FORTY FUNERALS FROM ONE CHURCH YESTERDAY

IMPRESSIVE SCENES ALONG THE ROUTE OF THE PROCESSIONS,
AS WEeping CROWDS WATCHED BODIES PASS BY.

Johnstown, Pa., July 12.—After the Cambria Mining company officials at 6 o'clock this evening had made an official announcement that every section of the mine affected by explosion has been visited, the bodies of four other miners were found. They were brought out at 10 o'clock tonight.

The bodies recovered at this writing number 109. It is believed the Cambria mine officials are mistaken in placing the number killed at not more than 115. Some of the miners themselves claim that several headings are still inaccessible and on account of the deadly gases have not been explored, and that from 50 to 75 bodies will be found in them when the air permits more work to be pushed.

Forty funerals took place today from St. Stephen's Catholic church. The funeral services brought out most impressive throngs who stood along the route of the processions and wept and wailed as open wagons carried the bodies to their last resting places. Very few hearses or suitable conveyances could be secured.

ATWATER RUNNING IN FOURTH DISTRICT

Special to the Gazette.
Raleigh, July 12.—John W. Atwater has published his announcement as a candidate for congress in the fourth district. He declares himself an independent democrat and adjusts himself to both democratic and republican declarations as to tariff, monopolies and the Philippines. He says: "I bitterly oppose any law that will disfranchise any honest white man in North Carolina." Atwater represented the fourth district in the fifty-sixth congress and was leader of the "Butler" populists in the state senate in 1897. He is said to have assurance that he will have a clear field against Pou. He will be a dangerous opponent.

Sheriff Hesser from Oklahoma was here today with requisition papers for Charles Hatt, alias Osborne, who is under arrest at Norfolk for wife murder. He says Osborne is wanted in Oklahoma for two brutal murders, one of a former wife. In Marion, where Osborne married his late wife, his guilt is thoroughly believed.

You'll have a good time if you go with the Odd Fellows to Waynesville July 17th.

THE KING WILL BE A LIFE-LONG INVALID

It Is Declared This Fact Is Known to Everyone in Court Circles—
The Great Ovation to Kitchener Yesterday—Fear that He will Never Be Crowned Weighs on Edward's Mind.

London, July 12.—The cloud which darkened the spirits of the English three weeks ago was finally dissipated today by the assurance of the complete recovery of the king, and popular enthusiasm over Kitchener's return from South Africa. Vast throngs gave a welcome to the returning soldier and peacemaker.

It is safe to say Kitchener himself was the only man who was depressed by the public adulation which was so unstintingly given. He is a man who genuinely hates hero worship, and he hoped the coronation excitement would enable him to come without such a demonstration as today's. The king himself got a glimpse of the procession as it passed Buckingham palace, his couch being wheeled to a window overlooking Constitution hill.

In spite of his hatred of "palaver," General Kitchener was obliged to submit to the presentation of welcoming addresses at Paddington and other points on his way to St. James' palace today, but his replies were cut short as politeness permitted and he showed evident signs of relief when the procession was resumed. The route throughout was decorated with Venetian masts, banners, flags, and streamers with mottoes of welcome, the house fronts were draped and troops lined most of the way, colonials and Indian soldiers being utilized as well as the local regiments. Every vantage point, even to the house tops was occupied by sight-seers and solid masses of people gathered in all the open spots. At Victoria Gate the mayor of Westminster presented an address to the national hero. The vast stands of Constitution hill were crowded with people belonging to the highest class of society, and Kitchener's well known antipathy to "drawing room folk" immediately became apparent.

Shortly after the arrival of the procession at Buckingham palace, Queen Alexandra and the princesses appeared on a balcony and remained there until the victor of South Africa had passed in his triumphal journey to St. James palace, which he entered amidst a final hurricane of cheers.

Kitchener and the generals who accompanied him were entertained at luncheon in the great banquet hall, where there were covers laid for fifty persons.

The king's case continues to be a marvel to his physicians, and his wonderful recuperative power has astonished all medical men. They regard the decision for an early date for the coronation as rash, nevertheless, and argue that such a course would never be allowed in the case of a private patient.

The fact is, they fail to understand that the chief reason for the king's physician's consent to an early ceremony is that this is the only cure for the superstition which is preying upon the king's mind. His fear, which amounts almost to the belief, that he will never be crowned, is seriously affecting the king, and his medical advisers consider that the physical risk of a ceremony a month hence is less than the possible consequences of longer worry over this subject.

It is now considered that the ceremony at Westminster can be condensed to an hour, and physical exertion involved reduced to a mere trifle. Immediately after the ceremony the king will go for a long stay on the royal yacht or to quiet rest until his strength has been fully restored.

London, July 13 (Sunday).—A morning paper which professes to have inside knowledge as to the king's actual condition, says that Friday the king looked very ill and terribly wasted. The fixing of the date for the coronation was due to the pressure of cabinet ministers.

The wound, the paper says, shows no signs of rapid healing, and the king is not able to sit up, even when assisted, without great pain. It says every one in court circles knows the king will be an invalid while he lives.

YESTERDAY'S CONVENTION OF COUNTY REPUBLICANS

A Very Large Gathering to Name Delegates to State and District Conventions—Resolutions Commending the Course of Senator Pritchard and Congressman Moody and Denouncing Machine Rule in this State.

Yesterday's republican county convention, called to name delegates to the state, congressional and judicial conventions, was attended by nearly two hundred delegates. It assembled in the court house at 1 o'clock, and was called to order by W. E. Logan, chairman of the county committee. Col. V. S. Lusk was called to preside with C. B. Moore and George W. Cannon secretaries. The only contest was from Limestone precinct and a committee on credentials consisting of Major W. W. Rollins, A. C. Jones, Melvin Nichols, Samuel W. Davidson and James Morgan reported in favor of seating both delegates from that township and recommended that another primary be held there to elect a chairman.

Col. Lusk in accepting the permanent chairmanship of the convention expressed his thanks for the honor. He said he was exceedingly glad to see the large gathering of this "little" convention. Beholding this evidence of strength he was reminded of a Bible story: "The prophets of Baal had overrun the temples of the living God, and Elisha in hiding in a cave asked the Almighty to take him from the world. The Lord said: 'I have yet 7000 who have not bowed the knee to Baal.' We have yet 7000 republicans who have not bowed the knee to Baal. Our prophets have been stoned and our ballot boxes stuffed, yet the republican principles must live forever, because they are right. Like the religion of Elisha—they cannot die."

The colonel was applauded, and the convention immediately began its regular proceedings. A motion made by W. E. Logan that the roll of the precincts be called and that each precinct name a delegate to the state convention was carried.

The chair stated that 6 votes were allowed the county in the state convention, but that there was no limit

MARION DEMOCRATS IN AN ANGRY ROW

Uncomplimentary Passes Between Party Leaders in a Wrangling Debate.

Special to the Gazette.
Marion, N. C., July 12.—The democrats here called their primaries today for congressional, judicial, county and senatorial delegates. Only the senatorial matter came up and this resulted in a row that made republican votes. Justice received two-thirds and W. A. Contry one-third of the votes cast. Many democrats were disgusted. A heated discussion occurred between Colonel Sinclair Conley and E. J. Justice. Many complimentary passes were made others being drawn into the debate. Justice called a prominent democrat a liar and an editor a puppy, and declared they were "traitors" stabbing him in the back. Democrats concede the convention was a republican success. The other primaries will be held on Monday. A circus is then expected.

Justice Causes Indignation.

Marion, N. C., July 12.—The democrats' primary in Marion township today was bursted up and the crowd left the court house flaming with anger and disgust before half the business of the convention was over. The convention was called to elect delegates to the county convention which selects delegates to the senatorial, congressional and state conventions. E. H. House, editor of the McDowell democratic paper, was made chairman. E. J. Justice and Major W. A. Contry are candidates for the senate. When two or three motions made by the Justice men apparently aimed at heading off Contry's friends were lost and the result applauded, Justice himself appearing to see defeat in his own town staring him in the face. He rose to his feet and vehemently pleaded for himself. He made and pressed his motions in his own behalf, making earnest personal appeals to all who were his friends to stand by him and vote with him. He denounced those who opposed him as not democrats, calling some "liars," "upstarts," "little barking curs," etc.

He ignored the chair when called to order by the chairman, whom he also denounced as against him and standing up before the chairman took charge of the convention made his motions and put them to the house, disregarding all motions of others as well as repeated calls and appeals for order and fair play. By these methods he forced his way and a committee was named to select delegates, when the people left the court house declaring their indignation at the outrage they felt. Democrats of much influence who were once his friends and party supporters do not conceal their disgust and indignation at this conduct of Mr. Justice the machine for mastery in McDowell, and says Justice has lost a hundred votes to the party today.

day Night When the Posse
Passed the Place.

ORDERED THE HOUSEWIFE TO GIVE HIM SUPPER

BELIEF THAT THE INFLAMMATION
FROM HIS GUNSHOT WOUND
WILL COMPEL HIM TO SURREN-DER SOON.

Tacoma, Wash., July 12.—From the time the convict Tracey left the Johnson house at Kenton, Wednesday night, his whereabouts were unknown until he was seen and shot and wounded by Deputy Sheriff Bunce and his son, who encountered him in a railway cut near Auburn, at midnight Thursday.

All Friday his movements were completely masked. It now develops that on Friday night Tracey appeared at the house of an aged Frenchman named Fautot, near Auburn and remained concealed there until the posse pursuing him passed. He then ordered the man's wife to prepare supper for him. After eating he started on foot for the woods nearby.

Before leaving Fautot's house, Tracey acknowledged that he was wounded in the hip. He complained of pain and said he was nearly exhausted. It is now believed Tracey is in the vicinity of Palmer and that inflammation from the wound will compel him to surrender.
