DREYFUS IN FRANCE

Landed Quietly and Rushed to Prison at Rennes.

His Wife Permitted to Visit Him in His Cell.

Much Aged Since He Was Sent to Devil's Island.

Quickness of His Delivery at the Prison in Early Morning Prevented a Demonstration.

Rennes, July 1.—Captain Alfred Dreyfus was lodged in the cell prepared for him in the military prison here at 6 o'clock this morning. The prisoner was landed quietly during the night at Quiberon, nearly a hundred miles south of Brest, where he was expected.

At 9 o'clock last night the guard ship Caudan put to sea to meet the Sfax, which had been sighted. The weather was stormy and for a time it was feared it would be impossible to effect a landing. For hours the lights of the Caudan and the Sfax were plainly visible as they pitched and rolled.

On the landing stage at Quiberon were M. Vigule, chief of detectives; M. Hennion, commissary of police, and a force of gendarmes and police inspectors.

At 1 a. m. a cutter manned by ten men and in charge of a naval officer, put off from the Caudan and went alongside the Sfax. Thence the boat rowed to the shore, where Dreyfus was landed at 1:30. A company of infantry was drawn up at the landing point.

Dreyfus was landed from the boat and immediately placed under the guard of a captain of engineers and sergeant and corporal of gendarmes, who formally handed the prisoner over to M. Vigule. The latter then entered a landau with Dreyfus and two detectives and started for the railroad station, which was reached without incident.

The prisoner appeared to be in sound health. His hair is turning gray and his beard was worn full and of a reddish color. He wore a blue suit, gray overcoat and soft felt hat. Dreyfus did not speak a word. He personally opened the door of the compartment of the special train, consisting of three carriages and a baggage car, which was in waiting.

Dreyfus was only visible for a moment to reporters. The train stopped at Rabelais, three kilometers from Rennes. The party alighted and quickly entered a carriage drawn by two splendid horses, which immediately started at a sharp advance. It was 5:30 a. m. The drive from Rabelais to Rennes was without incident. Owing to precautions the prisoner and escort passed unnoticed in front of the arsenal.

Workmen who were reading posters there did not turn their heads, little suspecting who was passing. The clock was striking 6 when the crowd, which had been waiting since midnight around the prison, and the people were beginning to think themselves the alms of a practical joke, saw the landau surrounded by gendarmes beyond the station. Then all cried with one voice: "There he is." At this cry the people started off to meet the carriage, and suddenly the troops and mounted gendarmes hurried madly forward, yelling and shouting as if accompanying a fire engine instead of escorting a prisoner.

The carriage was driven fast, covering the distance in a few minutes, and passing the watchers as though in a race for the prison gates between the gendarmes with the captive and spectators. The gates opened suddenly.

and a score of gendarmes rushed out and barred the street, pressing back the crowd with rifle stocks.

After the transfer was done there as a change from tranquillity to a wild scene of gesticulation, which almost defies description. The suddenness of the movement stupefied everybody as much as it apparently did the prisoner, whose face showed from the quickly passing carriage. But beyond exclamations of surprise there were no demonstrations.

Dreyfus entered the prison and was formally consigned to the care of the governor and was taken to a cell in the second story. Leave being granted, his faithful wife entered the prison almost unobserved and was conducted to his cell, No. 830, accompanied by Madame Havet. The meeting between the long parted husband and wife can better be imagined than described. Naturally, it was most touching. Both Dreyfus and his wife were deeply affected. They remained long clasped in each other's arms, tears and smiles intermingling with tender endearments.

When Mme. Dreyfus left her husband her eyes showed she had been weeping. She subsequently said her husband had aged greatly. His hair and beard were reddish gray and his body bent.

DREYFUS' CELL.

Rennes, July 1.—The door of Dreyfus' cell in the military prison is lined with copper and a trap door has been placed in the ceiling, through which he will be watched.

This proceeding greatly displeases Mme. Dreyfus who says that it is ridiculous to take such precautions against her husband's escape.

M. Hadamard, Mme. Dreyfus' brother, says that his sister will give a reception to all the newspaper men here in a few days. Dreyfus will be stunned when he learns what is the exact situation. Practically nothing, he says, of what has passed in the last four years has been explained to the prisoner.

ATTEMPT TO POISON TWO ROUGH RIDERS.

They Were Living on a Ranch Near Santiago and Had Enemies.

Santiago, July 1.—Three Americans, named Bailey, Bell and Maxey and the latter's wife, living on a cattle ranch near Santiago, were mysteriously poisoned yesterday. Prompt medical attention alone saved their lives. Maxey and Bailey were both rough riders, but are now engaged in importing cattle and horses. They have had some trouble with Cuban cattle dealers and it is probable the spring from which they obtained water was poisoned, as the food was all prepared by Mrs. Maxey.

LOUISIANA MERCHANTS THREATENED WITH LYNCHING

Appeal for Protection to Austrian Consul at New Orleans.

New Orleans, La., July 1.—Messrs. Gus Weil & Co., and Stein Dressner & Co., merchants doing business in the parish of St. James, appealed to the Austrian consul at New Orleans for protection today. The two firms lately received notice to leave or be lynched and their stores burned. The threats are attributed to business rivalry and religious prejudice. At a meeting of citizens today it was announced that such lawlessness would not be tolerated.

A WOMAN IN FLAMES IN A CITY STORE.

Wife of Vice-President O'Sullivan Burned to Death.

Plainfield, N. J., July 1.—Mrs. O'Sullivan, wife of Vice-President O'Sullivan of the Maryland Casualty company, while shopping in this city today was so seriously burned that she died shortly after. In some unaccountable manner her clothes ignited. The frenzied woman with garments aflame rushed repeatedly through the store screaming for help. Although a number of shoppers were present all were paralyzed with terror, and feared to approach her. Finally the manager of the store by means of a table cloth succeeded in smothering the flames.

DEATH IN THE FLOOD

Startling News From Calvert on the Brazos River.

Half a Hundred Lives Lost and Still Worse Threatened.

The Entire Country Surrounding the Town a Seething Sea.

Every Piece of High Ground Occupied by Refugees and a Further Rise in the River Expected.

Dallas, Tex., July 1.—A bulletin was received tonight from Calvert stating that thirty to fifty lives were lost at that point and in its vicinity by the overflowing of the Brazos river and its tributaries. The news was received by phone and is the first communication had with Calvert since Wednesday. It is stated that all of those known to have been drowned are negroes living on plantations, except five at Calvert. No names are obtainable because there is a panic among the people. The railroads cannot operate within twenty miles of the town, and rowboats are the only means of getting about.

The entire country is a seething sea. Calvert is submerged. The townspeople sought refuge in the upper stories of the higher buildings. In the surrounding district every piece of high ground is occupied by refugees. The property loss is a million.

The confusion and alarm in Calvert and vicinity is said tonight to be indescribable. The second rise in the Upper Brazos is reported to be sweeping down toward the already inundated section. Other parts, particularly south of Waco, are in terrible distress.

THE HORROR INCREASING.

Galveston, Tex., July 1, Midnight.—A telephone message just received from Calvert states that fifty to sixty lives are lost. The horror of the situation is rapidly increasing.

ANOTHER CLOUDBURST.

Austin, Tex., July 1.—Heavy rains continue throughout the flooded district in central and southern Texas. The rivers are still rising and the floods are being rapidly increased. Traffic on all the principal railroads is completely suspended. There are many reports and rumors of loss of life, but none are verified.

At the town of Lake the station is submerged, and about thirty houses were swept away. The inhabitants escaped to higher ground. Several small settlements of negroes south of Hempstead are submerged.

A destructive cloudburst occurred at several places north of here last night, devastating crops and property. The Neuses Gaudaloupe is out of the banks and sweeping over a great expanse of country.

NATIONAL DEBT DIMINISHED

Favorable Treasury Statement at End of a Year of Great Expenses.

Washington, July 1.—The debt statement issued today shows the debt of the United States decreased in June $13,500,000. Although the government incurred during the fiscal year which closed yesterday, a large part of the enormous expenses of a foreign war and expended large sums for suppressing the insurrection in the Philippines, the extraordinary receipts have enabled the nation to enter the new year on a sounder financial basis than has existed in some years of peace.

The official statement of receipts and expenditures for the fiscal year shows a deficit of nearly $90,000,000. The national debt today is $1,436,700,703, or $28,367,641 more than it owed a year ago, but the available cash in the treasury is nearly $76,000,000 greater than a year ago.

NON-UNIONISTS BURN INDIANA MINERS' HOUSES.

Negroes Frenzied by Friday's Shooting At aet he Strikers.

Cartersville, Ind., July 1.—Intense excitement prevails here over yesterday's shooting of non-union negro miners through from the unionists. At midnight last night the non-union negroes, frenzied by the shooting, marched from Cartersville to Union City, where the union miners live, and opened fire on the miners' houses. The unionists replied weakly. No damage was done on either side. The unionists finally vacated the houses and fled to the woods. The non-unionists then burned all the houses and marched on the woods, and a fusillade was kept up between the contending parties until daylight today. No lives are reported lost.

RIOT AT BARCELONA.

Crowd Fires Upon the City Council Killing Three.

Barcelona, Spain, July 1.—At the opening of the municipal council today the crowd outside of the building fired upon the councilors, killing three and wounding nine.

CALLING OUT TROOPS TO SEND TO CLAY COUNTY.

To Protect the Special Term of Court in the Feud Country.

Lexington, Ky., July 1.—State troops are again being called out to go to Clay county. Three are Lexington companies which went before. Companies in other parts of the state are being mobilized tonight. Probably three hundred men will be taken in time. The adjutant general, who is here tonight, declines to say why the troops are being mobilized. He believes the troops go back to Clay county to protect the special term of court to be held there next week.

BLAST FURNACE MEN STRIKE.

A Thousand Idle and Business Paralyzed at Sharon.

Sharon, Pa., July 1.—The blast furnace men struck today for a 20 per cent. advance. Business is at a standstill. A thousand men are idle. It is said that Walkers will be imported from Cleveland and Pittsburgh to fill strikers' places. Trouble is anticipated.

TO APPOINT MAYORS

Beginning Civil Government in Cavite Province.

Insurgents Digging Trenches About San Fernando.

Transports Leave Manila With Troops Bound for Home.

Departure of Nebraska Infantry and Utah Batteries That Have Seen Long and Hard Service.

Manila, Saturday Evening, July 1.—General Lawton, with Colonel Denby and Prof. Worcester, of the American peace commission, are visiting Las Pinas today with the object of appointing mayors preparatory to beginning the establishment of a civil government in the captured cities of Cavite province.

The insurgents continue their work of digging intrenchments in the neighborhood of San Fernando. The enemy made a demonstration last night in which one man of the Seventeenth Infantry was killed and three wounded. The rebels continue to cut the wires, putting a stop to all communication. Firing in the distance indicates increasing activity on the part of the enemy.

The transport Hancock sailed for San Francisco this afternoon with the First Nebraska Infantry and Batteries A and B of the Utah light artillery. These troops have seen the severest service of any troops in the insurrection. The Nebraskans participated in twenty-nine engagements. Thirty-nine of the regiment were killed in action, one hundred and sixty-six were wounded, thirty-three died of disease and eight hundred and forty-two are going home. The guns of the Utah batteries are scattered throughout every brigade. The Utah men have seen continuous service throughout the insurrection. They have lost eight men killed, sixteen wounded and four from disease. Both organizations have won the highest praise for gallantry.
