TILLMAN AGAIN ON A RAMPAGE

EVERY DEMOCRATIC SENATOR LEAVES THE CHAMBER IN DISGUST WHILE HE IS SPEAKING.

Called His Republican Colleagues "Rotten" and Defended Ballot Box Stuffing in South.

NEW CANAL BILL PRESENTED IN SENATE

STATEHOOD BILLS UP BEFORE THE HOUSE—NO GOVERNMENT ORDER FOR CRUELITIES IN THE PHILIPPINES—COPIES OF ARMY ORDERS SENT TO SENATE.

Washington, May 7.—Tillman broke loose in the senate today during the debate on the bill providing for civil government in the Philippines. McComas had just completed a severe arraignment of the democrats for their tactics in opposing the measure. He had referred in the course of his speech to the treatment of negroes of the south. This aroused Tillman. McComas had no sooner finished than Tillman took the floor and replied to Senator McComas' criticisms. He declared with much asperity that if it had been announced at Appomattox that negroes were to be enfranchised the surrender would never have been made. He twitted the republicans with their inconsistency in declaring that the negro was fit to govern himself and the Filipino was not. He proceeded to defend the slave owners of the south, called his republican colleagues "rotten" and admitted ballot boxes were stuffed as an offset to the negro vote in the south. He accused General Sherman with falsifying history and declared the shot gun policy would be resorted to if necessary to keep the white man in the south on top.

Referring to lynchings in the south Tillman asserted that similar happenings occurred in the north. Before Tillman had proceeded far the democratic senators left the chamber in a body except Teller. They were evidently disgusted. When they returned and admitted they were disgusted Tillman had finished.

Burton followed with a defense of the bill. He said he never before heard of such a speech as Tillman's. The latter retorted he never would again. After a few remarks by McLaurin (Miss.) in refutation of McComas' criticisms of the south's treatment of negroes the senate adjourned.

Washington, May 7.—When the senate convened today, Mr. Cullom, the chairman of the foreign relations committee, reported favorably a bill making appropriations for the diplomatic and consular service of the United States in the republic of Cuba. The salary of the minister is fixed at $12,000.

Mr. Spooner, of Wisconsin, offered an amendment appropriating not exceeding $2,000 a year for the rental of a proper legation residence in Havana. It was agreed to. As the bill was amended, it passed.

Mr. Hawley, chairman of the committee on military affairs, reported the army appropriation bill.

Mr. Culberson of Texas inquired whether the secretary of war had responded to his resolution of the first instant, concerning the orders of General Bell and General Smith. When informed that no response had been received, he offered a resolution directing the secretary of war to send to the senate copies of all orders, instructions, letters and cablegrams relating to the order of Brigadier General Jacob H. Smith to Major L. W. T. Waller.

Mr. Lodge said that as a resolution, (Continued on 5th page.)

THE AUDITORIUM OPENING

THE ASHEVILLE AUDITORIUM.

And it came to pass, after the months of waiting, that the Asheville auditorium was formally opened to the public. This event was in some respects a success, and in others a failure.

Financially, it was a failure, and the receipts of the matinee and evening performances yesterday fell several hundred dollars below the guarantee sum required by the Boys' Symphony orchestra. The directors of the Auditorium company feel a little bit disgruntled at the public on account of its failure to patronize the opening event, and a liberal patronage would certainly have been most encouraging to the management. The attendance at the matinee, owing partly to the rain, was small, and in the evening there were between 800 and 900 present.

The truth is that the company was unfortunate in the selection of its opening attraction. The Boys' orchestra has no prestige to appeal to the general public, except on the "general." This is said without the intention of attaching any blame whatever to the company. They spent months in trying to secure an attraction, and did the very best they could, there is no doubt.

First on the program last evening was an address by Judge Thomas A. Jones—a most timely and valuable one. Judge Jones reviewed the progress of the movement, and the sentiment of which the auditorium is the culmination. He adjured the people to give liberal support to the auditorium, which is the people's building, and in every possible way to second the efforts of the public spirited citizens who have given to Asheville a hall which makes possible the entertainment of great convention bodies and the securing of valuable musical and dramatic attractions at reasonable prices.

The Boys' orchestra was most enthusiastically received, and the young musicians were found to merit well the nice things that have been said about them by the press. As conductor, as harpist and as composer A. F. Pinto exhibits qualities that justify his admirers in predicting that his will in a few years be a leading name in the world of music.

The handling of Thomas' overture, "Raymond," the first number on the program, was a credit to the entire youthful aggregation—there are 40 of the boys instead of 60, by the way—and there was no better orchestral number on the program.

Nicholas Garanus, the boy violinist, in his solo number, "Vieuxtemps' 'Concerto,' displayed a skill in handling his instrument not possessed by many artists three times as old, and the same may be said of Francesco Sabastino, harpist, who rendered the "Concerto" by Alvares.

The 9 years old clarinetist, Nathan Schickelkraut, proved a "phenomenon" indeed, and the technical excellence shown in his solo, "Concerto Fantasia" (Wolffman) was simply wonderful. The program was a well arranged one, and concluded with a march, "The New Century," by the conductor. The audience included many music lovers, and music critics, and enthusiastic applause was given each member. The orchestra responded liberally to enclosures.

A FALSE CHARGE AGAINST U. S. COURTS

Judge Boyd Replies Very Effectively to a Political Attack Made on the Constitution of the Federal Court Juries.

While on the bench in the Federal court yesterday Judge Boyd took occasion to allude to a matter that was outside the case then on trial. He said that in the newspaper reports of a recent debate in congress a statement had been made that the Federal juries had been made that in the newspaper reports of a recent debate in congress a statement had been made that the Federal Jurors of North Carolina consisted of men of the same political party.

"Now," said Judge Boyd, "the jury boxes of this district are selected by two commissioners, one from each political party and these commissioners obtain a list of names from prominent and substantial business men of each party equally, from the different counties in the district and these names are placed in the box from which the jurors are drawn."

"While there have been no specific complaints made to me on the subject, my attention has been drawn to the matter though the newspapers as I have stated and if there is any ground for talk on the subject I have not been cognizant of it and I will see that the selection of the jurors is carried on strictly as I have outlined."

"The two commissioners in this judicial district are Mr. McKesson and Mr. Miller, who represent respectively the two main political parties."

The judge then questioned Deputy Clerk Logan in regard to the number of jurors selected from the Western district of North Carolina and was informed by him that the number for this term was 450.

"Then," said his honor, "there should be 225 democrats and an equal number of republicans from which the jurors now sitting were drawn. This plan has been in operation since I have been on the bench and politics shall never enter into any question in this court room while I am presiding."
