> To attempt to hold these places with the present available forces was evidently regarded as courting annihilation. It has been understood that Stormberg had been selected as a depot for accumulating stores for the third division. Such stores as had been gathered have been removed sixty miles to the southward.

STORMBERG EVACUATED.

East London, Nov. 8 .- A despatch from Cape Colony, dated November 3. says that the British troops are evacuating Stormberg Junction, Cape Colony, today. The Natal brigade and two battalions of the Berkshire regiment went out by train and the rest of the force is marching southward. The destination of the forces is not known. There are no signs of the enemy at Stormberg, which is an important railway junction, but is difficult to defend. Four thousand Boers have been reported to have marched southward from Bethulie on the Free State border. URGED TO LEAVE, ESTCOURT.

East London, Nov. 6 .- A despatch from Estcourt, south of Colenso, says the women and children have been urged to leave. The garrison at Colenso saved all the stores and tents when that place was evacuated. The Boers in the neighborhood compose the new command of 5,000 men.

NEWS FROM LADY SMITH.

London, Nov. 6.-An immense weight from the prisoner. was lifted from the public mind by a NERVOUS, RHEUMATIC and OTHER brief official despatch published this morning by which the continental slories of disater at Lady Smith are proved to be false, although the despatch itself relieved the anxiety of the more timid in another direction, as it showed General White, instead of sitting tight and acting wholly on the defensive persists in making sorties and risking another Nicholson's Nek disaster. The movement of the Boers into Cape Colony is beginning to awaken British fear that they have greatly underestimated the forces, and that even General Buller's task is not so easy as anticipated. It is becoming apparent the British calculations, based on the loyalty of the population are wholly at sea or there has been a serious leaking in the Dutch sympathizers, from Natal and Cape Colony. Otherwise there is no accounting for the large forces of burghers. The war office is urged to have more troops in readiness for possible de-

TO REPLACE DEAD OFFICERS.

The evacuation of Colenso and the reported withdrawal from Stormbridge are still unexplained. Prince Christian Victoria, grandson of Queen Victoria, and captain in the King's royal rifles, and other officers have left Lady Smith, to replace the dead and wounded. The Boer prisoners were taken POSTAL CARD ADDRESS, 57 HILL- on board the British cruiser Penlope. They number nine officers and 180 men.

CONFEDERATE VETERANS OPPOSE AMENDMENT

Disfranchising Scheme Not in Favor With Them-A Fairview List.

The disfranchising constitutional amendment has few friends in western North Carolina, and party lines. especially in the country districts, are not sufficiently strong to keep democratic voters from openly denouncing it. Many old confederate soldiers regardless of their own ability to meet its educational requirements, should the law become generally effective through the nullification of the unconstitutional 'grandfather clause," are most emphatically opposed to it. The educated military operations in South Africa lat- veteran is not willing to see the rights er than Friday's date. The dominat- of his old comrade jeopardized, when through that comrade's service to the state in the years of the war both he and his children perhaps missed the opportunity of acquiring an education. We have heard expressions from many very decided attitude on this question and the Gazette will be able to show its readers just where they stand when the time comes to do so.

At Fairview recently an antiemendment club was formed in which some democrats were enrolled. We have since then been furnished with a list of the democratic voters who in that precinct have expressed their intention to vote against the amendment. The list is as follows: A. W. Searcy, W. H. Earley, Fate Searcy, Logan Searcy, James Searcy and his two younger brothers, Frank Foster, James Edwards, W. A. Presnell, William Hendrix, Robert Williams, J. E. Cooper, H. W. Two democratic members of the election commission last night threw out eighty-seven republican election officers. This action has caused intense excitement, and it looks as if nothing can prevent trouble.

SITUATION CRITICAL.

Louisville, Nov. 6 .- A more critical situation can hardly be imagined in Louisville than that which presents itself tonight. An attempt to shut out the inspectors of the Brown ticket from the polls, will, it is feared, result in rioting. The police have been warned not to interfere with the inspectors, and the First regiment of the state guard has been notified to be ready to be called out at an hour's notice. gross irregularities and disturbances.
