

NO INSPECTION OF REGISTRATION BOOKS

Registrars Have Orders From Some Mysterious "Person or Persons Unknown."

SOME OF THEM ARE OBEYING ORDERS

Mr. Webb Says Books Cannot be Opened by Law Until Saturday Before Election.

Having heard that Charles A. Webb, chairman of the democratic executive committee, had instructed the registrars of the city not to allow the executive committee of the citizens' ticket to examine the registration books...

Mr. Webb said, among other things, "I have repeatedly told you that the election law says the books shall not be opened for inspection until the last Saturday before the election, which is the last day for registration, and that I shall not give my consent for the registrars to let anyone see the books until that day. I have not time to discuss the matter with you any further."

Mr. Webb said, among other things, "I have repeatedly told you that the election law says the books shall not be opened for inspection until the last Saturday before the election, which is the last day for registration, and that I shall not give my consent for the registrars to let anyone see the books until that day. I have not time to discuss the matter with you any further."

"I understand you to say that you have given no orders to Sudderth or any other registrar to refuse to allow the registration books to be inspected?" He was asked. "I have given no such orders," replied Mr. Webb.

J. B. Powell, registrar for the seventh precinct, was seen later, at his home. Can we see your registration books?" asked Mr. Durham. "No one is allowed to inspect them," said he.

"Why not?" "I have had instructions to that effect," replied Mr. Powell. "From whom did those instructions come?" "I don't know."

"Who gave them to you?" "I don't remember."

The Gazette representative then went, with Mr. Durham, to see J. B. Sudderth, registrar for the sixth precinct. Mr. Sudderth was found in his store, at Patton avenue and West Haywood. Mr. Sudderth became "boss-tie" in about two-fifths of a second. Mr. Durham asked him very courteously about seeing the books. "I've told you you can't see them," said he. "I've got nothing more to say."

"Why can't we see them?" said Mr. Durham. "It's agin' the rules."

"Who objects to it?" "I object."

"Sounds rather strange, does it? Well, maybe it does. Maybe it needs explanation. Now, if you can make me explain, do it. That's the only way you can get an explanation," and the registrar, who had all this time been moving restlessly about the store, disappeared up a stairway in the rear. Presently he returned, armed with a water sprinkler. He ignored his visitors, and began sprinkling the room. The presence of the sprinkler tended to discourage attempts at conversation, but Mr. Durham again managed to get within conversational range. "Did Mr. Webb give you orders not to allow the lists to be inspected?" he asked. Mr. Sudderth's reply to this was: "What is the use of asking that question, when you were here and heard it yourself?"

"I've got mighty few words for anybody. I don't want to talk to you. What do you come down here again for?"

The representative of the Gazette then said, "I'd like to see you a few minutes, Mr. Sudderth."

Well, I don't want to see you, and I ain't a-going to see you," was the polite reply.

NEWS OF THE STATE BY WAY OF RALEIGH

OFF FOR THE METHODIST GENERAL MISSION CONFERENCE.

The Smallpox Badly Scattered in the State—Dr. C. S. Blackwell May Re-sume the Call to Newport News—Youthful Convict—Funeral of the Late Colonel A. H. Belo—The Union Copper Mine Taken into the Trust.

Raleigh, N. C., April 22.—The North Carolina delegation to the Methodist general mission conference at New Orleans, left here this afternoon for New Orleans, where the session will be held from the 24th to the 30th in the Tule Hall. All the bishops of the church will be present, as well as prominent educators and missionary workers from other sections of the country. Books Washington will be one of the speakers and Dr. Southerland, of Canada, another. Among those who go from this State are Rev. H. B. Anderson, associate editor of the Christian Advocate; Rev. and Mrs. N. H. D. Wilson, of Maxton; Mr. Gibson, of Gibson's; and Rev. R. H. Willis, of Edenton.

Henry Watterson lectures here tonight on "Money and Morals." This is the first of a series of lectures in the Olivia Roney Library Course, a number of prominent orators having been engaged.

George Harris, a negro boy only fourteen years of age, has just been brought to the penitentiary from Person county, to serve a term of seven years for attempt to commit assault on the six-year-old daughter of Mr. R. L. Chappell, of that county. He is one of the youngest prisoners brought to the penitentiary recently.

The cases of small-pox at Hillsboro seem to have scattered the disease pretty widely. A few days ago Mrs. Graham, of that town, went to Newwood, Stanley county, to visit her married daughter, and was taken with the disease after her arrival there. Miss Bettie Walker, of West Durham, who had been visiting in Hillsboro, returned home, and soon after her return, was taken with the disease. It seems that proper precautions to prevent the spread of the disease were not taken at Hillsboro.

Mr. Hamilton Wright Mable, the noted New York essayist and one of the editors of The Outlook, is to deliver the commencement address at Trinity College this year. Bishop Charles B. Galloway, of Mississippi, will preach the commencement sermon. Bishop Galloway has been selected to preach the opening sermon at the ecumenical conference in London, which meets next September, one of the greatest honors ever paid an American minister. Dr. Dred Peacock, of Greensboro Female College, will deliver the alumni address, and Lieutenant-Governor Turner will preside over the meeting of the association.

General J. S. Carr has gone to Memphis to make arrangements for the entertainment of the North Carolina contingent at the Confederate reunion.

Up to the present time nine schools in Durham county have raised the funds for the establishment of school libraries.

It is understood that Dr. C. S. Blackwell, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Wilmington, will refuse the tempting call to the church at Newport News, Va. The congregation of the Wilmington church had a special committee appointed to ask the Newport News church to withdraw its call. Dr. Blackwell had written the Virginia church that he saw no human reason why he should not accept the call, and this action was taken to relieve him from any possible embarrassment.

Lieutenant Bradley Wooten is expected to arrive home from the Philippines to-day or to-morrow. He is a graduate of the Agricultural and Mechanical College, served in the Cuban campaign, and has been for two years a young officer, and is warmly welcomed home. He is a son of Rev. Edward Wooten, of Wilmington, and will go at once to his home to visit his parents.

The new sea-wall at Fort Caswell weathered last night's severe storm without any signs of weakening.

B. A. Johnson, one of the leading professors in Livingstone College, the colored institution at Salisbury, is dead. He was well educated and a valuable member of his race.

The Carolina Pythian, the organ of the Knights of Pythias in this State, issues a handsome souvenir number in honor of the Grand Lodge meeting, which occurs in Greensboro Wednesday of this week. There are no ninety-four active lodges in this State, and the order is growing rapidly, especially among the young men. Mr. George W. Montcastle, of Lexington, is grand chancellor. The sessions will be held from the 23d to 25th. The lodge at Newton is the last to be instituted.

The Union copper mine near Salisbury, has been taken into the trust, it is understood. The stock has varied from $1 to $80 a share as a curb stock, and it is hoped that this move will make the securities more stable. The mine is very promising, but copper has not yet been marketed in sufficient quantities to make the investment a paying one.

John D. Rockefeller, Jr., was one of the delegates to the educational conference at Winston last week. He is greatly interested in education in the South.

The funeral of the late Colonel A. H. Belo was held from the residence of his brother-in-law, Mr. J. C. Buxton, in Salem, yesterday afternoon. His fortune is said to amount to nearly a million dollars, a large part of it accumulated in his newspaper enterprises in Texas. He was generally regarded as the most successful newspaper man in the South as ever produced.

The Southern Workman declares that President Samuel Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor, has not been in this State, and says he does not organize separate branches of labor, but is the head of all the orders combined.

It has not yet been decided that North Carolina will make a tobacco exhibit at Charleston.

THE RIGHT TO QUARANTINE. A State has the Right to Protect Itself Against Infectious Disease Even Though Commerce May be Interfered With.

Washington, April 22.—The attention of the United States Supreme Court was given to-day largely to the question of the right of one State to quarantine against another. The contention arose in connection with the case of W. P. Smith vs. the St. Louis and Southwestern Railroad Company involving quarantine regulations against the importation of cattle in 1897. The cattle shipment upon which this case turned was made by Smith over the St. Louis road from Plaindealing, La., to Fort Worth, Tex., the officials of the road being unaware that a quarantine had been established, as had been done by the Texas officials. When the existence of this restriction became known to the railroad company it refused to deliver the stock to the consignee and reshipped them to Plaindealing. There Smith refused to receive them as he also did the proceeds of their sale. Smith then brought suit for damages, claiming that the regulations were an interference with interstate commerce and unjustified by the facts. The trial court sustained this regulation, but the State Court of Appeals reversed the decision holding in favor of the railroad company. To-day's opinion affirmed the latter decision on the ground that the State had a right to its police power to protect itself against infectious disease even though commerce may be incidentally interfered with by the regulations for such protection. Justices Harlan and White united in a dissenting opinion and Justice Brown delivered a dissenting opinion of his own.

THE REPORT DENIED. No Foundation for the Attempted Consolidation of the New England and Southern Print Cloth Mills.

Fall River, Mass., April 22.—No little stir was made here to-day by published statements that a further attempt to consolidate the print cloth mills of New England and the Southern States was on foot and that J. P. Morgan & Company, of New York, were behind the movement. Inquiry made quite generally among the men who are in control of many of the local mills, or represent the big manufacturing properties to-night brought out almost unanimous statement that the reports have no foundation in fact. The cotton mills here are ready for consolidation, but not more so now than at any time during the past two years, in which time the subject has received much attention. It was directly stated in one publication that an option had been given for the American Printing Company and the Fall River Iron Works mills in pursuance of the plan, but representatives of those interests deny any knowledge of such a transaction and ridicule its probability under the present prosperous condition of the cloth market.

Inquiry among the largest stockholders and the prominent bankers who were interested in the previous consolidation movement shows that no one here having authority to act for the controlling interest has been interviewed on the subject. The men who were prominent in trying to effect a consolidation two years ago and those who were trying to prevent it, agree that the rumor at this time started in the South because of a plan to bring the mills there under a general control. The mills spoken prominent in the plan include the Goddards, of Rhode Island, and M. C. D. Borden.

QUEEN WILHELMINA VERY ANGRY. London, April 22.—Special dispatches received here from Paris report trouble at the castle of Het Loo over the bachelor debts of Prince Henry, the husband of Queen Wilhelmina. It is said that shortly prior to his marriage he promised his creditors in Berlin and Frankfurt to pay one-third of his debts within a month of the wedding, but the money has not yet been forthcoming and the money lenders formally applied to Queen Wilhelmina. The latter declares her husband must pay his own debts out of the allowance made for him by the state. It is now said the creditors have formed a syndicate and propose to negotiate the Prince Consort's paper on the Amsterdam bourse, and Queen Wilhelmina is reported to be very angry.

THE NUMBER OF MISSIONARIES KILLED IN CHINA. Washington, April 22.—Figures received at the State Department compiled by J. W. Stevenson, director of the Chinese inland mission, showed that the total number of foreign missionaries killed in China during the recent disturbances, including the children, was 186. Of these twenty-eight adults and eight children were Americans.

F. M. MILLER AT HEAD OF TICKET

Named by Executive Committee in Place of W. A. Boyce.

THE LATTER WILL SUPPORT TICKET.

Statement False that He Objected to Personnel of the Convention.

W. A. Boyce, who has declined to make the race for mayor of Asheville on the citizens' ticket, yesterday stated the following facts very emphatically: He declined to accept the nomination simply for the reason that he felt he could not perform the duties of the office without neglecting his business; he has been and is heartily in favor of a non-partisan ticket; he will support the citizens' ticket; he considers that the convention was in no sense a republican convention, but that it was a non-partisan convention; he considers the ticket which has been put in the field a non-partisan ticket and not a republican ticket.

In obedience to a resolution adopted by the citizens' convention Monday evening, Captain T. W. Patton, the chairman of the meeting, yesterday appointed an executive committee, after consultation with the candidates.

The following were named: first precinct, Leroy Bask, H. C. Jones; second, V. S. Lusk, M. L. Hallett; third, J. L. Wagner, T. W. Patton; fourth, J. B. Whitesides, E. L. Brown, Jr.; fifth, R. B. Roberts, E. B. Stradley; sixth, E. T. Rhineheart, J. S. West; seventh, W. T. Justice, J. H. Brooks; eighth, J. C. Deaver, W. D. Simmons; ninth, T. J. Harkins, Jr., Charlie Lomnac.

The committee immediately met and organized by electing A. C. Durham chairman and E. L. Brown, secretary. It is to be understood that the chairman "has the authority, and that it is a part of his duty, to increase the number of this committee, to fill any vacancies that may occur, and to do all other things that in his opinion are calculated to promote the object of said meeting, to-wit: to secure a non-partisan, business administration of the affairs of this city."

T. P. Johnson was appointed in the place of V. S. Lusk, W. A. Hildebrand instead of J. L. Wagner, and J. S. West instead of E. T. Rhineheart. The committee was informed by W. A. Boyce, who was nominated for mayor Monday evening, that he could not accept. Mr. Boyce's reasons were set forth as follows by letter: "After giving the committee who waited on me last night, announcing my nomination for mayor, to understand that I would serve to the best of my ability if elected, I have gone over the matter carefully from every standpoint and find that it would be utterly impossible for me to serve if elected, knowing as I do the nature of my business and the time it requires, it is easy for me to see that if elected I would have to resign."

"For this reason I must say candidly that I cannot make the race, as I feel that a resignation after being elected, knowing beforehand that I could not serve, would not be an honorable way of disposing of the responsibilities of the office. Thinking all my friends for the honor conferred on me, I am very respectfully, W. A. BOYCE, Asheville, April 23."

The committee filled the vacancy by placing F. M. Miller at the head of the ticket, and Charles W. Baird in place of Mr. Miller as candidate for alderman at large.

An active and vigorous campaign has already been inaugurated. One of the most important duties before the executive committee is to see that their forces are registered properly. Voters can register any day this week between 9 a. m. and 5 p. m., but to do so on any day except Saturday they must visit the residence or place of business of the registrar. An unexpected difficulty has arisen. Some of the registrars refuse to allow the committee to inspect their books for the purpose of ascertaining who is registered and who is not. Herebefore registration lists might be had by payment of one cent per name. Another question that is not fully settled is as to the act under which the election will be held.

The attention of W. A. Boyce was called to the following paragraph of what purports to be an interview with Charles A. Webb, chairman of the democratic executive committee, which was published in the Citizen yesterday afternoon: "Anyone could plainly see that it was a republican meeting and I am not surprised to learn that Mr. Boyce as soon as he ascertained the character of the supposed mass meeting has declined to accept the nomination. I remarked last night after the committee was appointed to modify Mr. Boyce that he would decline after he ascertained the personnel of the convention."

Mr. Boyce said: "You can say for me that the character of the supposed mass meeting as set forth by Mr. Webb has nothing whatever to do with my declining to accept the nomination. I have learned nothing of the personnel of the convention which leads me to suppose that it was other than what it purported to be—a convention of the citizens of Asheville, regardless of party politics, held for the purpose of selecting a non-partisan ticket. As to the ticket selected, it could hardly have been more fairly divided when you consider that in the selection of myself an avowed democrat was placed at the head of the ticket. Mr. Donnan is a democrat, and so is Charles G. Lee. I was also under the impression, when I declined to accept, that there was another democrat on the ticket. I feel sure that the entire ticket will be elected, and that, had I remained in it I would have been the next mayor of Asheville. My reason for declining is just as stated in a letter which was published in the Citizen. I feel that if elected the demands of my business would compel me to resign. I had no other motive for declining. I heartily favor the citizens' ticket and shall certainly support it."
