The continued warm weather is a good advertisement for Asheville's climate; it is a hardship on dealers in winter goods. The conditions prevailing in early fall gave us reason to look forward to a larger trade than usual. This together with an anticipated rise in all kinds of merchandise, caused us to BUY HEAVIER in all lines than usual. The advance in prices has been realized, but, owing to continued summer weather, trade has not come up to expectations; hence we have determined to make

REBELLION NEAR ITS END IN LUZON

Buencamino Says Aguinaldo Has Gone to Bayombong and Can be Caught.

Gen. Wheaton Has Aguinaldo's Little Son.

A FIGHT WITH DEL PILOR

Three Hundred Insurgents Driven From a Spanish Fort.

CAVALRY PUSHING ON TOWARD BAYOMBONG—VERY ENCOURAGING REPORTS FROM NEGROS—A DESPATCH FROM GEN. OTIS REGARDING AFFAIRS.

Manila, Saturday Evening, Nov. 25.—Senor Buencamino, ex-member of Aguinaldo's cabinet, who has been captured by the Americans, in an interview with a Laffan correspondent today admitted that the rebellion had gone to pieces. He says that Aguinaldo has gone to Bayombong and it is now merely a matter of persistent chasing in order to catch him. He said the whole trouble would soon be ended.

AGUINALDO'S SON.

Buencamino had $2,000 in gold when captured but no clothing. He came to Manila wearing borrowed garments. He says that when his party was attacked Aguinaldo's mother and Aguinaldo's four-year-old son got into the brush. Buencamino thought they had been killed. General Wheaton, however, has Aguinaldo's son, but the mother cannot be found. American cavalry is pushing toward Bayombong.

FIGHT NEAR SAN FERNANDO.

Manila, Saturday, 10:15 P. M., Nov. 25.—A column of the Thirtieth infantry from Balagu struck the insurgents at Masim, near San Fernando, today and had a running fight to San Ildefonso, where they drove three hundred insurgents from the old Spanish fortifications. The reconnaissance was continued toward San Miguel, where the enemy was found strongly entrenched on the outskirts of the town. This was probably General Pilar's old command of 750 men. In the fight which ensued the Americans had an officer killed and a private wounded. The Filipinos lost four killed, ten wounded and nine were captured.

REPORT FROM OTIS.

Washington, Nov. 25.—The following was received today at the war department from Otis:

"Manila, Nov. 25.—The insurgents made a feint on Imus last night. Three enlisted men were wounded, their loss, two killed, one captured. They withdrew quickly. Additional troops were sent from Manila today. The insurgents will be driven south. Reports from Negros are encouraging. The chief insurgent leaders in the north of the islands surrendered voluntarily. More planting is being done. More sugar mills are at work than at any time since the revolution against Spain began. Officers report the people are apparently cheerful and hopeful; that the form of government in operation is well suited to the conditions and is working smoothly."

CUBAN VETERANS WORRIED ABOUT INDEPENDENCE

They Cable McKinley Protesting Against Civil Government.

Havana, Nov. 25.—The Cuban Veterans' association cabled McKinley today saying they consider that the proposed substitution of civil for military government in Cuba changes the end of American intervention and requesting that he maintain the military government and hasten the creation of the collective organisms which are to constitute a stable government, purely Cuban, to which, according to the joint resolution of congress the United States are to deliver the control of the island. The despatch adds that every alteration which delays this end provokes suspicion and alarm among the people.

Civil Governor Nunez today notified the newspapers that editors counselling disturbances are liable to be prosecuted and that he will see the law enforced.

DISTINGUISHED GATHERING AT HOBART'S FUNERAL

Pagantry Carefully Avoided—Twenty-Five Thousand People Lined the Route of the Cortège.

Paterson, Nov. 25.—With entire simplicity and in the presence of a distinguished gathering of public men ever seen in this country the last honors were paid to Vice President Hobart today. In accordance with the wishes of the family all pomp and pageantry was carefully avoided. There was no long cortege nor military display other than was necessary to hold back the crowds, and no bands playing funeral music. Each of the three services, at the house, the church and grave, was simple as could be. Business was entirely suspended during the services.

The services at the house were attended only by the president, members of congress, justices of the supreme court and members of the family. After the brief prayer by Rev. Dr. McGie, which concluded the services, the coffin was borne from the house to the hearse and a detachment of soldiers formed a guard around it. The president and cabinet went out of a side door and got into carriages waiting, and were driven to the church, where they arrived ahead of the funeral. The crowds raised a cheer which was quickly suppressed.

Mrs. Hobart and family followed the hearse in carriages and the pall-bearers and members of congress followed the remains to the church on foot.

A VAST GATHERING.

Twenty-five thousand people lined the route of the cortège. The church was beautifully festooned with flowers and palms, not a speck of mourning being in sight. The coffin was borne into the church to the solemn strains of Chopin's funeral march.

No more notable congregation ever sat in a church. The eye rested everywhere on men of national reputation. McKinley and Hay sat in the front pew and others were seated according to rank. Rev. Mr. Shaw read the psalm, and this was followed by a prayer and the singing of the hymn, "Nearer My God to Thee." Dr. McGie, the pastor, then delivered an address eulogistic of the dead man.

At the conclusion of the services the body was conveyed to Cedar Lawn cemetery and placed in a vault. Immediately on the conclusion of the ceremonies President McKinley and his cabinet left for Washington.

Washington, Nov. 25.—McKinley returned from Paterson tonight.

DID HASELDEN WEAR ARMOR PLATE?

An Affidavit in Reply to the Dispensary Man's Denial.

Columbia, Nov. 25.—The publication by J. Dudley Haselden chairman of the state liquor board of control, that charges by John C. Sellers and Benjamin B. Sellers that he wore armor plate over his chest in the recent fight was a malicious lie, has brought out affidavits from the makers of the breast plates at the Marion iron works, in which they declare they made two plates for Chairman Haselden.

Sellers, who shot an impression before the armored man turned to run. Then he made two bullets tell in the legs.

OPTIMISM BLINDING ENGLAND

Public Still Fail to Realize Gravity of Situation in South Africa.

Prospects of Terrible Fighting in Natal.

CAPE DUTCH JOIN BOERS

Fears of a General Movement in Favor of the Transvaal.

INDIGNATION AROUSED BY THE TREACHEROUS USE OF THE WHITE FLAG BY THE BOERS. SHARPSHOOTERS UNABLE TO FULFILL INSTRUCTIONS AT BELMONT.

London, Nov. 25.—A majority of the British public still fail to realize the immense gravity of the situation in South Africa. Jubilation over General Methuen's considerable but still limited success at Belmont causes the average Englishman to ignore the former important strategical advantages gained by the Boers in Natal, while news of a serious revolt of the Dutch in Northern Cape Colony attracts no attention. The press is chiefly responsible for this, by misleading the popular idea of the day as to the progress of the campaign.

Most of the journals continue to magnify the British successes and to minimize and obscure all news favorable to the Boers. It is no exaggeration to say that it is the confident public belief that the tide has now turned, that General Methuen will march almost unopposed to Kimberley, that General Gatacre will soon drive the Orange Free Staters across the Orange river toward Bloemfontein, and that General Buller will start within a few days with an invincible force to the speedy relief of Estcourt and Lady Smith.

HARD TIMES AHEAD.

Opposed to this senseless optimism is the most sanguine military view of the situation namely, that General Methuen must fight a far heavier battle at Modder river than he fought at Belmont and even then the relief of Kimberley will not be assured; that General Gatacre must prosecute a difficult campaign against Stormburg and other strongholds before he can force the Boers back and he must employ a large portion of his force to subdue the rebellious Cape Colonists.

THE PROBLEMS IN NATAL.

But General Methuen's and Gatacre's tasks are easy compared to that which confronts the British in Natal. Bloody work is ahead in difficult passes of that section and appalling slaughter is in store for the British troops if the enemy behaves as it has thus far during the war.

In the light of all available facts it is generally admitted by all whose opinions are valuable that England must prepare herself for some trying hours and sad sacrifices before she can hope for better news and the final triumph of her arms.

THE WOUNDED FROM BELMONT.

Orange River, Cape Colony, Nov. 24.—In all 107 wounded, including several Boers arrived here from Belmont. One of the Boers, a boy of seventeen, was compelled to take up arms with his father who is a prisoner. The wounded Boer said twenty men were selected from each Boer section to pick off British officers. But he added, on the advance of the British force, the Boer marksmen were so bewildered as to make it impossible to distinguish the officers who wore the same equipment as the men. The marksmen were also unable to make out the sergeants and other non-commissioned officers whose stripes had been removed.

CAPE DUTCH JOIN.

London, Nov. 25.—The gravest news from Cape Town today comes from the northern part of the colony where it is evident numbers of Dutch farmers have risen and joined the invading Free State forces in Herschell and Barkley, east districts. A despatch from Queenstown, Cape Colony, General Gatacre's headquarters, announces "four hundred colonial rebels including an ex-magistrate of Barkley, east, have joined the enemy" at the latter place and that the whole force is reported marching on Dordrecht whence it can operate and possibly intercept General Gatacre's advance to recapture Stormberg Junction a strategic point. Another despatch says refugees arriving from Queenstown assert that La Grey is occupied by the colonial farmers and it is feared there is a general movement in favor of the Boers.

TREACHEROUS USE OF WHITE FLAG. A further despatch says that the confirmation of the treacherous use of the white flag by the Boers is arousing indignation. The troops engaged are bitterly complaining and it is feared the result will be a refusal to give the Boers quarter. An incident similar to this one occurred at the battle of Glencoe, when an officer shot by a wounded Boer, reported by the London Times correspondent at Belmont, who says Lieutenant Blundell of the Grenadier Guards was shot by a wounded Boer whom he was tending. Such statements appear incredible but are now confirmed officially the protest by Methuen, who sent the message to the Boer commander saying: "I must ask you to warn your wounded not to shoot our officers. I must warn you not to use dum dum bullets or use a flag of truce treacherously. Such action is cowardly in the extreme and I cannot countenance it."

LIEUT. WILL WILLIAMS DIED YESTERDAY MORNING

Death of Young Officer Regretted by Entire Community.

Lieutenant Will H. Williams died yesterday in the Philadelphia hospital where he had gone to undergo an operation to remove from his head a bullet received while participating in the battle with the Filipinos on the 16th of August. The information came in a telegram to Dr. Swope and was received throughout the community with the keenest regret. The mother and sister of the young officer were with him at the time of his death. They are expected to arrive in Asheville this afternoon accompanied by Dr. Battle, who will meet them at Salisbury, and the funeral arrangements will then be made.

The sudden change for the worse in the illness of Lieutenant Williams, which was recorded in the Gazette yesterday came in the nature of a shock to his relatives and friends, as there was a strong hope of his recovery when he left for Philadelphia last Monday. He had borne up remarkably well under a trying hospital experience in Manila and the long journey to his home. Before leaving he expressed the belief to his father Dr. John H. Williams, that he would speedily recover after the operation.

Lieutenant Williams was 27 years of age. He left for Manila last February. Laffan Bureau Despatch. Philadelphia, Nov. 25.—Lieutenant Williams, of Asheville, N. C., died in hospital this morning from the effects of an operation for the removal of a bullet from his neck, which he received from a Mauser rifle, while leading a charge outside of Manila. The ball struck him beneath the right eye, shattering his jaw bone and penetrating to the back of the head. Several doctors in the Philippines declined to attempt to remove the bullet because of the network of veins in the neck and he was brought to this city.

THE METHODIST CONFERENCE.

Yesterday's Proceedings—Alleged Improper Sermon.

Special to the Gazette. Concord, N. C., Nov. 25.—The conference met at 9 o'clock. Messrs. Baldwin, Beagle and Turner received full connection. An excellent address was delivered by Bishop Key on consecration. The characters of the Franklin, Mt. Airy Salisbury and Shelby districts were passed. There was a feeling talk by Mr. Gentry. Mr. Caraway preferred charges against Mr. Wilson Burkhead, of Winston, of delivering an improper sermon. A committee was appointed to investigate the charges composed of Messrs. Renn Smith and Stacey. A fine address was delivered by Dr. Kigo on education. The Sunday appointments were then read.

THRILLING FOOTBALL SCENES

Princeton Wins From Yale a Most Sensational Game at New Haven.

Poe of Princeton Immortalized Himself By a Kick.

20,000 THROATS CHEERED.

Yale's Judgment and Generalship Could Not Save Them.

OUTPLAYED IN BOTH HALVES—A SUPERB DROP KICK BY YALE'S HALF BACK—BROWN TACKLED A HARD CRISIS TO SAVE THE DAY BUT FAILED.

New Haven, Nov. 25.—With about fifty seconds to play, the score ten to six in Yale's favor, and the Princeton eleven hopelessly beaten and composed chiefly of subs, Poe, of Princeton, immortalized himself this afternoon by kicking a superb goal from the 35-yard line which won one of the most sensational games on record for Princeton. It was a magnificent achievement. The ball sailed over the goal posts straight as though fired from a cannon. The crowd for a moment were dazed. Then a scene followed seldom witnessed on the foot-ball field. Poe was hugged and kissed until almost smothered. Even some of the Yale men joined in the praise bestowed upon him.

THE YALE ACHIEVEMENT.

Strange to say, while Poe's field goal won the game, it was a superb drop kick by Yale's half back in the first half that made Princeton's victory look slim. From the 45-yard line Sharp kicked one of the finest goals even seen, at a time when Princeton had six to five advantage. That made the score ten to six and it hung there in the balance until Poe's toe did the work.

Had Brown of Yale kicked the goal from McBride's touchdown the final score would have been a tie, eleven to eleven. Brown's failure was excusable as the kick was from a different angle.

Princeton's first six points were due to a touchdown by Reiter, from which Wheeler kicked a goal.

YALE OUTPLAYED.

In straight way football Yale was outplayed in both halves. Yale's ends were so vulnerable Princeton's backs were made the best gains around them. Yale's judgment and generalship was superb, but the Tigers had the ball in Yale's territory the greater part of the time. Yale never put the Princeton men to their hardest defense except in one instance and then Yale lost the ball on downs.

MUCH SLUGGING.

Yale excelled in physical condition, and was therefore enabled to make a great fight. But two changes were made in Yale's line-up, whereas the Tigers went to pieces in the second half and several men had to be retired. The game was replete with sensational plays and at some periods there was no little slugging. The final score was: Princeton, 11; Yale, 10. Twenty thousand persons witnessed the game.

At home and abroad, hundreds now use Camphorine. The famous chapped hand and rough skin lotion; 25c.

THE STATE OF TRADE

The state of trade has warranted us in adding to our usual holiday line an additional lot of gold and silver articles in more expensive goods than we have carried before in several years. We hope this change will meet with the approval of the public and desire the pleasure of showing you our holiday stock which will be ready about the first of December. In the meantime we wish to again call your attention to the silver novelties we are closing out at a sacrifice.
