STRIKERS STILL WAITING

To See if Offer of Increased Pay Will Become General.

They May Force Mitchell to Call a Convention.

Sheriff Harvey Has Not Called for Troops, and Will Not.

Women and Girls Join in March With Striking Miners.

PEACEFUL PARADE OF THE MOBILIZED FORCES OF MINERS WAS A MASTERLY EFFORT—RESULTED IN COMPLETE CLOSING OF THE LATTIMER MINES.

Wikesbarre, Oct. 6.—Of the 75,000 miners in the upper coal field 36,000 were today offered an increase of 10 per cent by the twenty-two individual operators employing them. This offer followed that of the four big coal carrying roads. Some of the other companies are ready to make the same offer, as they see a chance of the miners accepting it. The strikers are waiting for the offer to become general. If it is made the general miners will undoubtedly force Mitchell to call a convention to discuss it. The coal carrying companies still holding out employ 19,000 men, the individual companies employ 18,000. There is much feeling among the business men against these companies for holding out, as they say they are injuring business greatly. The general council of the miners' union held a secret conference today, and discussed the advisability of calling a convention. No decision was reached as far as has been learned. Sheriff Harvey says that he has not called for troops and will not. He declares that the peaceful march of the mobilized forces of miners this morning was the most masterly effort yet made. It resulted in the complete closing of the Lattimer mines, the streets being so full of marching men for hours it was impossible for those wanting to work to get to the mines.

EXCITING DA YAT LATTIMER.

Hazleton, Pa., Oct. 6.—Nearly 2,000 strikers, with fifty women and girls, marched into Lattimer early this morning and completely tied up the two collieries of Calvin, Pardee & Co., located at that place. It was the greatest march that has taken place during the present strike.

The crowd was made of strikers from McAdoo, Audenreid, Jeansville and Hazleton, on the south side, and from Harwood, Jeddo, Freeiland and upper Lehigh on the north side. The women and girls came from the borough of McAdoo. Sheriff Harvey and a handful of deputies were at Lattimer when the strikers arrived and they kept the marchers constantly on the move. There was no disturbance at any time, the men and women being well behaved.

It was the most exciting day that Lattimer has had since the tragedy of three years ago. The strikers from the south side concentrated on the back road to the place. They had left their homes at midnight. The women, including "Mother" Jones, were conveyed in wagons while the men walked. It was a little before 6 o'clock when the 1,000 southside men entered Lattimer, headed by a fife and drum corps and the women. The leader of the women, who was a pretty Polish girl, carried a large American flag. They marched and counter-marched on the Lattimer public road until 7 a. m., when the whistle blew for the starting of work at the collieries. A shout went up from the crowd as it saw that no one responded to the call. Shortly after this a faint cheer was heard in the distance and suddenly a crowd, which proved to be the north side marchers, who had gathered on the opposite side of the town, burst through a gate on the further end of the company's property about half a mile away. They came streaming in by the hundreds and rushed down the company's railway then across the strappings and joined the south side force on the public road on the very spot where the twenty-two marchers were shot by deputies in 1897. While the men were running across the company's property it looked as if the leaders of the south side strikers would lose control of the men and they too would break and overrun the private grounds, but they were held in check. If they had gotten on to the property the sheriff and his small force would have been absolutely powerless to deal with the 2,000 cheering marchers.

The combined forces, after a short rest, formed two by two, and with the women and girls in the lead, started on another parade through the town. The women marchers called the Lattimer men blacklegs and other hard names while those thus assailed remained mute for fear of being attacked. This was kept up until 8 o'clock, when the marchers began to leave for their various home towns.

OFFER OF INCREASED WAGES. Scranton, Pa., Oct. 6.—In compliance with an agreement of the individual coal operators' association, covering the Lackawanna and Wyoming valleys, to give an increase in wages to their strike mine employees, the following notice signed by each operator in the association and posted for himself at the mines controlled by him was issued this morning:

"This company makes the following announcement to its mine employees: 'It will adjust its rates of wages so as to pay to its mine employees on and after October 1 and until further notice a net increase of 10 per cent on the wages heretofore received.'

"Note: It is understood in the foregoing that powder will be sold to miners for $1.50 per keg and that the difference between this rate and the old rate of $2.75 shall be taken into account in figuring the net advance of the price noted above for this class of work."

Inquiry at the office of several of the operators revealed the belief that the strike could not continue much longer, probably not over another week, as by that time miners and laborers will thoroughly understand the situation and realize just what the increase means. It is also learned that the rate applied to every condition of earnings that held before the strike was declared and that this meant that the allowance for "dead work" and hard places would stand.

It is figured out that the only inequalities which may arise will be the case where one miner is able to get out more coal with a keg of powder than another, but the latter's allowance will about even this condition.

Many of the strikers, in fact the great majority of them, hold that the proposal of the operators is too low to be considered. They will, however, abide by whatever action President Mitchell may decide upon.

TILL AFTER THE STRIKE.

Hazleton, Pa., Oct. 6.—It is not unlikely that the Lattimer collieries will remain closed until the strike is ended. Superintendent Westlake of the company said the question of drawing the fires from beneath the boilers will be decided later in the day. The officials of the company said they did not like the idea of risking the lives of its men with a mob like the one that swarmed over the company's property this morning. Outside the closing of the Lattimer collieries there was no change in the situation in this district today. No additional individual operators have posted notices of any advance.

President Mitchell today sent a telegram to T. D. Nichols, president of district No. 1, which comprises the Lackawanna and Wyoming regions. Mr. Nichols is at Nanticoke. The telegram reads: "We are informed that agents are employing miners to work in Arkansas and Indian Territory. Please advise all miners to remain away from there, as the miners of Arkansas and Indian Territory have been on a strike for twenty months."

GOV. ROOSEVELT IN CHICAGO

Teddy and Hanna Speak to a Large Crowd—Bryanism and Soup-Kitchens.

Chicago, Oct. 6.—Governor Roosevelt reached Chicago this evening, being escorted in by Senator Hanna, gubernatorial Candidate Yates and others, who met him at DeKalb, where Roosevelt and Hanna spoke in the pouring rain to a large crowd after the candidate and party had ridden in the parade. Roosevelt said the people could probably go back to the days of soup kitchens by voting for Bryan, and Hanna said that McKinley was as good as elected and he (Hanna) was out of a job. All the democratic issues had vanished into thin air—hot air. (Laughter.) A delegation of ladies almost literally filled Roosevelt's car with flowers.

Roosevelt spoke to 9,000 in the coliseum tonight and 6,000 in the First regiment armory, after being escorted from the train by the rough rider regiment.

TERRIBLE BOILER EXPLOSION KILLS SEVEN PERSONS

Wealthy Negro Farmer and His Children the Victims.

Dallas, Oct. 6.—Yesterday afternoon a cotton gin at Winkfield's plantation near Flatonia was blown up by a boiler explosion. Five children of George Winkfields were blown to atoms. Mr. Winkfields and foreman, Henry McMillen, were so badly scalded that they died this afternoon. The bodies of the children were hurled into a hog lot and the hogs devoured a large portion of the remains. The portions left were gathered up and buried in one grave. All the parties were negroes, Winkfields being a wealthy negro farmer. His children were playing near the gin when the accident occurred.

THE PASSENGER STEAMSHIP DEUTSCHLAND ASHORE

London, Oct. 6.—The Hamburg American liner Deutschland, Captain Albers, which sailed from Hamburg this afternoon for New York, went ashore at Pagensend, which is six hours' steaming from Cuxhaven. Two hundred first class, 400 second class and 500 steerage passengers were aboard in addition to the crew aboard the ship.

ATTEMPTED LYNCHING

Bowling Green, Ohio, Oct. 6.—Frank Bushong assaulted Ruth Cottrell, aged eight years, at Walker today. She is the daughter of a railroad man. Bushong was caught by a train crew at North Baltimore who tied a rope around his neck and to an engine. Engineer Woodruff started the engine, intending to jerk Bushong's head off, when an officer cut the rope and deputies threw him into a wagon and lashed the horses into a gallop for Bowling Green. A big mob formed at North Baltimore and procured straw, pine boxes, boards, etc., with the intention of burning Bushong. The mob is now said to be on the way here. Bushong is in jail, strongly guarded.

ANOTHER COLLISION.

New York, Oct. 6.—The Morgan line steamer Elmotte, which arrived today from New Orleans, reports having been in collision with the British steamer Rappanhanock, bound from Liverpool for Newport News. The collision occurred yesterday in latitude 37.40; longitude 74.33. A dense fog prevailed at the time. The Elmotte had her bow stove in and some plate on the starboard bow. The stem showed a deep indentation and a sail was hanging across the bow to prevent water coming in. Nothing was learned as to the damage to the Rappanhanock. After the collision she steamed westward toward Cape Henry and the Elmotte proceeded on her course.

CARNIVAL CONTINUES

Bristol, Tenn., Oct. 6.—The second day of Bristol's fall carnival and trades display was an even greater success than the first. Great throngs of people almost made the streets impassable early in the afternoon by the time the flower parade was due to start, and it is estimated that the visitors in the city yesterday afternoon numbered at least 5,000, and today at least 10,000 are expected.
Last night the grand illuminated parade and carnival ball were held. Both were beautiful and exceedingly well carried out. A number of events enlivened the evening.

PREACHER COMMITS SUICIDE.

Jasper, Tenn., Oct. 6.—Rev. B. J. Pietle, a Cumberland Presbyterian minister, committed suicide this morning in the Presbyterian church in this place by hanging himself to the bell rope. Despondency owing to lack of work is supposed to be the cause. He leaves a wife and three children. He was about 45 years of age and had been at this place about one year.

COL. BRYAN'S CAMPAIGN

Incessant Shower of Oratory Throughout the Western States.

Crocker's Candidate Declaims Against the Trusts.

Says it is Wrong "to Steal Twelve Hundred Islands."

Talks This Kind of Nonsense to College Students.

TRIES TO SCARE THE YOUNG MEN WITH THE NEW CALAMITY BUG-ABOOS—WOULD GIVE TO FILIPINOS LIBERTY AND STAND BY THEM "LIKE AN OLDER BROTHER."

Indianapolis, Oct. 6.—The Bryan train pulled out of Indianapolis union depot this morning at 7 o'clock for the second day of the presidential candidate's tour of the state. National Committeeman Taggart was a member of the escorting party today. The first stop was made at Plainfield, Hendricks county, on the Vandavia line at 7:30. Here Mr. Bryan spoke for only five minutes. He discussed trusts and told the people that they had the remedy for them in their own hands. Referring to the Philippine islands he said that if it was not right for one man to steal a pocketbook it was not right for many men to steal twelve hundred islands. The crowd was not large but it cheered lustily as the train left for Greencastle, the next stopping place.

Greencastle, the seat of the DePauw university, and a strong democratic center was reached while Mr. Bryan was at breakfast. He had just finished his cantaloupe and oatmeal when the place was announced, but he left the table good naturedly and went to speak to the people who had congregated in large numbers.
He addressed himself especially to the university students, saying that he was pleased to talk to young men, as he thought the present conditions such as should appeal especially to them. He warned them against trusts as calculated by their combinations and manipulations to materially reduce the opportunities of the rising generation if not to destroy the chances of many of them. Any system calculated to curtail the opportunities for individual endeavor and condemn the bulk of the aspiring young men of the country to perpetual clerkships was, Mr. Bryan said, to be condemned. He also spoke of the increase of the standing army and the tendency to imperialism as subjects in which the youth of the land are especially interested. Referring to the possibilities in case of permanent extension of our government to the Philippines Mr. Bryan asked: "If the carpet baggers steal in Cuba, only 200 miles away, what cannot be expected of them in the Philippines, 7,000 miles distant?"
"There," he declared you can't raise people by sitting down on them," and pleaded that the Filipinos should be given a fair chance in the race of life. He declared that the republicans have no plan for the Philippines.
"Republicans, your president has no plan," he said, "your cabinet has no plan, your congress has no plan; your editors have no plan, you have no plan, search your head, search your hearts, you know you have no plans that you would even dare tell your neighbor." On the contrary, he said, the democrats had a well defined plan. They would have the Filipinos treated as the pres-
