JUDGE CHARLES A. MOORE

Ex-Congressman W. T. Crawford in a published letter recommends ex-Judge Charles A. Moore as a candidate for associate justice saying: "Judge Moore is in all respects worthy and qualified for the high place. His character is above reproach. His loyalty and fidelity to his party is, and always has been, beyond question. Strong in mind and body, upright and energetic, he is a type of the finest mountain manhood. By a life of tireless industry and perseverance he has worked himself to the very front rank in his profession, and is known by the bench and bar of the state to be well fitted and qualified to fill with honor and credit to himself and his state a seat upon the highest tribunal in the state."

THE EARTH QUAKED DURING THE ERUPTION

CLOUDS ABOVE MOUNT PEELE AS DESTRUCTIVE AS AT THE GREAT OUTBREAK.

Port De France, June 7.—It is reported from Morné Rouge that yesterday's eruption of Mount Pelee was very severe. Hot ashes and stones fell. There was violent trembling of the earth and rivers overflowed. Captain Thiron of the French cable steamer says he was five minutes off St. Pierre picking up a broken cable when the eruption occurred. The ship was covered with stones. The captain sailed away, as he feared his men would be asphyxiated. The eruption and dense clouds were as destructive looking as the great outbreak which swept off St. Pierre.

A GOOD TOWEL

Is always in demand, whether it comes around 48-pounds of the best patent flour, or is bought at five cents a yard. A good many people would rather get a 60-inch towel out of the sack their flour comes in than buy the towel at the dry goods store, and that is why every 48-pound sack of "Clifton" is packed in regular toweling. Ask your grocer for "Clifton" in the towel sack.
