Social Diversions.
 The theater this week seems to be taking the place of all the usual little card parties, bridge luncheons and minor gaieties that mark the lull between the seasons. Many of the hostesses express their appreciation of a short rest from functions, and their satisfaction in the offered opportunity to give some supervision to the winter wardrobe. Even with the ready-to-wear garments, tailor-made suits and the help of competent seamstresses for the simpler gowns, there remains the individual touch that every woman of taste prefers to give to her apparel. Therefore there are flying needles this week, and much conferring together about the latest fashions and furbelows. This is the explanation, given by some, for the social page. Other hostesses say that bridge is at last losing its charm. The very useful, from the entertainer's standpoint, and popular game is said to have had its day. A group of the leading youthful matrons of the city have been considering every possible idea offered for something different to give to their friends. The tea-musical has received the most pronounced approval. A few musical numbers, more or less as the formality and size of the function demands, followed by simple but delicate refreshment. This form of entertainment is dignified and enjoyable. There is a great deal of talent, latent in Asheville, that could be utilized for such occasions, and the prophecy is made that this will be the popular social function of the coming season.

Y. W. C. A. Notes.
 The Study club met Tuesday evening and spent a very profitable hour considering the Artherian legends. The old form of the legends was presented by Miss Martha Goodwin, while papers upon Launcelot and Elaine and "The Passing of Arthur," from Tennyson's Idylls, with selections from both poems, were read by Miss Clem Buckner and Miss Ada Goodwin. A tentative organization of the club was effected and the following officers elected for three months: Miss Louise M. Ingersoll, president; Miss Wilhelmina Schartle, vice-president, and Miss Pearl E. Morrow, secretary-treasurer. The club now numbers thirteen, and promises to be an interesting and useful organization. The Bible class which is studying the Gospel of Mark under Miss Elizabeth Sinclair will meet this evening at seven-thirty.

THE OPENING TONIGHT OF THE CELEBRATION
 Friends of the Y. M. C. A., Without Reference to Membership, Are Invited to Attend Meeting Tonight.

Tonight marks the opening of the celebration of the twentieth anniversary of the Young Men's Christian association in this city. This celebration will last for four days, closing Sunday afternoon with a mass meeting in the Auditorium, which will be led by Dr. Potest, president of Wake Forest college. Tonight at 8 o'clock the doors of the local association will be thrown open to the friends of the association in the city and the men and ladies are cordially invited to come and enjoy a social hour whether they are members of the association or not. The Ladies' Auxiliary will have the program in charge and will receive the guests at the door and give them a hearty welcome. They have prepared delightful refreshments for this occasion and have tastefully decorated the building with autumn leaves so that it presents a very pretty appearance. W. E. Collins' orchestra will furnish music during the social hour and while the visitors are gathering.

George L. Hackney, historian of the local association, will during the evening read a paper giving a resume of the work done by the Y. M. C. A. in this city during the last 20 years—from 1889 to 1909. Immediately following the reading of this paper the different games of the institution will be put in operation for the amusement of the guests. Three pool tournaments will be played by six of the good shots of the association. A hard fought duck-pin tournament will be fought by men who are numbered among the best in the city, while in the gymnasium a volley-ball game will be played by the business men of the city who are members of the business men's class.

Volley-ball has proven the most popular game in the "gym" this year and tonight the guests will have the opportunity of witnessing a game which while new here is nevertheless highly interesting. After these games are finished the every will be brought to a close by the serving of refreshments by the Ladies' Auxiliary.

NEARLY ONE CAR LOAD OF PAMPHLETS ISSUED

To Be Sent to Voters in Counties That the Transcontinental Railway Will Traverse.

Special to The Gazette-News. Waynesville, Nov. 11.—The South Atlantic Transcontinental Railway company is sending out from its Waynesville office nearly a carload of literature to voters. Col. S. A. Jones, the president, recently visited eleven counties on the proposed line—from Brunswick to Rutherford. In all these elections are to be held on the question of issuing bonds in aid of the road, and the other four counties on the line, it is said, will call elections in the December meetings of the commissioners. There are more than 50,000 voters in the eleven counties, and the company is sending a 42-page pamphlet to each voter. The Hackney & Moale company of Asheville are the printers, and 12,000 copies of the pamphlet have already been mailed. At a recent meeting of the directors of the company attorneys were named, one for each county interested, to aid in the election work.

MORSE APPEALS TO THE SUPREME COURT

Counsel for "Ice King" Declares His Client Did Nothing Irregular, in His Banking Operations.

Washington, Nov. 11.—A petition for a writ of certiorari to have the Supreme court review the judgment of the Circuit Court of Appeals in New York in the case of Charles W. Morse, the "Ice King" convicted of misapplication of the funds of the National Bank of North America, has been filed in the higher tribunal by Martin W. Littlejohn, counsel for Mr. Morse. Formal presentation of the motion will be made by Mr. Littlejohn next Monday. Mr. Morse is under sentence of fifteen years imprisonment in the federal prison at Atlanta. "The Supreme court will search the records of criminal cases in vain to discover a parallel to this case," declared Mr. Littlejohn in his petition. He charged that the naked facts in the case were "overdressed in the indictment of Morse," that when properly understood and clearly stated they "show that the petitioner did no more than procure others to make loans at the bank, supported by ample collateral, which loans he informed the bank were his in fact, and pledged his then sufficient fortune to their payment; that these loans were from time to time paid off, and the bank allowed to take the profit in the rise of the collateral which took place from time to time."

The freedom allowed to insert in the indictment several counts, he urged, had been perverted into a perfect debauchery of pleading. Mr. Littlejohn claimed that the sentence was void, because Morse had been sentenced to imprisonment for fifteen years on the count, when under the statute he could only be sentenced not to exceed ten years.

"THE PLACE OF DELIVERY IS THE PLACE OF SALE"

So Says Game Warden McElroy, in Reference to the County Game Law.

The people of Asheville, it now seems, will have to do without a "hot bird and a cold bottle" this season, unless they betake themselves to the field and hedge and by their prowess and skill bring back the bird and order from a distant market. This is the construction placed upon the Buncombe county game law this morning by John W. McElroy, game warden under the auspices of the North Carolina Audubon society. The stall-keepers of Central market this morning asked Mr. McElroy if they would be allowed to ship birds into Asheville from Haywood and adjoining counties and offer them for sale here. This it seems would be contrary to the law, which specially provides that no birds shall be sold in Buncombe county. Mr. McElroy this morning told the enquirers that he would, under the state law, hold that the place of delivery was the place of sale, and therefore the sale of birds in Asheville, even though they might be killed in other counties, would be a violation of the law. For this reason it is likely that a larger number of Asheville gentlemen will try their fortune in the fields this year than usual. The open season in Buncombe goes into effect Monday.

NON-SUIT TAKEN IN BROCKENBOROUGH CASE

Judge Boyd Announces That Evidence Is Not Sufficient to Allow Case to Go to the Jury.

After Judge Boyd announced yesterday afternoon that there was not sufficient evidence for him to allow the suit of Edward H. Brockenborough against the Champion Fibre company to go to the jury, and consequently directed a non-suit; attorneys for the plaintiff sued out a writ of error to the Circuit Court of Appeals, which writ was signed by Judge Boyd. This means that attorneys intend to carry the case up on appeal. Mr. Brockenborough was asking for $61,000 damages on account of an alleged breach of contract for the delivery of 3000 to 5000 cords of chestnut wood per year from points within a radius of 100 miles of Canton. Judge Boyd held that the placing of a temporary embargo by the Fibre company on shipments of chestnut wood was not a sufficient renunciation of the contract to allow recovery.

HER LIFE A BURDEN

Now Lady Says She Would Not Be Placed Back Where She Was For Whole World.

Ratcliff, Tex.—"Two years ago, my health was very bad," writes Mrs. Mattie Campbell of this place. "I suffered untold misery every month. It is useless to say where my worst aches were, for I ached all over every month. At times I wished for death to end my suffering, for life was a burden to me."

"Finally I decided to take Cardui. First I tried one bottle and it helped me so much I ordered $5.00 worth. I took the six bottles, which kept me in fine health for one year and saved a large doctor's bill. I took six more bottles and can now say that 12 bottles of Cardui have stopped my suffering, made life worth living and filled my home with joy and happiness."

"I would not be placed back, like I was two years ago, not for this whole world rolled at my feet. Your wonderful medicine, Cardui, has my praise for all its great works and I do wish that every suffering woman in the world would only try this grand medicine."

If you suffer as Mrs. Campbell did, be sure that Cardui will help you, as it did her. Why not try it? Your druggist sells it. Ask him. N. B.—Write to Ladies' Advisory Dept., Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn., for Special Instructions, and 64-page book, "Home Treatment for Women," sent in plain wrapper, on request. N 112

CHIROPRACTIC, THE KEY TO HEALTH!
 If the nerve force passing between the brain and the various bodily organs is obstructed, it will leave insufficient power for the proper operation of the parts of the body affected. If the life stimuli be cut off entirely, any organ dependent upon these nerves will be paralyzed. If several cartilages are weakened upon the same side, the settling of the vertebrae will cause a curvature of the spine. CHIROPRACTIC ADJUSTMENTS replace displaced vertebrae, forcibly stretching the cartilage, giving nature's opportunity of expanding, building and thickening these cushions to their normal conditions thus permanently removing the chronic pressure of the channels of life. No matter what your disease, there is a CAUSE. Remember! We locate this cause without asking a question and remove it without the use of drugs or the surgeon's knife. Father! Mother!
