Some time after midnight this morning the reflection of what seemed an immense fire was seen to the west, and at 12:20 an alarm was turned in. The fire appeared to be in the city, and it was at first reported that Treadway's store, near the river, was burning. When the fire wagons reached that vicinity, however, the blaze was found to be on the hill across the river, apparently not far from the new road. The exact location could not be learned.

AMERICAN BAR ASS'N GATHERED AT SARATOGA

Saratoga, N. Y., Aug. 27.—When 10:30 o'clock arrived this morning, the hour appointed for the opening session of the annual meeting of the American Bar association, more than 300 members, representing the pick and flower of the legal profession and every section of the country, sat before the platform in convention hall when President U. M. Rose, of Little Rock, Ark., called the gathering to order. The assemblage was composed of men who make, interpret and expound laws, men who have served their state and nation on the bench, in the cabinet, and as ambassadors to foreign powers; men who bear on noble foreheads and furrowed faces the indelible marks of intellectual activity, and whose thoughtful glances and positive speech betoken the trained mind and judicial temperament. President Rose called to the rostrum Hon. John G. Carlisle, who will deliver the annual address, and a half dozen other jurists and members of the bar of national prominence who were present.

After expressing appreciation of Saratoga's welcome to the association, President Rose delivered his annual address, which was masterly in its logical construction and perceptive diction, and which was followed with the closest attention. His survey of the recent enactments of the various states interested his listeners extremely, and his learned, yet sometimes caustic, analysis and comments upon several important measures seemed to impress his professional brethren as judicial and comprehensive. It was a long paper, but the scholarly character of the address and the many sharp comments that illuminated it served to produce patience and promote good humor among the listening lawyers.
