Lafayette Sheppard was instantly killed at the Cole sawmill, in Haywood county, Monday afternoon of last week. He was caught on a belt and his brains were dashed out and his neck broken by coming in contact with overhead timbers.

Mrs. Lizzie Brannon, who resided in West Durham, was so severely injured by the explosion of an oil can Sunday evening, that she died Monday morning. Her body was horribly burned. She was about 70 years old and and resided with her grandson, J. J. Burch, one of the superintendents in the Erwin cotton mills.

Mr. Emsley W. Stratford, who resides three miles south of town, broke the record this year in growing wheat. From thirty acres he harvested 633 bushels, an average of 211-10 bushels per acre. The wheat in twelve of these acres was damaged, or the yield would have been greater. One field of eight acres yielded him 253 bushels, an average of 31 5-8 bushels per acre.—Greensboro Telegram.

As an excursion was returning from Wilmington to Wilson Friday night some one threw a brick into one of the coaches at Mt. Olive, barely missing the heads of two occupants. The same thing was repeated when approaching Dudley. When Moore's crossing, reached a beer bottle was thrown own reputation he couldn't accomplish and arm of Miss Mamie Pittman. A large piece of the bottle also struck the head of Miss Florence Pittman, but the injury was slight.

One Moore, a shoemaker by trade, and a street preacher by jumps and jerks, is evidently like Vance's muleof short memory and thick hide-othcame of his friend Boyd on one occasion and later of what was the fate of Dick Morse. But in truth Moore is cranky. He says he is "called the Lord," and this settles it. Likewise Mayor Taylor was called upon by all sense of decency to lock him up and he did so in about three minutes this afternoon. Old Moore has not been molested for some time, but Mr. Brunson is very sick with fever on the west side of the Southern Loan and Trust company building. A week ago yesterday old Moore was holding forth at the postoffice and the mayor asked him to desist, as he was disturbing Mr. Brunson. Moore did not quit, though he talked in a lower vein. This afternoon he took up his station in the center of the Court house square and was yelling away when complaint was made that he was disturbing the sick man. Chief Scott went over and asked him to stop. He said he was going to preach the gospel. A warrant was issued for him and he was brought before the mayor, who told him he was disturbing a man sick almost unto death, and asked him if he was going to quit. "No," said Moore, "I'm going to preach this blessed word; won't you listen to it?" he asked the mayor, but that officer declined and ordered the prisoner locked up. There is on y one thing wrong with the action of the mayor; he should in reality have locked him up long ago or made him cease. knows about as much about Passengers coming in from King's Mountain, yesterday brought the news of the death of Mr. John Ramsey, a cotton mill operative at that place. He was killed Sunday night by the fast mail train coming to Charlotte. Late in the afternoon he had been seen down town in an intoxicated condition and it is believed that on his way home he sat down on the railroad track and there met his death. His body was badly mangled. He leaves a wife and two children and was 35 years old .-Charlotte Observer.
