To prevent consumption quickly cure throat and lung troubles with One Minute Cough Cure. Dr. T. C. Smith.

Liquors placed in vessels of unglazed earthenware are quickly cooled. The reason is that the porous earthenware quickly becomes saturated, and the evaporation from its surface causes it to become quite cold. "Destiny," said the pensive boarder, "is like a chicken. It isn't everybody who can carry it to his entire satisfaction."--Pack.

The High Point Metallic Bed company is the name of a company which is to make iron bedsteads. It has an authorized capital of $50,000. The officers are J. H. Mills, president; E. M. Armfield, vice president; R. H. Wheeler, secretary and treasurer. Work on the buildings will commence at once, and the company expects to have a line of goods on the market by the 1st of January.

Judge Boyd, sitting at chambers in the circuit court of the United States, has made an order appointing Robert R. King, of Greensboro, receiver of the Greensboro Water Supply company. The suit in which this action is taken was brought by the Guardian Trust and Deposit company of Baltimore, against the Water Supply company. The plaintiff is the owner of the defendant's bonds to the amount of $110,000, and insolvency of the defendant and failure to meet the interest and other obligations are the grounds of action.

Raleigh has, as the Observer has been told, a "suicide club," made up, as one might easily guess, of morphine fiends. Some of the fiends were at the theater last evening to see "Sherlock Holmes," and to them the real feature of the fine performance was no doubt the taking of the "dope" by the redoubtable Sherlock. This brings to mind the fact that some years ago a Raleigh lawyer died who took what was said to be as large a dose of morphine as was ever taken regularly by any one in this country. L. S. pills, and immense ones they were, were prepared and kept in a drug store, and each day one was sent him.--Charlotte Observer.

Presence of Mind.

If there be one thing that I more than another admire it is the having one's wits about one--perhaps because I never had mine. To be possessed only of l'esprit d'escaliers is simply an aggravation.

As illustrative of ready witted men I recall an incident that I have often told, but never published. Let me do that now in justice to one that is gone.

In company with the late J. R. Osrood I one of an evening dropped in at Wallack's old theater. We could get no seats, as there was standing room only. At the end of the first act two orchestra seats were vacant in front, and we walked down and took them. Barely were we seated when two gentlemanly looking young men came down the aisle and addressed me.

"Beg pardon, but have you checks for those seats?" I was on the point of rising, when Osrood replied: "No. Have you?" They hadn't. It was merely a bit of supreme bluff. But how few would have had the readiness to meet and parry it--John Paul in Harper's Magazine.

EASE AND DISEASE.

A Short Lesson on the Meaning of a Familiar Word.

Disease is the opposite of ease. Webster defines disease as "lack of ease, uneasiness, trouble, vexation, disquiet." It is a condition due to some derangement of the physical organism. A vast majority of the "dis-ease" from which people suffer is due to impure blood. Disease of this kind is cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla, which purifies, enriches and vitalizes the blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla cures eczema, salt rheum, pimples and all eruptions. It tones the stomach and creates a good appetite, and it gives vigor and vitality to the whole body. It reverses the condition of things, giving health, comfort and "ease" in place of "disease."

DOES IT PAY TO BUY CHEAP?

A cheap remedy for coughs and colds is all right but you want something that will relieve and cure the more severe and dangerous results of throat and lung troubles. What shall I do? Go to a warmer and more regular climate? Yes, it is possible; but if possible for you, then in either case take the ONLY remedy that has been introduced in all civilized countries with success in severe throat and lung troubles. "Doche's German Syrup." It not only heals and stimulates the tissues to destroy the germ disease, but also inflammation; causes easy expectoration, gives a good night's rest, and cures the patient. Try ONE bottle. Recommended many years by all druggists in the world. For sale by W. C. Carmichael.

THE CROWD WAS EASY.

And so was the sympathy badge with which it was worked.

A woman in deep mourning and apparently in distress attracted a crowd of belated citizens on Eighth avenue and Sixteenth street at 2 o'clock in the morning one day last week. She was young and good looking. She stood close to the rails of the down town track and looked up and down the pavement as if in search of something. She was nervous and said repeatedly:

"What shall I do? What shall I do?" A dozen young men lit matches and joined in the search. They were unable to find anything. One asked what she had lost.

"Oh, I've lost my pocketbook," said the woman. "It contained all the money I had, and I don't know what I shall do." Then she began to weep.

"It's too bad," said some one sympathetically. "How came you to be so unfortunate?" "I alighted from one of these Eighth avenue cars, and just as it was about to start I discovered that my purse was missing. The thought occurred to me that I might have left it on the seat, and I shouted to the conductor to stop the car. He refused, but I threw something at me which I believe was the pocketbook, and the car was soon out of sight. I thought that I would be able to find it, but it does not seem to be around anywhere. I would not mind it so much only it contained a little ring belonging to my dead child. Now I have nothing to remember her by."

One man at once said he would pay her far home. Another offered to hire a cab, while another proposed to complain of the conductor for his rudeness if she could only remember the number. The woman began to lament and weep again. A tall, well dressed man wearing eyeglasses broke through the crowd and spoke to the woman.

"What has happened?" "Oh, nothing," she said; "only I've been very unfortunate. I have lost my pocketbook and am penniless. It is not that I care about so much. It is my dead baby's ring which I lost with it that worries me the most."

The man, without listening further, delved down into his inside pocket and produced a card. He handed it to the woman and said:

"This is my business address. Call on me tomorrow. I have influence with the Metropolitan Traction people, and I will see that this conductor is punished. Here, accept this $5 bill. It is the smallest I have. It will tide you over till tomorrow."

Here he paused and turning to the crowd continued: "Gentlemen, I am going to start a subscription for this poor woman. She is unfortunate and deserves your assistance. The same thing may happen any night to your wives, mothers, sweethearts or your own children. Now, who will help out of her predicament? You see I have contributed $5, although I am not a millionaire."

Quickly dimes, quarters and halves were subscribed, and in a little while more than $7 more was collected. The money was turned over to the woman by the man with the eyeglasses. The woman was profuse in her thanks and bidding her benefactors "good night" boarded an up town car and rode away. A reporter who had observed the whole proceeding thought he would watch the man with the eyeglasses. The latter got on the next car, and the reporter followed. The man with the eyeglasses got off at Forty-third street and joined the woman, who was waiting at the corner for him. The pair greeted each other effusively and then walked arm in arm toward Broadway. As they went along the reporter heard this: "Say, those guys were dead easy. Why, it was the softest graft I ever struck. We got about $7. Say, this is easier than stealing, and I guess we can make enough to keep us in luxury for a couple of months."

"Yes, they were easy. Let us strike Broadway. We may catch another lay before we go home."--New York Sun.

QUESTIONS ANSWERED. Yes, August Flower still has the best sale of any medicine in the world. Your mothers and grandmothers never thought of using anything for indigestion or Biliousness. Doctors were scarce, and they seldom heard of Appendicitis, Nervous Prostration or Heart Failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and fermentation of undigested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and had 7th headaches and other aches. You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower in liquid form to make you satisfied. Here is not a serious matter with you. For all W. C. Carmichael's.
