GOLD SHOULDER FOR MRS. NATION

Fined and Ordered to Leave Kansas City Mo. and Not to Return.

She Was Arrested and Convicted for Obstructing the Sidewalk.

TOLD SHE WILL GO TO JAIL IF SHE COMES BACK

MADE A CHARACTERISTIC ANSWER TO POLICEMAN'S TESTIMONY WHEN IN COURT—HER IDEA OF KANSAS CITY.

Kansas City, April 15.—Mrs. Carrie Nation, who was arrested yesterday charged with obstructing the street, was arraigned before Police Justice McAuley this morning, fined fifty dollars and given until 6 o'clock this evening to leave the city. The judge warned Mrs. Nation if she was found in the city after that hour she would be arrested and placed in jail. She agreed to leave town and fifteen minutes later boarded a street car for Kansas City. "The fine will be held over Mrs. Nation in case she should return to the city until she is released from the court's order she practically barred from visiting Kansas City."

Mrs. Nation pleaded that she wished to go to Liberty, Mo., within a few days and asked if she would be permitted to pass through Kansas City route. Judge McAuley answered in the affirmative but warned Mrs. Nation not to stop off here.

Mrs. Nation appeared in court early accompanied by her brother and a woman friend. The court room was literally jammed with people and the people filled the doorway and crowded the hall. Several cases were called before Mrs. Nation's, and she watched the proceedings with manifest impatience. When Judge McAuley finally asked Mrs. Nation what she had to say to the charges against her the little woman instantly arose and delivered herself of a fierce tirade against the police and the court. She pleaded that she was merely waiting for a car when arrested, and was making the best of her time in the meantime by talking to the crowd that had gathered.

"There was no car in sight," she snapped, "and I want you to know that I am a lady and tell the truth."

Judge McAuley then gave his decision and warned Mrs. Nation not to come to town again.

"Missouri atmosphere," said the judge, "is not adapted for long-haired men, short-haired women and whistling girls."

The crowd clapped loudly at the decision.

Mrs. Nation submitted mildly and promised to leave the city immediately, remarking that "the town was filled with overhanging with hell broth."

A crowd of several hundred followed the joint smasher as she left the court room and made for car, and soon saw her start for the Kansas side.

Game Characterized by Heavy Hitting and Brilliant Plays.

THE SCORE WASTEN TO NINE IN THE NINTH.

TEAMS WERE QUITE EVENLY MATCHED FOR THE CONTEST—CAROLINA TO PLAY UNIVERSITY OF VIRGINIA ON SATURDAY.

Special to the Gazette.

Chapel Hill, N. C., April 15.—In a magnificent game of ball today, that was characterized by heavy hitting and brilliant playing by both teams, Carolina defeated Cornell by a score of 10 to nine, winning out in the ninth inning. At no time was the game dull, but was full of excitement from start to finish. The teams were quite evenly matched, though the State unite side had the advantage up to the seventh inning.

The score was: North Carolina, 10 runs, 17 hits, 7 errors; Cornell, 9 runs, 11 hits, 4 errors. Struck out: By Cunningham 4, Harrington 3, Bristol 1.

Features of the game were the fielding of Carr, the catching of Graves and the batting of Smathers, Donnelly and Carr for Carolina, while for the visitors Robertson and Costello played star ball. The batteries for Carolina were Cunningham, Harrington and Graves; for Cornell, Bristol and Whinnery. The umpire was Mead.

THE STREET CARNIVAL OPENS IN THIS CITY

The street carnival, which is in Asheville for the week will be in full blast today. Yesterday it established itself on the public square, and monopolized the attention of some hundred persons. The work of placing the tents, Ferris' wheel, diving tower, etc., began early in the day, and by noon the public square was as it never was before. The oldest inhabitant could not for the moment remember anything to equal the transformation. The habitations of the carnival shows cover half the street on two sides of the square. The Ferris wheel rises in its graceful network of iron where the old electric tower stood facing Patton avenue. In front of the court house, slender as the frame of a kite, is the high tower from which a diver makes his plunge into a tank below. In the afternoon the carnival had begun to make itself heard as well as seen. The band played, a hum of voices rose from the eddying crowds, mock roosters in the hands of Bingham boys crowed, toot horns tooted and the whinnie man, in new duck raiment looked hopeful, in spite of the peanut and confetti stands that were beginning to bloom. The knights of rest were all out, wooed by the sunshine and the spectacle. They formed the still life of the picture, while everything else was in active motion. A crowd is a great sight—and a mixed crowd, a mixed sight. In the late afternoon all kinds—on foot and in carriages—were on the square, in windows and on cross bars of telegraph poles.

The daring dive of the men from the tower—from a height at which he looked square into the face of the old court house clock, a dozen feet away from its solemn visage—grouched these crowds into a vast lump—a mass of human faces into which the pink clothed acrobat gazed from his perch at the top of the slender scaffold. Speedy, the man in the pink tights, a splendidly developed fellow, dangled long before he took the fearful plunge. He joked with the crowd. Meanwhile the sidewalks became lined with people, windows filled with faces, street cars were reluctant to move at the striking of the clock. One of the carnival men told of the greatness of the feat to be performed and advertised it for the coming exhibitions. Then the pink athlete, loosing his silken belt so that its ends waved in the breeze, raised his hand for silence and delivered a speech to the crowd. To many not the least daring part of his performance was his nerve to talk calmly (but vigorously) on that dizzy pinnacle, on a platform but little bigger than his feet. He challenged criticisms of the carnival, offering $1,000 reward to any one who would find an immoral feature connected with it. There he waved for silence, clatter of voices, business and street car bells ceased and he took the dive—a flash of pink through the air straight as a cannon ball, a splash in the tank at the foot of the scaffolding and the dripping diver was clamboring over the wave washed edge of the tank. It was certainly a splendid feat, gracefully performed—a free show, worth a good price of admission to those who admire a nifty act.

Last night the scene on the square was a gay one—marred only by the failure of the city incandescent lights at nine o'clock. The Ferris wheel was moving, there was music in the air, crowds and entertainments in two of the tents, before which torches blazed when the electric lights failed. At 10 o'clock the carnival had closed for the night and in ten minutes, the lights out and the music ceased, the square resumed its wonted quiet.

The following letter, in connection with the carnival, is self-explanatory: (Continued on fourth page)

PROGRESS OF COMMISSARY SCANDAL INVESTIGATION

Some Damaging Testimony Against The Accused Persons.

Manila, April 15.—The case of Sergeant Weston in the commissary scandal investigation has been closed. The defense offered was that the sergeant erased certain entries in consolidating the accounts, in order to expedite the work, and that this was a customary practice. Some witnesses gave damaging evidence against the accused persons and it is evident there have been many irregularities. Captain Read of the commissary department has been placed under arrest by the military authorities.

Ronagajoli's Mission Supposed to be to Kill Emperor William.

Berlin, April 15.—The Montag Zeitung says the entire German police force, especially at the seaports are eagerly watching for the anarchist Romagnoli, who is said to be on his way to Germany. It is reported he is entrusted by an anarchist club at Buenos Ayres with the commission of a great crime in Germany, which is assumed to be an attempt on the life of the emperor.

THE POPE'S SORROW.

Paris, April 15.—A dispatch received here from Rome says the pope at today's consistory expressed great affliction at the simultaneous revival in several parts of Europe of hostilities against the church. He also spoke with sadness of the law against religious associations in France, which had not deserved a calamity. The pontiff also dealt on the incompetency of a country which proclaims liberty for all, while refusing even the existence of associations whose members made a profession of practicing the precepts of the gospel. He spoke of the recent tumultuous demonstrations in Spain and Portugal, which had aroused apprehension, that even worse events were in store for Italy. The pope then alluded to the painful position in which the papacy was kept and referred particularly to the divorce bill, which will probably be submitted to parliament.

WAR STAMP TAX DECLARED INVALID

Washington, April 15.—The tax of ten cents on export bills of lading, imposed under the war revenue law, was today declared invalid by the Supreme court by a bare majority. Judge Brewer delivered the opinion declaring the tax invalid on the ground that the stamp tax on a foreign bill of lading is equivalent to a tax on articles included in the bill of lading, and therefore a tax duty on exports, and in conflict with the constitutional prohibition.

"Every woman is beautiful at some time of her life."

—Victor Hugo.

Every woman is more beautiful in some lights and positions than others. We find the most becoming light and position when we make your portrait. We try to find the most becoming expression (the natural one), but there is where we are dependent upon your help. We have a pencil that will work wonders in straightening irregular features and rounding thin bosoms. Our pictures for 1901 shall be better than ever before.
