IMPERIALISM THEIR ONLY CRY

Democratic Candidates Notified of Nomination at Indianapolis.

Bryan Fails to Mention His Beloved Silver.

Doesn't Say Very Much About Trusts Either.

"Consent of Governed," Comes with Bad Grace from Democrats.

Stevenson Gives a General Resume of the Platform.

BUT HIS GREATEST FEAR IS MILITARISM IN WHICH HE SEES MANY DIRE CALAMITIES—CHAIRMAN RICHARDSON DENOUNCES EVERYTHING AND PUSHES A FEW BOUQUETS AT HIS CHIEF.

Indianapolis, Aug. 8.—The city in gala attire and well decked out for the notification of the democratic candidates.

When the sun rose this morning it shone out upon a clear sky, thus rendering it quite certain that the program for conducting the exercises in the open air as originally decided upon could be carried into effect. The weather was hot, to be sure, even at the early hour of sunrise, and the heat increased proportionately.

Both Mr. Bryan and Mr. Stevenson arose early and both of them received a warm welcome from the thousands of people who gathered in the city square.

The procession, which was announced to start at 1:15, was somewhat late in getting off, but once in motion it moved along rapidly. The parade was directed by Hon. Charles A. Garrard as chief marshal and escorted by a squad of policemen.

At the Grand hotel a stop was made and Messrs. Bryan and Stevenson, their families and members of the notification committees and others entered carriages and joined the procession.

Both Mr. Bryan's and Mr. Stevenson's carriages were followed by 102 members of the two notification committees in carriages and by ladies accompanying the various delegations. All carriages were escorted by marching clubs in attendance from various parts of the country.

The notification took place shortly after 2:30 o'clock. Thousands of people witnessed the ceremonies.

Senator Jones, chairman of the democratic national committee, was introduced by Mayor Taggart as the presiding officer of the occasion. The senator in a brief speech introduced Congressman James D. Richardson, of Tennessee.

Congressman Richardson was received with wild cheers as he mounted the stand.

He said in notifying Mr. Bryan: Mr. Bryan: On the one hundred and twenty-fourth anniversary of the birth of this republic there assembled at Kansas City the most intensely American convention that ever came together in its history. This great body was made up of men from every state and territory in the union. They came from their respective districts filled with unfeigned enthusiasm for the inspiring cause which brought them together. Their seven millions of constituents had empowered them to frame a platform of principles and select a candidate for president and vice president of the United States in what they conceived to be the supremest political crisis that ever came to our country. These delegates all realized that the republic is in peril. They felt that the duty was theirs to take such action as would rescue the state from the grip of imperialism in which it had been plunged and thus preserve for themselves and posterity the blessings of free government and civil liberty.

WILKIE & LABARBE, Real Estate Brokers, Phone 661, 23 Patton Avenue.

the priceless blessings of free government and civil liberty. You see before you today a committee of delegates from that convention, and for whom I speak, upon which is represented every state and territory, whose duty it is to convey to you in formal manner the notification that the august assembly I have mentioned, acting for its members, their constituents, and for all who love and cherish liberty everywhere, with no dissenting voice, chose you as the candidate for president, and adopted a platform of principles upon which the campaign we are now inaugurating shall be conducted.

Four years ago you led the party in the most brilliant contest it has ever experienced. You then failed to win the goal, the presidency, but you did more; you won the respect and admiration of your political foes, and the ardent love and devotion of your followers. That contest was made by you against stupendous odds, in the face of a hostile press, and with unhappy division in your ranks. I congratulate you and the country that all these unfortunate conditions do not confront you today. It is true, you were then bitterly, sometimes wantonly, assailed and when partisan rancor ran high occasionally coarse things were said of you and your party. But you and they survived them all, and were, perhaps, stronger for them. We trust this campaign will be pitched on a higher plane, and that it will be conducted in a manner worthy of the great dignity which attaches to the two most exalted offices at stake.

It is true that you and your party friends have already been characterized as dishonest and lawless at home, and as cowards abroad. I feel sure, however, it will stop at this, or at least, if such hyberbolic flowers of speech are used at all it will be in rare instances, and only then by some one whose coarse manners before the public are equaled only by the roughness of his riding habit.

You are by all real Americans regarded as the best exponent of the faith of our fathers, which was articulated in the Declaration of Independence and sealed by the blood of patriots. We deny that that declaration is a back number. We solemnly affirm that by the faithful it is yet venerated as the grandest charter of human rights and human liberty ever devised by man. The lust of greed and power preaches contempt for its superb doctrine, but we hold it is the only guiding star by which our ship of state has ever been steered. We know that it is only until of late, when another star, the star of imperialism, has been selected as the guide for our course.

The platform which I handed you is a new Declaration of Independence. You will see it takes no step backward upon any issue or party creed heretofore promulgated. It solemnly affirms that the question of imperialism is the paramount issue of this campaign. This declaration did not make it so, but only gave recognition to an admitted fact. The republicans have made it the issue which in this campaign overtops all others. They may well endeavor to run away from it, as they are doing, but they cannot escape it. "By their fruits ye shall know them," was the best philosophy nineteen hundred years ago, and it is the best now.

Imperialism consists in levying upon the people and collecting from them unequal taxes. It consists in levying taxes upon one territory of the United States and not levying the same on other portions thereof. The constitution says that all taxes shall be uniform throughout the United States. The power to tax is the power to destroy. When those in power proceed as they have done by recent acts of congress to construct a tariff wall against one territory and thus exclude its products from the other territories and states of the union, seek to dodge as they may, they exercise imperial power. No king or emperor can do more. They cannot do the acts and deeds which can only be done in a kingdom or an empire and say they are not imperialists and that there is no issue of imperialism. The platform declares that imperialism means conquest abroad and oppression at home. It means the strong arm of the military, and its concomitant, a great standing army, which has ever been fatal to all free institutions. It was this that drove from Europe to our shores millions of our fellow citizens and which is a constant menace to the liberties of the people. Large standing armies have no place in a republic. An imperial government can only be maintained by brute force, and without militarism imperialism cannot exist. The union or mating of the two brings forth Caesarism, whether under that or some other name. Imperialism means death to democracy and republicanism. It means more swords and fewer ploughshares. Militarism means death to self-government, and more spears and fewer pruning hooks.

In the great battle upon us we will make the fight thickest and hottest upon this monster imperialism, which always feeds upon the life blood of liberty. The cause you represent, sir, is humanity. The highest duty to humanity is to help others to be free. The just punishment of a people that enslave and rule over another is the loss of their own liberty, for a democracy cannot be an empire and remain both. The platform also declares unending warfare in nation, state and city against trusts and private monopolies in every form. This declaration means that the laws now on the statute books against this growing evil must be enforced by honest and competent officials, and that there shall be enacted other laws efficient enough to com-

BRITISH FORCE AT ELAND RIVER TAKEN

Methuen and Dewet's Advance Guard Have Evidently Come in Contact Also.

London, Aug. 8.—The following has been received from Lord Roberts: "Pretoria—I fear the Eland's river garrison under Lieutenant Colonel Hoare has been captured after ten days' resistance. The Boer general, Delarey, learning of General Hamilton's approach to Rustenburg, and seeing no chance of capturing General Baden Powell's forces hurried to Eland's river. General Hamilton reported firing in the direction of Eland's river ceased yesterday, and Colonel Hoare evidently has been captured. General Hamilton left Rustenburg this morning, taking General Baden Powell's forces with him. The Boer commander, Delarey, commenced crossing the Vaal yesterday, and Lord Kitchener is now in pursuit. Lord Methuen, who is on the right bank of the Vaal, has evidently come in contact with Dewet's advance guard as his guns were heard by Kitchener this morning."

RAY GETS TWO MEDALS.

In Portraits Convention at Richmond—Brook Also Gets Two.

Richmond, Va., Aug. 8.—In the photographers convention of Virginia and the Carolinas here C. F. Ray, of Asheville, received the first medal for landscape pictures and second medal for portraits. Brook, of Asheville also secured two second medals. The portraits convention goes to Raleigh next year and has promised to go to Asheville in the future.

BLAST FURNACES CLOSE.

Columbus, Aug. 8.—A special from Cleveland says: All the Bessemer iron blast furnaces in the country with two exceptions, will go out of blast on September 1. The decision was reached at a meeting just held in the city. The drop in the price of the product and the condition of the market is the cause of the action. About 8,000 men will be affected.

"ATHALIE" TONIGHT.

One of Summer School's Best Concerts Will be Given.

Tonight's concert by the Summer school bids fair to rival in popularity the "Persian Garden" concert of two weeks ago which is generally conceded to have been the most interesting one of the series.

Not only will Mr. Ern be heard in a violin solo, Miss Knight and Mme. Parcello in songs, but Mendelssohn's "Athalie" is to be given by soloists and chorus with piano and organ accompaniment. "Athalie" is a dull measure from beginning to end. On the contrary, it contains some of the finest music Mendelssohn ever wrote.

The Summer school chorus is not as large as was expected, but greater care has been exercised this year in the admission of voices, and it will prove to be adequate for this ambitious performance, very much ahead of anything previously attempted by the Summer school.

Following is the program:

- PART I.
1. Trio, Op. 1, for piano, violin and cello. Beethoven. Allegro. Adagio Cantabile. Scherzo. Finale.
  2. Spring Song. Tosti. Miss Nellie Harben Knight.
  3. Violin Concerto in E minor. Mendelssohn. Adagio. Allegretto. Finaie. Vivace.
  4. Folk Songs of Finland, Italy and Scotland. Henri Ern. Mme. Marie Parcello. Miss Emma E. Coburn and Miss May Kimberly, accompanists.
- PART II.
- Mendelssohn's music to Racine's Tragedy "Athalie."
- Miss Nellie Harben Knight, soprano. Miss Emily D. Reynolds, mezzo solo. Mme. Marie Parcello, contralto. Summer School chorus. Thomas J. Pennell, conductor. Miss May Kimberly, pianist. Ferdinand Dunkley, organist.
1. Overture. Piano and organ.
  2. Solos and chorus: Heaven and the Earth Display.
  3. Choral recitative: What star in its glory upriseth? Duet and chorus: Ever Blessed Child. Contralto solo: Alas, that all by virtue.
  4. Recitative: O, David's regal home. Solo and chorus: Behold, Zion, behold. Solo and chorus: How long, O, Lord. Solo: Rejoice! exclaims the frantic throng.
  5. Chorus: They, Lord, who scoff at Thy voice.
  6. Eight-part chorus: Lord, let us hear Thy voice.
  7. Chorus: Promised joys. Chorus: O, Zion, thou art doomed. Solo and chorus: These cries of doubt forbear!
  8. Trio and chorus: Hearts feel that love thee.
  9. War march of the priests, piano and organ.
  10. Chorus: Depart, ye Sons of Aaron. Solos and women's chorus: Where are the shafts Thou employest?
  11. Chorus: Heaven and the earth display.

NOTE SENT TO CHINA

Will Further Test Their Protestations of Good Faith.

Must Allow Armed Guard to Enter Peking.

And Take Away Ministers Under Flag of Truce.

General Chaffee Reports the Fighting at Pitsang.

AMERICANS SUSTAIN NO LOSS IN ENGAGEMENT—JAPANESE LOSE HEAVILY BUT STAND BRUNT OF BATTLE, WHICH THEY CARRY OUT HANDSOMELY—ADVANCE ON PEKIN.

London, Aug. 9.—The various official despatches cover practically all the news of importance that has been received regarding China. The pessimism of Conger's despatch, compared with the others is remarkable upon and regarded as unexplainable unless the other governments have suppressed parts of the despatches received by them.

The fact is noted that most of the despatches bear the date of Yuan Shih Kais Yamen at Tsin, and the officials of the Chinese legation here express the belief that the ministers have not as yet left Peking. They profess confidence that they will do so, and assume that their departure will be officially announced.

EXPLANATION OF MOVEMENT.

Washington, Aug. 8.—Chaffee's account of the battle of Pitsang, though brief, covers considerable ground. It is evident from his despatch that the battle did not take place exactly as planned at the command of Japanese commanders. It was intended that the advance, followed closely by the English and Americans, who by the Pei Ho stage of the battle would swing into line and make the turning movement which would make the line of the allied forces cross the Chinese right flank. According to Chaffee's despatch today the movement was only partly carried out by his expression "ground very limited."

It is understood by army officers that this means there was not sufficient space between the Chinese right flank and Hun Ho for successfully carrying out the turning movement. An examination of a military map shows the Hun Ho and Pei Ho come together at Tien Tsin and form a triangle. As a result of failure to carry out the movement the Japanese had to stand the brunt of the fight.

The Chinese were completely defeated in the engagement is evident by the announcement by Chaffee that the allied troops prepared to cross the Pei Ho to its left bank tomorrow and the 6th and move on Yang Tsung.

TAKING OF PIETANG.

Washington, Aug. 8.—The following despatch was received from General Chaffee by Adjutant General Corbin today:

"Chefoo (no date). Front, Aug. 5.—Pietang was handsomely taken early this morning by the Japanese troops, supported by the English and Americans. The Japanese loss was considerable, English slight, Americans none. Ground very limited. In the morning the American troops occupied the rear position, which was to form the turning movement, but were unable to form in the line. Will take left bank of Peiho tomorrow morning and move on Yang Tsung. Consul at Chefoo furnished a
