LINCOLN COUNTY

Hon. Claudius Dockery Addresses Over 800 People

Lincoln County, N. C., July 23.—The writer was present at the speaking at Bess' chapel in this county on Saturday, the 21st. Hon. Claudius Dockery spoke to an attentive audience of over 800 people for two hours or more. His speech was convincing and was acknowledged by the democrats as well as the populists and republicans present as being the best and clearest exposition of the issues of the day that they had heard this campaign.

Mr. Clyde Hoey, a democratic speaker of at least eight months experience as a constitutional lawyer (he having had his license no longer than that) attempted to reply to Mr. Dockery in a two hours' rambling talk of misrepresentations and abuse. A hearer who claims to have kept tally says that Hoey used the word nigger 486 times in his remarkable argument. All the Hoey's in the world could not have successfully answered Mr. Dockery's arguments for they were unanswerable, being based as they were on the settled and fundamental law of the land and on truth. Old Lincoln up to four or five years ago used to go something like 800 democratic majority, but now it is different. She will poll a strong majority against the amendment and we hope to carry the full ticket, and have good grounds on which to base this hope. "God save the state."

DOCKERY AT TAYLORSVILLE.

Taylorsville, N. C., July 21.—The court house here was packed full of white voters on the 18th to hear the political issues of the day discussed by Hon. Claudius Dockery, the republican candidate for lieutenant governor. His speech surpassed the highest expectations of his friends. His argument was logical and convincing, which was shown by the hearty cheers he received he so ably defended the rights of common people.

AT CATFISH.

The writer accompanied Mr. Dockery to Cat Fish, N. C. There we were delighted to be met by so many gray headed men who expressed themselves as opposed to the proposed amendment, who had hitherto been democrats. Here the speaker, as in Taylorsville the day before, was given close attention, the audience listening to every word as it fell from his lips. The republicans in Catawba and Alexander counties are well organized and are making a determined fight. It is conceded that much good was accomplished by Mr. Dockery's speeches. A VOTER.

Kidney Troubles

are the most dangerous ailments that afflict mankind—to be dreaded even more than lung affections. Very often they cause no pain, and get a deep foothold before the patient knows it. A man or woman may well be frightened when the urine is discolored or contains a sediment; when there is pain in the small of the back, a scalding sensation in passing water and frequent desire to urinate, especially at night. These symptoms are positive proof that relief must be found quickly before it is too late. Science has produced a vegetable cure in
