DISCUSSING ANNEXATION

SENATOR ELKINS SPEAKS IN SUPPORT OF RESOLUTION TO ANNEX CUBA.

Efforts Made in Both Houses to Conclude Session of Congress Today.

HOUSE VOTES TO AID BUFFALO AND ALSO CHARLESTON

CONFERENCE REPORT ON GENERAL DEFICIENCY BILL ADOPTED—ENTHUSIASM OVER CONFERENCE AGREEMENT ON PHILIPPINE BILL.

Washington, June 30.—When the senate convenes today, Mr. Gaillard, of New Hampshire, chairman of the committee on pensions, made a brief statement showing that during the present session 10,070 bills relating to pensions were introduced in the house and senate. The total number passed by both senate and house was 1151.

A resolution was offered by Mr. Morgan calling on the secretary of state for a statement of expenditures of the isthmian canal commission was adopted.

The senate insisted on its amendment to the L. S. L. appropriation bill and the following names were named: Messrs. Hale, Perkins and Tillman. Mr. Elkins, of West Virginia, then addressed the senate in support of his resolution providing for the annexation by the United States of the Island of Cuba.

Mr. Elkins said that his resolution had been misunderstood. It had no bearing upon Cuban reciprocity and was not intended to have any. It simply voiced his judgment that Cuba ought to be annexed to the United States and the sooner the better for both countries. The resolution did not suggest annexation of Cuba in an offensive way. It provided that the Cubans must take the initiative, and only after they had asked for annexation could the United States act.

For nearly a century, he said, the annexation of Cuba to the United States had been the ambition of American statesmanship. He pointed out that many distinguished Americans, from Jefferson to McKinley, had favored annexation, and he thought the present was an opportune time to carry into effect the well defined wishes of a majority of the people of Cuba and the United States in regard to annexation, in the interest of both countries.

"The environment of Cuba," he said, "with the trials and difficulties that beset on the threshold of her national life, stand in the way of her being long an independent nation; while as a state in the American union, her people would be prosperous and progressive, and have the liberty and all the blessings that would flow from being part of the best, greatest and freest government in the world. After annexation, the products of Cuba would not come into full competition with those of the United States. Free trade amongst the states has never lowered the price of labor or worked injury to Americans. Wherever our flag floats, the price of labor advanced. It is claimed that annexation would destroy the promising and growing beet sugar industry of the United States. Not so, however, the price of products among the states of the union always seeks an equilibrium. With proper protection in favor of the cane sugar of Cuba, which she will enjoy as a state, and the beet sugar of the United States, within fifteen years the United States would not only produce enough sugar for its own consumption but largely compete with other countries in the world market."

For 10 days we will give special prices in our picture framing department. Those having pictures to frame will do well to come and get prices. A large and well selected stock of moldings to select from.

kets. Even with the war, had it not been for a declaration that the war was not waged for conquest or aggrandizement, known as the Teller amendment, Cuba would today be a part of the United States, just as Porto Rico and the Philippines are. This amendment has proved both mischievous and unwise. When Cuba shall become part of the American union and the Isthmian canal shall become pledged, which is now assured, Porto Rico, Cuba, Hawaii and the Philippines will be the outposts of the great republic, standing guard over American interests in the track of the world's commerce in its triumphal march around the globe. There is a tendency in all human affairs in government, trade and commerce, to concentration and combination. Cuba, in her present environment, situated as she is, cannot be expected to resist this tendency. The effect of the Platt amendments will be to help bring about annexation. A nation cannot long remain half free and half independent. The question of annexation forces itself to the front and will claim from now on the attention of the people of both countries. Reciprocity with Cuba affords no adequate remedy. A twenty per cent reduction in her tariff and ours will do Cuba as a people or a government little or no good, while it will work great harm to the interests of the United States. There was long discussion and fierce opposition to the annexation of Texas—much more, I think, than there will be to the annexation of Cuba—but it came at last surely as the annexation of Cuba will come. There is not a loyal and true American to be found within the confines of the republic who would give up Texas, and within a few years after Cuba becomes a state in our union not an American will be found willing to part with the island."

Mr. Elkins' resolution was referred to the committee on Cuban relations. The extended speech by the West Virginia senator elicited from Senator Platt (Conn.) that he feared the Cubans might misinterpret the resolution. Senator Hanna disclaimed that McKinley had the idea of annexation. After a satirical comment by Bailey (Texas) the Elkins resolution was referred to the committee on Cuban resolutions.

Senator Bailey called up the resolution demanding the papers in the case of Bellenberg against Scott from the state department. Bailey averred that if his information was right ambassador Clayton ought to be recalled from Mexico. Senators Patterson (Colorado) and Hanna defended Clayton. Bailey claimed that the solicitor of the state department had refused him access to all papers pertaining to that case. After a wordy war between Beveridge and Bailey, the senate went into executive session. Upon adjournment it was stated that the house and senate leaders were striving to bring the session to a close tomorrow.

Washington, June 30.—A bill was passed by the senate to give Rear Admiral Schley the pay of a rear admiral on the active list instead of a retired admiral's pay.

Washington, 30.—When the house met today, Mr. Payne (N. Y.) the majority leader, asked unanimous consent that the Hepburn rule requiring the printing of conference reports in the records before considering should be suspended for the remainder of the session. To this Mr. Richardson, the minority leader, objected.

Mr. Cannon of Illinois, chairman of the appropriations committee, called up the conference report on the general deficiency appropriation bill. The report left in dispute items aggregating $1,905,000, including the appropriations for the Buffalo and Charleston expositions and $1,000,000 for the payment of Hawaiian claims. The report was adopted. Mr. Cannon moved that the house further insist and ask for a further conference. Separate votes were asked on the various items.

Mr. Alexander's motion to concur in the Buffalo exposition amendment was carried, 119, to 101.

The house by a vote of 171 to 118 refused to concur in the senate appropriation for the Charleston, S. C., exposition.

At the night session the Charleston exposition relief section of the general deficiency bill was again moved and passed without division. The naval appropriation bill was considered.

There was much enthusiasm when the announcement was made that the conferees had agreed on the Philippines government bill. At the evening session Dick (Ohio) moved for a suspension of rules and the passage of the national guard reorganization bill. The bill was passed, 180, to 28. Then house then adjourned until 10 o'clock tomorrow.

Washington, June 30.—Payne (N. Y.) chairman of the committee on ways and means introduced a resolution at tonight's session of the house, providing for final limit adjournment tomorrow, the hour being left blank.

THE KING STILL IS DOING WELL

AT A LATE HOUR HIS CONDITION WAS DECLARED SATISFACTORY.

Times Suggests That the Coronation May Occur Earlier Than Expected.

PAIN IN DRESSING WOUND CAUSES NO DISCOURAGEMENT

RETENTION OF A NUMBER OF INDIAN AND COLONIAL TROOPS MAY MEAN THAT THE CORONATION IS NOT SO LONG OFF.

London, July 1.—The condition of the king at a late hour continues satisfactory. The Times suggests that the retention here of a number of Indian and Colonial troops may mean that the coronation will take place sooner than has been expected.

At noon today the following official statement was given out from the palace:

"There is no cause for alarm in the distress caused by dressing the wound. This occurs at least twice daily. The wound, which is of considerable depth, is dressed from the bottom, and it is essential that it should heal from within outward. The dressing causes his majesty considerable pain, which he has borne with great fortitude, in fact, his majesty's courage and patience call for the greatest admiration. The king was much benefited by the change to the couch yesterday on which he stayed for a few hours. The electric fans have proved of great value in keeping down the temperature in the apartment. The queen is in constant attendance in the sick room but the utmost quiet is enforced. The king occasionally sees his children, but the interviews are of short duration. No matters of state or business are allowed to be submitted to the king, who is also debarred from reading his correspondence. Neither Doctors Laking, Barlow nor Treves have left the palace since the operation, except for an occasional hour."

This statement was issued with the view of correcting the numerous unfounded stories published with circumstantial details regarding which is alleged to transpire in the sick room.

The cheerfulness of the public is apparently fully shared by the members of the royal family. The prince of Wales went out riding this morning and both he and the princess witnessed from the palace windows, with evident interest, a march of the regulars. The stock exchange reopened today with a very strong tone, on the satisfactory news regarding the king's condition. Consols rose 7-16. Other departments reflected the improved feeling.

With the view of recompensing the sightseers so far as possible for the disappointments of last week, tomorrow's and Wednesday's reviews of the colonial and the Indian troops will be accompanied by a certain amount of pageantry. The queen's anxiety has been so much allayed that she definitely decided today to occupy the first carriage in the royal procession, in which other members of the royal family will participate, as well as the foreign princes who are still in London.

BAILEY OF TEXAS FLIES AT THE THROAT OF BEVERIDGE

Shouting "I'll Kill You" he Grabs the Indiana Senator and When Pulled Off Smashes a Desk.

Washington, June 30.—Senator Bailey of Texas and Senator Beveridge of Indiana had it out after a verbal encounter in the senate this afternoon. Bailey wanted Beveridge to retract an insinuation as to his veracity. When Beveridge refused Bailey said: "damn you, I'll kill you," grabbed Beveridge by the throat and began to choke him. The big Texan pinned Beveridge down, giving him no opportunity of defense. Acting Assistant Doorkeeper Dayton and Senator Spooner separated the men. Bailey resented the interference and smashed a heavy mahogany desk. Beveridge made light of the affair.

Richmond, Va., June 30.—The George E. The legion, the latter stated, is composed of soldiers, sailors and marines of the Union army, navy and marine corps, who volunteered prior to July 1, 1863, and served honorably for two years or more. The name of William H. Neely, "secretary of committees," was attached.
