

Divorce and Matrimony Records Are All Broken

Divorce Petition Heard and Granted, License Secured, Marriage Ceremony Performed and License Returned Within Less Than an Hour—The Divorcee and Bride Mrs. Arwood Banks—the Groom Robt. Moss.

A quick "deal in matrimony" with the divorce court playing a leading part, was pulled off here yesterday afternoon when Mrs. Delno Banks-Arwood, a comely matron of 23 years, was granted an absolute divorce from her legal but not loving and devoted husband, and within 20 minutes or such a matter emerged from the dignity of Magistrate Waddell's court a blushing bride—the wife of Robert Moss.

It was some time after court convened for the afternoon session yesterday that counsel for Mrs. Delno Banks-Arwood asked the indulgence of the court, prayed that the long, weary hearing of the Patton-Lady Lumler company branch of contract suit be suspended for a time—a very short time—in order that Mrs. Arwood might present her claim for a divorce from her husband, Allison Arwood. The court was indulgent; the branch of contract suit hearing was suspended and the divorce trial ushered in. The issues were speedily presented to the jury and the jury as speedily returned a verdict in effect that Mrs. Arwood was entitled to relief that she should be freed from the bonds of matrimony; that she should resume her maiden name, Mrs. Arwood, without waiting for the decree to be signed by the court and the judgment entered; left the court room and about that time a friend of Robert Moss hastened to the office of Register of Deeds Mackey, where a marriage license was secured for Mrs. Arwood and Mr. Moss. In the meantime the costs of the divorce proceedings were paid to the clerk and in a few minutes Mrs. Arwood and Mr. Moss were before Magistrate Waddell, where the marriage ceremony was said and Mrs. Arwood became Mrs. Moss. The divorce was granted; the marriage license secured; the marriage ceremony performed and the marriage license returned to the register of deeds' office, all within the space of less than an hour. That's a record, it is said, that has never been equalled in this or any other county in the state; in fact, if ever before in this country.

Only once before in this county was there even an approach to this record. That was about a year or so ago. It was toward the close of the late afternoon session in Superior court that a divorce was granted to a lady by the jury. Evidently all arrangements had been made for a speedy marriage and hastily counsel for the divorce sought the deputy clerk of the court and prayed that the judgment be entered upon the judgment docket at once, that all might be well and regular. The deputy clerk was in a hurry to get away; it was getting dark and he longed for the comfort and the quiet of his home. He declared that he would enter the judgment the following day; that he did not see that there was need for so much rush about a little thing like that. Counsel, however, was insistent and finally explained that unless that judgment was entered then and there a certain wedding event was going to be postponed—in short that all arrangements had been made for the marriage—a re-marriage—that evening. The deputy clerk, at ways an obliging fellow, said, in effect, oh, well, if that's the case, why of course, etc., and finally made formal entry of the judgment on the judgment docket of the court—and the thing was to all intent and purpose sealed and fixed—the decree was made a part of the court record.

Elephant 213 Years Old; Celebrates It With Eclat

Sallie Barnum celebrated her 213th birthday the other day with great eclat. Sallie is a pachyderm, venerable and amiable, and the oldest in years of the 29 elephants with the Barnum & Bailey herd. Sallie is an Indian elephant, and over a century ago was the property of an Indian rajah, perhaps the Akboud of Swat. She was first exhibited by the old Van Amburgh show when in the heyday of its glory, and was purchased by P. T. Barnum in the early days of his career as a show man. For over 49 years the maidenly Sallie has contentedly munchered peanuts with the Barnum show, and until age began to put a few kinks in her system was one of the cleverest in the performance. Now she only appears with the musical elephants where her work with the b-nat tuba attracts the attention of music lovers. Her birthday was made a notable

Nervous Dyspepsia And Neurasthenia

Weakness of the Nervous System Often Dependent Upon Long-Continued Indigestion.

Neurasthenia, also known as "nervous exhaustion," "nervous debility," and "nervous prostration," is a disease, which in these modern, strenuous times is becoming more and more prevalent. It is a condition in which there is more or less marked and persistent loss of energy, together with considerable irritability.

Persons who suffer from this trouble are easily excited and irritated; cannot do as much work as formerly, and in attempting any mental effort, quickly become confused, and are unable to concentrate the attention. They also complain of insomnia, nervous indigestion, depression of spirits, and palpitation of the heart.

There is a general muscular weakness; the person cannot walk very far, and tires quickly on attempting physical exertion. There is ringing in the ears; blurring of eyesight; headache and vertigo; specks floating before the eyes, and a general restlessness. The ability to sustain prolonged intellectual effort is interfered with, and the patient imagines he is losing his memory.

Neurasthenics continually watch for new symptoms, unconsciously exaggerate the old ones, attaching undue importance to them. Causeless fear is often suffered from; dread of some impending disaster, nervous pessimism; dark forebodings, and hysteria. Sleep is not refreshing, and the person feels much more tired in the morning than at night. Horrible dreams and nightmares are usually complained of.

But by far the most prominent manifestation of Neurasthenia is Nervous Dyspepsia. In nearly every case, this disturbance of the stomach dominates the complaint. Cause and effect may be transposed, and dyspepsia may be the result of Neurasthenia, but oftener, indigestion is the original cause of the nervous condition. The nerves are simply "starved" because the stomach does not digest the food properly, and as the nerves are dependent upon the food which the blood absorbs from the stomach for their sustenance, any deprivation thereof is sure to cause nerve weakness.

The use of "nervine tonics" in this condition is a mistake; they merely stimulate, but do not rebuild nerve tissue. Completely digested food is the only true nerve builder and strengthener; and in the treatment of nervous exhaustion one should first cure the nervous dyspepsia, which is usually the origin of the trouble, by taking STURTEVANT'S PEPSIN TABLETS in doses of one or two after each meal, or whenever needed, and the long train of nervous symptoms will be cured along with the nervous dyspepsia.

This celebrated remedy is without a peer in the treatment of nervous indigestion and all its attendant ailments. They digest all the food with great thoroughness, and facilitate its absorption by the blood, which carries it to the weakened, diseased nerves and builds them up, so that every symptom of Nervous Exhaustion is gotten rid of.

HENDERSONVILLE NEWS OF A DAY

When All Sidewalks Are Paved. Free Mail Delivery Service Will Be Inaugurated.

JACKSON "HOG CASE" ENDS; DEFENDANTS ARE ACQUITTED

Marsupials Piteous in Henderson Woods—Notes of People Coming and Going, etc.

The Gazette-News Bureau, Hotel Gates, Hendersonville, Oct. 8.

As soon as the necessary improvements are made on Hendersonville's sidewalks, mail carrier service will be begun. Postoffice Inspector D. M. Harshberger of Asheville was here yesterday in reference to the free mail delivery, and made a thorough examination of the situation. The post-office receipts are considerably over the necessary amount for the change; so when the new walks are laid and all sidewalks paved, the mail service improvement will be inaugurated.

Postmaster Jackson said to a Gazette-News reporter yesterday that it was only a question of a short while before the city authorities would comply with the requirements made by the postoffice department.

Defendants Not Guilty.

In the Transylvania "hog case" the jury after spending 26 hours deliberating over the facts, returned a verdict of "not guilty," and Henry and Shelby Owens are free men. They were accused of the larceny of a hog in Jackson county, the case being removed to Henderson.

Hunting Party.

Possoms are plentiful, says Deputy Sheriff J. V. Stroup. Journeying several miles from the city last night Mr. Stroup accompanied several other gentlemen on an old-time "possum hunt" out at Ex-Sheriff Freeman's farm, near Horse Shoe. Trails were easy to find and in a short time they had captured ten "Billy Possums," losing only two of the dogs had trailed. Those in the party were J. V. Stroup, D. E. Reese, Sheriff Freeman, and Bill Kays.

To Attend Association.

D. S. Pace, J. N. McMahon and others left yesterday for Saluda, where they will attend the Mt. Pisgah Baptist association as delegates from this district.

Edgar and Alfred Morgan of Ruthersford were in town today.

Mrs. A. A. Gates has returned from a trip to Greenville, S. C.

Walter E. Moore has returned to his home in Webster.

NAVY REORGANIZATION.

Increased Efficiency and Red-distribution of Duties Sought.

New York Tribune.

The time is at hand for the report of the naval board, which, with Rear Admiral Swift as its chairman, has been holding sessions all summer at the Charleston navy yard. This is the last of a series of special boards appointed by the secretary of the navy to deal with the various problems of naval reorganization, and to it have been referred the findings of each of the bodies which preceded it, to each of which was referred, in turn, some special phase of investigation. The need of the navy department organization, which shall include the administration of navy yards, no one who has studied the subject questions. Former Secretary Newberry began his work but in the limited time at his disposal was unable to complete it, and, whatever may be thought of

GAVE UP ALL HOPE

After Four Long Years of Suffering, Mrs. Dean of Benbrook Was Finally Relieved by Cardui.

Benbrook, Tex.—"I feel like it is my duty to advise other women to take Cardui, the woman's tonic," writes Mrs. L. C. Dean of R. F. D. No. 5, Benbrook, Tex.

"I suffered for four (4) long years with female complaints. Such a miserable person as I was! I had three doctors, but they did me no good, and I gave up all hope of being relieved.

"At last, my doctors advised me to take Cardui, the woman's tonic. I took four bottles and now I am well. Cardui saved my life and I cannot say enough for it. I have prescribed it with great success for young girls and women with various forms of female complaint.

"Cardui is a real boon to suffering women. I am thankful for the good it has done me and I know it will cure others."

This remarkable letter from a lady who has actually tried Cardui, ought surely to convince you of its genuine merit and induce you to give it a trial for your troubles.

Purely vegetable, perfectly harmless, non-intoxicating and free from all deleterious ingredients, Cardui is the ideal remedy for all weak, suffering women, young or old.

You are urged to get a bottle at the drug store and commence its use today.

NOTE.—The Cardui Home Treatment for Women (consists of Cardui (11), Thedford's Black Draught (25c), or Veto (50c), for the liver, and Cardui Antiseptic (50c). These remedies may be taken singly, by themselves, if desired, or three together, as a complete treatment for women's ills. Write to: Ladies' Advisory Dept., Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn., for Special Instructions, and 4-page book, "Home Treatment for Women," sent in plain wrapper, on request.

MAKES STOMACH TROUBLE VANISH

Indigestion, Gas, Heartburn and Dyspepsia go and you will feel fine in five minutes.

Why not get some now—this moment, and forever rid yourself of Stomach trouble and Indigestion? A dieted stomach gets the blues and grumbles. Give it a good eat, then take Pape's Diapepsin to start the digestive juices working. There will be no dyspepsia or belching of Gas or eructations of undigested food; no feeling like a lump of lead in the stomach or heartburn sick headache ferment and poison your breath with nauseous odors.

Pape's Diapepsin costs only 50 cents for a large case at any drug store here, and will relieve the most obstinate case of Indigestion and Upset Stomach in five minutes.

There is nothing else better to take Gas from Stomach and cleanse the stomach and intestines, and, besides, one single dose will digest and prepare for assimilation into the blood all your food the same as a sound, healthy stomach would do it.

When Diapepsin works, your stomach rests—gets itself in order, cleans up—and then you feel like eating when you come to the table, and what you eat will do you good.

Absolute relief from All Stomach Misery is waiting for you as soon as you decide to take a little Diapepsin. Tell your druggist that you want Pape's Diapepsin, because you want to become thoroughly cured this time.

Remember if your stomach feels out of order and uncomfortable now you can get relief in five minutes.

The policy which he adopted, there is no doubt that he left a perplexing situation for his successor. Secretary Meyer attacked the problems with deliberation and ability. A business man of extended to accept purely business methods as his guide. A brief study of the situation and consultation with the highest naval authorities convinced him that there was an educational side to naval administration and the performance of work in the navy yards which was quite as important as economy of performance. His naval advisers found no difficulty in impressing upon him the fundamental principle that the efficiency of the floating navy and its personnel must, after all, be the chief board which shall render competent technical advice to the civilian secretary of the navy, instead of leaving him at the mercy of factional advisers and overenthusiastic theorists.

Hoarseness in a child subject to croup is a sure indication of the approach of the disease. If Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is given at once or even after the croupy cough has appeared, it will prevent the attack. Contains no poison.

Increased efficiency and economy in navy yard administration, such a redistribution of duties in the navy department as will obviate duplications of work and at the same time secure certain checks by one bureau of the work of another, and, finally, the creation of some form of advisory board which shall render competent technical advice to the civilian secretary of the navy, instead of leaving him at the mercy of factional advisers and overenthusiastic theorists.
