in Mr. A. A. Shuford, in paying the fare to Charleston of several confederate veterans.—Newton Enterprise.

The Charlotte News says there is an expert penman and swindler about that takes a one dollar bill and raises it to a five dollar bill. It is expertly done and is a dangerous swindle.

Mr. William Brame, of Franklin county, son of Rev. William Brame, has struck it rich in the Klondike. We learn. Rumor has it that he has made his $1,000,000 already.—Warren Record.

The tenth convention of the King's Daughters and Sons, of North Carolina, will meet at Southern Pines at 10 o'clock on the morning of the first day of June, 1899. Entertainment will be furnished to delegates.

The contract was let a few days ago for the building of the new silk mill near Roanoke Rapids. This mill, unlike the two other silk mills now being established in North Carolina, is chiefly owned by local investors.

Wilkesboro that one of the western imported storekeepers and quagers, Lee by name, was taken from his bed, carried some distance, and, barefooted and nearly naked, was thrown into a briar patch.

The soldiers' home here is one of the best. Every detail of the wants and comfort of the "old soldiers" is looked after by a man who was himself a brave soldier. In this he is assisted by his good wife who loves the men that wore the gray, and sympathizes with them in all their wants and aspirations and memories.—News and Observer.

thousand fish, and we learn that about half the party were seasick. Mr. Hugh Wallace had as his guest Mr. Walter B. Lynch, of Baltimore. They claim to be the champion piscatorialists, having caught 178 fish.—Wilmington Messenger.

Work goes steadily forward on the artesian well of the Harendon Water-works company at Hilton. Up to last night the well had been sunk to a depth of 1188 feet 6 inches. The drill is still in granite rock, and has been going through rock for the last hundred feet. It is believed when the drill passes through the rock pure water will be struck. There is still a flow of salt water.—Wilmington Messenger.

Under an act of the recent legislature a dispensary was established for the city of Greensboro. A board of managers has been elected and preparations are now being made to open up on the 1st of July. A certain attorney in this city has today been visiting the barrooms of the city with a law book under his arm, and it has leaked out that an effort is being organized to institute legal proceedings to prevent the opening of the dispensary. It is believed that the constitutionality of the law enacting it will be attacked. That is the way it looks today, and we shall see "what we shall see."—Greensboro Telegram.

How Wealth is Carried. "It is rather amusing," remarked the head of the biggest bureau de change in London to the writer, "to notice the various methods in which men of different nationalities carry their worldly wealth. The Englishman carries his all loose in his right hand trousers pocket—gold, silver and copper all mixed up together. He pulls a handful of the mixture out of his pocket in a large, opulent way and selects the coins he has need of. The American carries his wad of bills in a peculiar long, narrow pocketbook, in which the greenbacks lie flat; the Frenchman makes use of a leather purse with no distinguishing characteristics, while the German uses one gayly embroidered in silks by the fair hands of some Lotchen or Mina.

"The half civilized capitalist from some torrid South American city carries his dollars in a belt with cunningly devised pockets to baffle the gentlemen with the light fingers. Some of these belts are very expensive. The Italian of the poorer classes ties up his little fortune in a gayly colored handkerchief secured with many knots, which he secretes in some mysterious manner about his clothes. A similar course has charms for the Spaniard, while the lower class Russian exhibits a preference for his boots or the lining of his clothes as a hiding place for his savings."—London Answers.

By allowing the accumulations in the bowels to remain, the entire system is poisoned. De Witt's Little Early Risers regulate the bowels. Try them and you will always use them. For sale by Paragon Pharmacy.

Cost Her Her Reason. A once renowned French actress lost her reason through a trifling occurrence. She was visiting at an ancient chateau, in the vicinity of Mentone, when a friend challenged her to pass the night alone in an alleged haunted chamber. She accepted the challenge. During the night she called for aid, and an attendant found her in a state of pitiful fright through certain uncanny sounds she had heard. Finally she developed a nervous disorder, which culminated in insanity. The ghostly visitants were rats.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Queer Verdicts. The recent verdict of a coroner's jury that a man who had been lynched was "frozen to death" recalls another queer verdict in a similar case. A negro had been lynched on the outskirts of a small town. He was found swinging to a limb, with one of his legs broken. After viewing the body the jury returned this verdict: "That the deceased came to his death from a broken leg, which happened to him while he was swinging in the picnic grove."—Atlanta Constitution.

Some of the results of neglected dyspeptic conditions of the stomach are cancer, consumption, heart disease and epilepsy. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure prevents all this by effecting a quick cure in all cases of dyspepsia. "Paragon."

Mollie's Inclination to Rise. Among unique Georgia epitaphs the following, by a triumphant husband, is certainly entitled to the prize: This is the place whar Mollie's buried— She's a-lyin hereabout. The groom's tore up an the tombstone's broke. But she hain't never get plumb out! She wuz put in the deapest grave in town, But it's all it kin do to keep her down! —Atlanta Constitution.
