THE DEMANDS OF THE MINERS

Only Slight Concessions Asked Beyond Offer of the Operators.

If Latter Do not Agree Arbitration Proposed.

Pay Day and Company Store Question Passed Over.

Meeting of the Operators Will be Held Immediately.

CONVENTION RESULTED IN MORE PEACEFUL PROPOSALS THAN WAS GENERALLY EXPECTED AND SETTLEMENT OF STRIKE MAY FOLLOW SOON.

Scranton, Oct. 13.—The Mine Workers' convention adjourned this afternoon after adopting a series of resolutions embodying the conditions under which miners agree to accept the operators' offers of ten per cent. advance. The resolutions provide that the operators must continue the payment of the advance until April 1, 1901, and abolish the sliding scale in Schuylkill and Lehigh regions, making the scale stationary at ten per cent. above the present basis of price. Should this proposition prove unacceptable the resolutions propose that all questions at issue be submitted to an impartial board of arbitration. In conclusion the resolutions recommend there be no resumption of work until these propositions are accepted.

The questions of semi-monthly pay and abolishing company stores were passed over, it being decided that remedies for both are found in the laws of Pennsylvania and efforts may be made to see that they are enforced.

None of the operators' views could be ascertained tonight, as many of them are in New York attending a conference, and others are noncommittal. It is generally believed, however, that the slight concessions asked for will be accepted. It is generally understood that a meeting of operators will be held at once.

NATIONAL ISSUES CLEARLY DISGUISED

Senator Pritchard's Speech at Jonesboro.

Senator Pritchard in his speech at Jonesboro, Tenn., discussing national issues, a portion of which appeared in yesterday's Gazette, said:

In 1896 Mr. Bryan said that the paramount issue was the free and unlimited coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1, and that there could be no improvement until his theory was adopted. Now that we have seen a general improvement in every branch of industry and have witnessed an increase in the circulating medium that is phenomenal we are forced to the conclusion that Mr. Bryan was mistaken in 1896. In order to divert attention from the many inaccurate statements that were made by the leaders of the democratic party four years ago we are gravely informed that a new issue has arisen, and that it is paramount to all others. In 1896 the cry of 16 to 1 was raised for the purpose of diverting attention from the fact that the enactment of the Wilson-Gorman tariff law had resulted so disastrously for the business interests of the country, and now that we have had a complete reversal of our economic policy and the re-enactment of republican legislation along the lines of protection, which has produced such favorable results, we are again invited by our democratic friends to follow after them in the consideration of a question which in reality does not exist and about which there has been so much misrepresentation. It is well enough for the American people to bear in mind at all times that at each period in the history of our country when we have suffered in consequence of unwise legislation, that in nine cases out of ten was attributable to unfriendly tariff legislation, while on the other hand you may take any period that you will in the history of this nation when we have had great prosperity, and you will find that back of it was sound, wholesome protective tariff legislation.

Mr. Bryan, in a speech in congress in 1894, in advocacy of the passage of the Wilson-Gorman tariff law, among other things said:

"What I denounce is a protective tariff. It is false economy, and the most vicious political principle that has ever cursed the country."

Here is a statement as to the meaning of which there can be no controversy. Mr. Bryan denounced the tariff because of its protective features. He voted for the adoption of the Wilson-Gorman tariff bill, a measure which resulted in bringing about more disasters and demoralization in this country than any measure that has been passed since the civil war. If he was correct in 1894 in saying that protection was a "vicious political principle," is it not fair to assume that if he should be elected president of the United States among other things it would be his duty as an honest, conscientious man to use all means in his power to secure a repeal of the existing tariff legislation and the enactment of a law which has free trade for its object? Are the American people prepared for such a result? If they are it is their duty to vote the democratic ticket; while, on the other hand, if we should decide that it is best to let well enough alone and that we should strive to make permanent the conditions that now obtain throughout the country, it is the duty of all citizens to vote the republican ticket. This is a clean-cut proposition which cannot be evaded and must be met squarely by the American people. The views entertained by Mr. Bryan with respect to the principles of protection are sufficient to cause us to view with alarm the possibility of democratic ascendancy in the nation.

Our democratic friends seek to raise an issue by alleging that the republican party is in favor of the trusts, and that they, on the other hand, are in favor of legislating so as to prevent unlawful combinations. The republican party has always been in favor of legislating so as to prevent the creation of unlawful combinations. A republican congress enacted the Sherman anti-trust law, and in almost every state wherein the republicans have been in control they have enacted legislation along the same line.

A few months ago, speaking at the Chicago anti-trust conference, Mr. Bryan said:

"I BELIEVE THAT CONGRESS HAS, OR SHOULD HAVE, THE POWER TO PLACE RESTRICTIONS AND LIMITATIONS, EVEN TO THE POINT OF PROHIBITION, UPON ANY CORPORATION ORGANIZED IN ONE STATE THAT WANTS TO DO BUSINESS OUTSIDE OF THE STATE. I AM IN FAVOR OF AN AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION THAT WILL GIVE TO CONGRESS POWER TO DESTROY EVERY TRUST IN THE COUNTRY."

Thus Mr. Bryan, in plain and unequivocal language, admits that congressional legislation is the only method by which we can effectively deal with this question. It is admitted by the best lawyers of the country that it is necessary that we should amend the constitution of the United States so as to empower congress to pass legislation that will apply to every state alike, and being anxious to give the people relief in this particular, the republicans of the house of representatives prepared the following amendment to our constitution:

"ARTICLE XVI.
"Section 1. All powers conferred by this article shall extend to the several states, the territories, the District of Columbia, and all territory under the sovereignty and subject to the jurisdiction of the United States.

"Section 2. Congress shall have power to define, regulate, prohibit or dissolve trusts, monopolies or combinations, whether existing in the form of a corporation or otherwise.

"The several states may continue to exercise such power in any manner not in conflict with the laws of the United States.

"Section 3. Congress shall have power to enforce the provisions of this article by appropriate legislation."

The attitude of the democratic party with respect to the control of trusts is clearly indicated by the vote which was had on the foregoing amendment in the house of representatives on the first day of June, 1900. There were 154 yeas, of which 150 were republicans, and there were 132 nays, of which 130 were democrats and populists. Thus the resolution failed to pass, owing to the fact that a two-thirds vote is required on a proposed constitutional amendment; and for its rejection the democratic members are responsible. If Mr. Bryan is anxious to secure the adoption of his theory with respect to the trust question it is necessary that he should do some missionary work among the democratic members of congress. The republicans are ready and willing to meet Mr. Bryan on the half way ground in his efforts to suppress unlawful combinations, and he has only to secure a sufficient number of democrats to give us a two-thirds majority in the house of representatives in order that our constitution may be amended so as to enable us to effectually suppress any such combinations that may be in existence. It is not every combination of capital that is an unlawful one, because without combinations of capital it would be impossible to develop the wonderful resources of our southern country.

MILNER STARTS FOR CAPETOWN

His Mission Simplified by the Recent Elections Possible Cabinet Changes.

London, Oct. 13.—Two events today mark the opening of Salisbury's government under the new parliament. Sir Alfred Milner starts for Capetown to initiate civil administration for the Transvaal, and Salisbury and Balfour received visits at the foreign office from influential party advisers. Recent elections simplify Sir Alfred's mission, as there is now no opposition to his policy of establishing a crown colony with an administration similar to that of Ceylon and the West Indies until the elective elements share in the control. His temperament is anti-military, and it is certain that he will seek the quickest relief from the present irritating incompetence of junior officers holding magisterial positions.

The second event, that of Salisbury's visitors, gives a clue of possible cabinet changes. Those who expect sensational reorganization will be disappointed. Lord George Hamilton, the present secretary of state for India, may be transferred to the admiralty, and Lord Lansdowne may be transferred from the war office to the India office. In that event, Right Hon. William Hanbury, financial secretary of the treasury, will be promoted to be minister of war.

ROOSEVELT DENOUNCES GOBELISM AT LOUISVILLE

Rowdies at Elizabethtown Attempt to Break up Meeting

Louisville, Oct. 13.—Roosevelt has had a peaceful tour of Kentucky today, except at Elizabethtown, where a band of rowdies attempted to break up the meeting. The other meetings were quiet and not marked by an extreme display of feeling either way. The audiences were small in the towns where Bryan and Beckham had large crowds. In Louisville, however, considerable enthusiasm was shown, and over 3,000 heard the governor denounce Gobelism.

BIG BRANDY SEIZURE.

Revenue Officers Take Possession of Orey's Rectifying House.

Salisbury, Oct. 13.—One of the biggest seizures on record in this county was made last night by T. C. McCoy, P. H. Thrash and J. C. Freeman of the revenue force. The articles seized were four horses, two mules, three covered wagons, twelve barrels (550 gallons) of brandy and D. L. Arey's rectifying house.

The officers had an intimation that there would be some illicit spirits delivered on these premises last night and the officers laid in wait in the bushes. About 8 o'clock three wagons drove up and began unloading at Mr. Arey's rectifying house.

The officers pounced upon the whole outfit, seizing the teams, brandy and rectifying house. The drivers fled to the woods. None of the barrels had stamps on them. It is thought that the teams came from Davie county.

Six Cities Reported to be Occupied by Rebels.

Li Hung Chang Has at Last Arrived in Peking.

Strong Expedition of Allies Leave Tien Tsin to Dislodge Boxers.

THE PURPOSE OF THE FORCE IS ALSO TO RESCUE A BAND OF FOREIGNERS SUPPOSED TO BE AT PAOTING FU.

London, Oct. 13.—There is reason to believe that the foreign office yesterday received satisfactory news from Peking, indicating the early return of the emperor and court to the capital, while the dowager empress remains at Singan Fu. If this is correct it means also that the emperor has plucked up courage to arrest Tuan and drag him to Peking for public execution. Salisbury is still silent as to his Chinese policy. The country has resigned itself and is expecting a somewhat inglorious position there.

TO RESCUE FOREIGNERS.

Peking, Oct. 10.—Li Hung Chang has arrived here. An expedition of 4,000 British, Germans, French and Italians leaves for Paoting Fu tomorrow. It is expected that 7,000 men will leave Tien Tsin for the same point at the same time. The purpose is to dislodge the Boxers and rescue a band of foreigners supposed to be there. Two American staff officers will accompany the expedition.

THREATENING CONDITIONS.

Berlin, Oct. 12.—A Shanghai dispatch says that foreign warships have been strengthened, owing to the threatening conditions in the southern provinces. Tien Tsin dispatches say that the expedition to Paoting Fu is regarded as a strategic movement on Singan Fu, and will be followed by another from Hankow to cut off the capital from the sources of supplies.

The rebels have massed 10,000 men in Szechuan and are marching towards Huchou Fu. It is reported that they have been victorious over Admiral Ho, who lost forty killed and many prisoners. Six cities in Wuchow prefecture have been occupied by the rebels and the situation is serious.

BURGLARS BLEW OPEN A SAFE AT SALUDA

Robbed the Store of R. L. Garren of Cash and Escaped.

Special to the Gazette.

Saluda, N. C., Oct. 13.—Last night some professional safe blowers went into the store of R. L. Garren and blew open the safe and stole therefrom $167 and some other money belonging to the postmaster, private funds. This is one of the most daring robberies that has ever been committed in this section of the country. They drilled a hole and blew the safe door into fragments. There were a lot of checks in the safe, amounting to $85, which the thieves left exposed in front of the safe. They entered the store by using a key which fitted the front door. No trace as to the thieves' identity has yet been discovered.
