The Institution to Introduce New Manager to Arrive Soon Several Improvements.

Asheville is to have one of the most modern and completely equipped business colleges in the south. Proprietor Shockley of the Asheville Business college has prospered and succeeded so well with the present institution that he has seen fit to make plans and contracts for the establishment of practically a new enterprise. New furniture to the value of several hundred dollars has been ordered that will add to the present quarters of the institution. A new bank, with all the equipment pertaining thereto, will add a useful and profitable feature. The enrollment this year has been very encouraging, and it is now only a queetion of a few weeks until Asheville will have an institution in the way of a business college that will favorably compare with those of the larger cit-

Amusements

Hundreds of thousands of persons laughed at "What Happened to Jones," when he ran in New York. It seemed that the laugh was world wide in its reaching powers because there was an equal amount of enthusiasm shown when the play was produced at the Strand theater in London and for a whole year delighted large audiences. In Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, China, Japan and other countries, the play has been given and the broad rollicking, nerve tingling humor has convulsed with shricks of laughter all told, perhaps millions of theater goers. This is to be sent on tour through the United States this season and Mr. Thomas W. Broadhurst will give it his personal direction, At the Grand mat- register of deeds yesterday.
