JOHN M. GORE AND W. H. NORTHUP COMBATANTS

FOUGHT OVER A LAWSUIT IN WHICH GORE WAS PROSECUTING NORTHUP'S FATHER.

Wilmington, N. C., Aug. 11.—Two sensational fights between three of the most prominent young men occurred in the principal street of the city this afternoon and caused considerable excitement. John M. Gore, law partner of ex-Governor Russell, and W. Harris Northup, Jr., clerk of the city board of audit and finance, had a fistfight which grew out of a law suit in which Gore was prosecuting Northup's father. While a large number of men stood and looked on, Dr. Carmichael, rector of a prominent Episcopal church of this city stopped and parted them, at the same time calling the spectators "A set of cowards."

Later in the afternoon Robert Northup, brother of Harris Northup, met Lawyer Gore and they went together but separated before any harm was done. All parties were arrested but released under bond.

GERMAN CROWN PRINCE TO WED MISS DEACON?

Paris, Aug. 11.—The Matin says Miss Gladis Deacon, daughter of the late Edward Parker Deacon, is the object of the German crown prince's affection. The paper adds that Miss Deacon told the prince she would never consent to a morganatic alliance, and that if he desired to marry her a religious and legal ceremony would be necessary.

Three days after Miss Deacon's avowal the prince presented her a ring which he had sworn to give nobody but his wife, it being a present he had received from his grandmother, the late Empress Frederick.

ASHEVILLE COLLEGE RE-OPENS SEPT. 1

The Asheville College will be reopened. Prof. J. A. Joseph, former president of Central Normal College of Danville, Ind., has leased the property and will open the college as a girls' school, with a primary department for both sexes, on September 22. Most of the teachers will be from Asheville. Prof. Joseph will not attempt to conduct a boarding school during the first year, as the time is too short to make the proper preparations. The college will therefore depend for its success on local patronage this year. The tuition charges will be considerably lowered in all departments. All work of instruction will be carried on that is demanded by the patronage.

The great aim of the present year will be to build the school up so that by another year it can be made complete in all departments. Only by liberal patronage on the part of the city of Asheville can this be done.

PET BULLDOG BITES T. J. HARRIS' SON

The Boy Taken to New York for Pasteur Treatment.

Willie Harris, the five years old son of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Harris, while playing in the yard Sunday afternoon with the pet bull dog of the family was bitten by the animal. The boy was quite severely wounded, a piece of the flesh and skin being torn from his forehead. Mr. Harris left with his son this afternoon for New York, where he will apply to the Pasteur institute for treatment for the boy. The three children of J. B. Eller, who were bitten by a supposed mad dog several weeks ago have returned from the Pasteur institute at Baltimore. They were pronounced cured.

POU DECLINES CHALLENGE FOR A JOINT CANVASS

But Says if Atwater Receives Republican Nomination He will Meet Him.

Special to the Gazette.
Raleigh, N. C., Aug. 11.—John W. Atwater, ex-member of congress and "independent democratic" candidate for another term, has challenged E. W. Pou, the regular democratic candidate, for a joint canvass and the challenge has been declined. Pou, in a letter to Atwater, says, "Inasmuch as you have announced your democracy and your allegiance to democratic principles, I know of no reason why we should engage in a series of joint discussions or of any good which might be accomplished thereby." Pou goes on to say that in his speech of acceptance he expressed a desire for a joint canvass with the republican candidate, and assures Atwater that he will be pleased to meet him provided Atwater receives the republican nomination.

LARGE CLASS OF MIDDIES

Washington, D. C., Aug. 11.—Ever since the Spanish war there has been a dearth of young officers in the navy, owing to the many new warships that have been commissioned. During the past two years it has been found necessary to graduate the classes from the naval academy ahead of the usual time. It is hoped, however, that this will be unnecessary in the future as it is also undesirable.

Today three hundred principals and alternates appear before the examining boards of the civil service commission for midshipman entrances at the academy to fill the vacancies created by the last annual appropriation bill allowing senators the privilege of appointment. This is the largest class examined in the history of the school, and if the usual percentage of candidates pass this will give Annapolis more midshipmen under instruction than ever before. Temporary quarters are now being erected at the academy for the accommodation of the increased number of cadets.

INTERNATIONAL TYPOS' UNION

GOLDEN JUBILEE CONVENTION OPENED AT CINCINNATI YESTERDAY.

The Attendance Is Largest in the History of the Organiza- tion.

PRESIDENT'S SPEECH AND OFFICERS' REPORTS

ARBITRATION, CONTRACTS, RELATIONS BETWEEN THE DIFFERENT BRANCHES, STRIKES, ETC., DISCUSSED BY PRESIDENT LYNCH

Cincinnati, O., Aug. 11.—The International Typographical Union is celebrating its golden jubilee with the largest convention in its history. It is the fifteenth annual meeting of the organization, which is regarded as one of the strongest and most influential trades unions in the country.

The gathering was formally opened this morning with 365 delegates answering to their names, and an equal number of ex-delegates, with their wives and other visitors were enough to swell the total attendance to over 1000. Those in attendance represent local unions throughout the United States and Canada. After the usual addresses of welcome had been made and responded to, President James M. Lynch took the chair. President Lynch was greeted with loud and enthusiastic cheers and hand clapping. When the applause had subsided the president proceeded to read his annual address, which was followed with close attention by the large assembly.

Pike's opera house was crowded, including the galleries that were mostly occupied by women who are here for the first convention of the Ladies' Auxiliary. Invocation was by Rev. George H. Edwards, archdeacon of the Southern Ohio Episcopal church, who was formerly a printer. Addresses of welcome were delivered by Acting Mayor Charles J. Christie, Edmund O'Connell, chairman of the local committee on arrangements, and Alvin McReynolds, president of the Cincinnati union No. 3, to which President James M. Lynch responded.

Delegate Nayle, of Houston, Texas, having been called home by the death of his brother, a resolution of sympathy was adopted, and then a resolution of sympathy and support for the United Mine Workers in their anthracite strike was adopted.

The following officers were appointed: Assistant secretary—John W. Hayes. Reading clerk—A. W. Thompson. Messengers—Frank Foxman and Austin Davis. All the committees were announced, the committee on law consisting of Hastings, Crawford, Benton, Spieres and Olwell. Telegrams and letters of greeting on the fiftieth anniversary of the International Typographical union were read from almost all other labor organizations.

President Lynch opened his remarks with a characterization of the International Typographical union as the grandest international labor organization on the North American continent. Continuing, he said, "We celebrate a half century of existence, so fraught with great deeds, affecting so large a number of people, that we may aptly turn aside from the consideration of the year's work in order to briefly review the history of fifty years. The greatest problem of this or any other age is said to be embraced in the scientific creation of wealth and its scientific distribution. Capital is endeavoring to solve the first part of the problem, and the combination of wage-earners, the labor organizations, the latter. To this effect the International Typographical union has contributed.

"The high plane of the printing trade, the prosperity of its followers and the constantly increasing remuneration which they are receiving attest in a measure our success. Happier homes, more comforts, greater education, shorter hours of labor and more time for mental development, all these add to the welfare of a country and its people, and afford an example for the encouragement of the millions who toil. The course of the organization has been (Continued on fifth page.)

"PENSIONABLE STATUS" LAW IS EXPLAINED

DOES NOT CONTEMPLATE THE PENSIONING OF EX CON- FEDERATE SOLDIERS.

Washington, Aug. 12.—Owing to the erroneous impression which has been found to exist among many ex-Confederate soldiers regarding the meaning of the recent law of congress to give pensionable status to honorably discharged Union soldiers who had previously served in the Confederate army, Commissioner of Pensions Ware today gave out a statement explaining that the law in question does not contemplate pensioning ex-Confederate soldiers, but is framed solely to remove the stigma which has long existed in the case of men who were pressed into the Confederate service and later joined the Union army. The pension bureau has recently been deluged with applications for pensions from ex-Confederates.

SENATOR PRITCHARD GOES TO BAKERSVILLE

Marshall, N. C., Aug. 11.—Senator Pritchard left yesterday for Bakersville where he will spend a week with the family of Judge Bowman, his brother, George K. Pritchard, and other relatives. This move on the part of the Senator will probably have the effect of upsetting to some extent the plans of Hon. Locke Craig. It was understood to be Mr. Craig's intention to attend Marshall court this week, and just in a casual way of course, drift down to Senator Pritchard's office and arrange the details of that proposed joint canvass. But no matter how many senatorial booms may suffer, it is unlikely that Senator Pritchard will make any speeches during the current month. He will remain in Bakersville a week, and will then return to Marshall and put in several days on his correspondence, which has necessarily been neglected for the past fortnight.

A Hundred Shots Were Ex- changed, but only One Man, a Striker, was Hit.

FOUR THOUSAND MEN MARCHED ON PUMP WORKS

THE MINING TOWN OF THROPP, WHERE THE TROUBLE OCCUR- ED, PATROLLED DURING NIGHT BY SHERIFF'S DEPUTIES.

Scranton, Aug. 11.—There were three pitched battles today between strikers and coal and iron police at Thropp, a mining settlement, north of here. A hundred shots were exchanged, but no body was killed.

Reports are tonight that only one man, a striker, was shot. Four hundred strikers, former employes of the Pancoast colliery, marched on the pump works to persuade the men to leave, and thereby compel the shutting down of the washery. As the crowd advanced toward the building armed men in the crowd shot at the police. The fire was returned. The shooting brought a force of deputies to the scene and the miners dispersed.

Late tonight the town is being patrolled by sheriff's deputies.
