An Expert Opinion.

"Great mistake," said the railroad man, gravely, "great mistake. The way to avoid collisions in this life is to run strictly according to schedule."—Washington Star.

The First Pawnshop.
The first pawnbroking establishment was that of Freisingen, in Bavaria, opened in 1108. In 1350 there was one at Sullins, in Franche-Comte, and in 1361 one was opened in London. None of these was, however, successful. The present Paris Mont de Piete was established in 1777 in the same street where the head office now is.

NORTH CAROLINA NEWS OF THE DAY

PRELIMINARY SURVEY OF THE RALEIGH AND EASTERN RAILWAY.

Events of Interest in Various Parts of the State.

Murderer Sentenced to Hang at Gaston—The Coming Meeting of the Confederate Veterans at Raleigh—To Purchase Anson Farm.

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 2.—T. M. T. McKennan, a civil engineer of Chase City, Va., began the preliminary work for the survey of the Raleigh and Eastern railroad, which enterprise is backed by leading Raleigh and Durham capitalists. The plan Mr. McKennan will follow will be to ride all over the country along the several routes that the road may follow and locate roughly the course for each one. Then surveys of these routes will be made and the estimates of building them cast up and submitted to the backers of this road. When this has been done the capitalists behind it can carefully balance cost and advantages, see what the people along the lines of survey are disposed to do and select the one that seems, all things considered, most advantageous.

SENTENCED TO HANG.

Gaston, N. C., Oct. 2.—The jury in the Drayton Medlin case returned a verdict—after five hours—of murder in the first degree. Medlin was sentenced to be hanged Thursday, November 3. His victim was William Brown, superintendent of the Gastonia cotton mills. The killing took place June 9. Medlin's counsel, Messrs. F. I. Osborn, Milam and O. F. Mason, took an appeal. Perry Williams was convicted of murder in the second degree. An appeal was taken.

TO BOND THE STATE.

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 2.—The executive board of the penitentiary directors have decided to purchase the Anson state farms. Two of the members of the committee, Newland and Osborn, voted for the purchase and Travis against it. To pay for it bonds will have to be issued.

This farm comprises about 2,200 acres, on which the state has an option at $10 an acre. It is owned principally by Judge R. T. Bennett and others of his family. It is fertile, well drained and admirably adapted to cotton, corn and other grain.

The water supply on it is deficient, but its health record is very fine, and it is as much this as any other consideration that influenced the committee to decide to buy the farm. Messrs. Newland and Osborn thought there ought to be an up-country farm to which convicts from the west can be sent.

Mr. Travis opposed the purchase on two grounds: That the state does not need the farm; the counties are rapidly establishing county chain gangs and keeping their convicts at home to work the roads and that the Anson farm is too far from the Caledonia farm, already bought by the state; the transfer of prisoners from one to the other will be very costly, and also on the ground that the price paid for the land ($10 an acre) is too high.

STATE NEWS NOTES.

All persons who are willing to exhibit specimens of minerals and ores at the state fair are requested to write Prof. W. L. Poteat, Wake Forest, at once.

Mr. M. R. Camp, of Green Hill, was in town yesterday to see a physician. Saturday he was shingling his father's house and a nail broke, the piece striking him in the right eye and completely destroying his sight.—Rutherfordton Vindicator.

President Alderman states that the total enrollment of the university thus far has reached 461 just exactly the high-water mark of the ante-bellum period in 1858. The total enrollment for the year will go beyond 500, for many more are yet to come.

Penitentiary officials have sent from Raleigh to the Caledonia farm, which the state purchased last month, thirty convicts to pick cotton. This brings the number of pickers up to 500 convicts. There are also 150 hired pickers. The officials say this season they will gather all the cotton. The present crop is variously estimated at from 2,500 to 3,500 bales.

Masked parties broke into the county jail at Winton, Hertford county, Saturday night and shot William Vaughan, under suspicion of barn-burning. Vaughan will die. The doors were broken down and the prisoner was shot at least three times. Vaughan was committed several weeks ago by a justice of the peace under circumstantial evidence. Vaughan was in an iron cell.

Greensboro foundrymen have received a notice of a $2 advance in pig iron. Of course this advance is general in its scope, applying to the whole United States. The fellows that predicted $20 iron last spring were considered visionary, but the staple has already gone a dollar and a half above that figure and is still climbing. The furnace men will not book an order for delivery a month hence at the present figure.

Durham, says an exchange, is to have a cotton mill that is unique. The mill is to take the raw cotton, spin it into yarn, weave it into cloth, make the cloth into bags to be used for packing tobacco. A market for all the product of the mill is found almost at the mill door. Four hundred thousand is to be the original capital, and this is to be largely increased if the mill is as great a success as is anticipated.
