A MEDIEVAL CEREMONY

Royal Proclamation in London Announcing King Edward's Coronation.

Read by the Narrow King of Arms, After a Fanfare of Trumpets.

GORGEOUS PROCESSION THROUGH THE STREETS

THE CORONATION CEREMONIES TO TAKE PLACE NEXT JUNE BUT THE EXACT DATE IS NOT PROCLAIMED.

London, June 28.—The royal proclamation announcing that the coronation of King Edward is to take place in June next, the exact date not yet being determined upon, was read this morning at St. James' palace, temple bar and the royal exchange, with all the mediaeval pomp which marked the occasion of the proclamation of the ascension of the king. Today's ceremonial was unheralded, so the crush was not so great as on the previous occasion, but crowds quickly gathered from all directions and thronged the points at which the announcement was read. The ceremony began at St. James, where from the purple draped balcony of the palace, the narrow king of arms (William Henry Weldon), in a brilliant uniform, accompanied by the heralds and pursuivants in gorgeous tabards, and numerous state officials, read the proclamation.

At the appointed hour four state trumpeters lavishly adorned in gold embroidered tunics appeared in front of the balcony. By their sides stood the royal king of arms, flanked by two royal officers bearing gold maces, and surrounded by blue mantle (Gordon Ambrose de Lisle Lee), the rouge dragon (Everard Green), the somerset herald (Henry Furnham Burke), and the Windsor Herald (William Alexander Lindsay), all in their full official regalia, the earl marshal (the Duke of Norfolk), the lord steward (the Earl of Pembroke), the lord chamberlain (the Earl of Clarendon), and others. The trumpeters sounded a protracted fanfare, and then the narrow king of arms bared his head and read the proclamation in a clear voice, which must have been audible to the royal party occupying a stand on the grounds of Marlborough house, facing the balcony of the palace. King Edward wore an admiral's uniform. Queen Alexandra and the others of the royal party watched the ceremony with the greatest interest, using field glasses to obtain a clearer view.

As the narrow king of arms concluded with the words: "God save the king," the trumpeters again sounded a fanfare, the king in the meantime standing at the salute.

A procession was then formed, led by a detachment of the horse guards, five royal carriages, containing the heralds pursuivants and other officials, proceeded to the temple bar and the royal exchange, where the formalities, perhaps were repeated.

Lord Mayor Greene and the sheriffs met the procession at temple bar.

THE MASSACHUSETTS STRIKES A SCHOONER

Battleship Well Handled when Collision was Inevitable.

Worcester, Mass., June 28.—The schooner Ella, M. Doughty of Portland arrived today minus her bowsprit, which she had lost in a collision with the battleship Massachusetts yesterday near South Shoal lighthouse during a fog. When the battleship loomed up her prow was headed directly for the schooner. The lookout aboard the battleship sighted the schooner as soon as those on the schooner saw the battleship. The crew say the Massachusetts was admirably handled. She was only a short distance away but she obeyed the wheel quickly. Her prow, however, severed the schooner's bowsprit as clean as if done by a knife. The schooner's cutaway was also damaged. The crew were unanimous in declaring that the commander of the Massachusetts is a cool headed, thorough sailor.

Newport, June 28.—The battleship Massachusetts arrived here from Newburyport today.

SICKLES SHOWS HIS HAND AND IT IS A POOR ONE

His Letter from Scott Made No Such Promises as He Averred.

New York, June 28.—General Sickles gave out the correspondence today which passed between him and Solicitor Scott from whom Sickles declares he got the alleged promise to remove Pension Commissioner Evans. Sickles said he had been informed from Washington that Evans denied he had made any promise. Among the letters is one from Scott saying he hardly thought Evans would be continued as commissioner. It is on this letter that Sickles depends to substantiate his declaration that he received a promise from Scott for Evans' removal. Sickles is sore on the newspapers' attitude toward old soldiers and says if he was younger he would lead a column against the newspapers attacking the G. A. R.

FREER THOUGHT IN THE SOUTH

Ex-Secretary Herbert Makes a Plea for Independence in Politics.

Endorsed Administration's Policy in Its Insular Possessions.

HIS ADDRESS MADE TO BAR AND CONVENTION

DRAWN PARALLEL BETWEEN ATTITUDE OF GOVERNMENT TOWARD PEOPLE IN NEW ACQUISITIONS AND THE PURPOSES OF THE ALABAMA CONVENTION.

Montgomery, Ala., June 28.—Ex-Secretary of the Navy Herbert addressed the bar association and the constitutional convention today. His speech was mainly devoted to a plea for independence in southern politics. He declared that the south needed freer thought and freer action and that the time had come when no man should support the nominee of his party unless the platform and the man should support the nominee of his party unless the platform and the man met his approval. He particularly urged activity in party primaries and nominations. He endorsed the administration's insular policy and said it indicated the old southern doctrine that did not apply to inferior races like the negroes. He declared the present convention was endeavoring to prevent the participation of negroes in the government and it was on the same principle that the inferior people in the new acquisitions should not receive the full privilege of citizenship.

TO RESTRICT AUTOMOBILES

Paris, June 28.—The automobile accident yesterday in the Paris-Berlin race are causing an outcry, and Deputy Gauchier brought the matter up in the chamber of deputies today. He asked that measures be taken to stop running about at excessive speed, and said amid loud applause from the rightists, that it was a singular and saddening idea to organize a race to Berlin, passing through Bazilles and Sedan. The premier, M. Waldeck-Rousseau, replied that the race would not have been authorized if it had only been started for pleasure or sport. Regulations were about to be issued to control the speed of automobiles and henceforth no race would be authorized at a speed exceeding that used in normal traffic. The roads would no longer be placed at the disposition of automobile drivers. The statement was greeted with cheers.

BRITISH FLAG HAULED DOWN BY AN AMERICAN

An Incident at Skagway that Caused Much Excitement.

Vancouver, B. C., June 28.—Advice received here state that the British flag recently raised over the customs building at Skagway was hauled down by George Miller, brother of Joaquin Miller. After lowering the flag Miller rolled it up and threw it into the dirt. Col. Busby, the supervising officer, protested. Replying to him Miller said he had cut the flag down on his own authority and by virtue of the rights vested in every American citizen.

The incident caused much excitement. When the flag was first raised the United States consul protested, but Busby explained that it was not a national but a customs flag to show where the custom house was. This seemed to satisfy the consul.

NEGRO DESPERADO KILLS TWO OF HIS PURSUERS

Tager, W. Va., June 28.—A negro desperado named Price last night stabbed and killed two men and probably fatally wounded a third. Price insulted a white woman and a number of citizens pursued him with the intention of chastising him. He fled into a barroom and stabbed the first three that entered, with the above result. One of the pursuers shot the negro in the shoulder whereupon he jumped out of a rear window of the saloon and swam the Turriver to the Kentucky side. A constable subsequently captured him and placed him in the Welch, W. Va., jail. It is believed the negro will be lynched.

MARINES DENOUNCED

Commandant Schroeder of the Island of Guam, Says Hoodlumism and Lawlessness Are Rampant at the Station.

Washington, June 27.—The attention of the Navy Department has been formally called to what appears to be an unsatisfactory condition of affairs in Guam. The incoming mail has brought a copy of an order issued by the naval commandant of the island, Commander Seaton Schroeder, denouncing the "hoodlumism and lawlessness which, he states, are rampant at the station. The order refers to "terrorism, thefts, gambling and drunkenness which have brought the United States force into disrepute." Reference also is made to the theft of a barrel of whiskey from the medical store—the only spirits on the island—as well as a sum of money amounting to about $600 from one of the marines, and the order closes with the imposition of restrictions upon the liberty of the marines.

So wholesale is his denunciation of the marines that it is believed the Navy Department will be obliged to look into the matter. General Heywood, the commandant of marines, who has received reports in that capacity of the happenings in Guam, has been called upon to furnish such information as he has and it may be that a court of inquiry will be appointed.

General Heywood was at the Navy Department to-day and had a conference with Acting Secretary Hackett. He stated after the interview that the incoming mail from Guam had brought him no report from Major H. K. White, the ranking officer on the island, or from any other source, concerning the reported troubles. The General is naturally very much surprised at the extraordinary scope of Commander Schroeder's order, reflecting, as it does, upon the integrity of every officer and man of the marine corps on duty in the island.
