THE SOCIAL OUTLOOK.

THE week opens with but little prospect of a break in the social calm that marks the interval between seasons. In Asheville, the large reception to be given Tuesday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Reuben H. Rawls for Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Rawls and the notable high noon wedding at the First Baptist church Wednesday, when Miss Bertha Blanche Whittington and William Turner Buttrick will be united in marriage, will be the social events of interest. A few luncheons and very informal affairs given in honor of the bride to be by intimate friends, will make up the quota of social entertainment. A number of out-of-town Thanksgivings family reunions have been called off because of the unexpected school session Friday, following the Thanksgiving holiday. The children are grieving over the loss of their long-looked-for outing, although of course in some instances the parties will go on as planned and the children miss the day in school. The Thanksgiving ball at the Battery Park hotel, with the Mooney-Bingham football game and Thanksgiving matinee, will brighten the latter part of the week for the younger set.

Y. W. C. A. Notes.
The excellent talk given by Miss Elizabeth Sinclair yesterday afternoon at the vesper service of the Y. W. C. A. made a fitting close to the observance of the world's week of prayer. There was a good attendance and all listened with much interest to what the association throughout the world has accomplished during the past year.

The Embroidery class, which was interrupted last week, will be resumed tonight at 7:30 with Miss Georgia Dennis teaching.

The regular meeting of the board of directors will be held tomorrow morning at 10:30.

Missionary Society Meeting.
The Anna Aston Missionary society will hold the prayer meeting at Central church Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. The following is the program: Devotional exercises.

Mrs. E. C. Chambers.
Leaflet, "The World Our Parish."
"Our Work in Brazil."

Mrs. Frank Smith.
Review of the book, "The Days of June."

Mrs. W. J. Coker.
All the young women of the Asheville Methodist churches are urged to attend; visitors cordially welcomed.

Dinner to Factory Children.
The senior Philatheas of the Central Methodist church will serve a Thanksgiving dinner Thursday to 60 of the factory children at the Methodist chapel near the mills. The Salvation Army are providing a Thanksgiving feast for the poor uptown, but these children have no Thanksgiving holiday and if they are to taste of the good things of the season it must be during their short nooning. For this the Philatheas are making generous provision.

Central Philatheas Officers.
The Philatheas class of the Central Methodist church held their annual election of officers yesterday. The following officers were elected for the coming year: Miss Kathleen Ware, president; Mrs. Howell, vice-president; Miss Minnie McElrath, secretary and treasurer.

The pupils of Mrs. Julia Burdick gave an interesting recital in the presence of their parents and friends Saturday afternoon. The demonstration of "Miss Keyboard's School" by the Burrows class was unique and showed plainly how thorough, and yet how attractive, this kindergarten method is, to the beginner in musical study. The motion songs introducing the numerous steps, in accomplishing the theory, as well as technique, of piano playing, were sung by the little ones with energy and precision. Most of the piano pieces were played from memory. After the following program delightful refreshments were served by Mrs. Burdick:

1. Jack and Jill.....Spaulding Martha Chambers.
2. Merry Trifles Polka.....Lindsay Fälline Smathers.
3. Mother's Goose Rhymes, musical setting by Katherine Burrows.....Dorothy Atkinson.
4. Dance of the Dryads.....Carl Wolf Leona Lambertson.
5. Class Demonstration I. of Burrows Method.
6. Marguerite Valse.....Kern Mary Francis Shuford.
7. (a) Etude.....Cserny (b) Tramerel and Romans.....Schumann (c) Walden-Intermezzo.....Englemann Dorothae Weaver.
8. Essay on "Josef Maydn".....Dorothy Atkinson.
9. (a) The Mill Wheel.....Gesa Horvath (b) Wild Horseman.....Schumann Edmund Burdick.
10. In Maytime, Old English Dance.....Bischoff Adalene Weaver.
11. Class Demonstration II. of the Burrows Method.

The tea room at the Woman's exchange will be open Thanksgiving day and the serving of an appetizing turkey dinner will be the feature of the day. This is the revival of an old custom at the exchange that has fallen into disuse for the past year or two and the announcement of its revival will be welcomed by many lovers of a good home dinner, well cooked and attractively served. Several families have expressed a determination to dine on family in the pretty tea room on Thursday. The room will be attractively decorated with the foliage and flowers of autumn. Special dinners may be ordered, but the regular Thanksgiving menu of "turkey and fixins" will be toothsome enough to satisfy the most epicurean taste.

Paul and Hobart Canaday entertained their neighborhood friends with an old-fashioned candy pull Saturday evening at their home on Merriam avenue. Julius Martin won the prize for pulling the whitest candy in 15 minutes, the time limit. The guests, who took part in the frolic were Bruce and Stanford Webb, Julius and Norman Martin, Reuben Rawls, Roy Donahoe, Daniel Hodgson and Horace Robertson.

"The Wranglers" will hold their regular meeting this evening at the Manor. The subject for discussion is "Our Methods of Punishing Criminals." J. E. Swain will be the essayist, and Allen Morrison the respondent.

The bridal party of the Whittington-Buttrick wedding will be entertained Tuesday evening at the home of the Misses Whittington on Vance street. A buffet luncheon will be served.

"The Strollers" will meet tomorrow night at the home of Mrs. Charles M. Platt on North French Broad avenue. Burnett Jordan will read Ibsen's "The Doll House."

Miss Helen Murphy will entertain tomorrow with a luncheon at her home in West Asheville.

Mrs. E. H. Dysart of Marion is in Asheville for a few days.

W. W. Neal and W. K. M. Gilkey of Marion are Asheville visitors today.

R. L. Groome of Knoxville is a business visitor today.

J. M. Burns spent the week-end in Shelby with Mrs. Burns and Mrs. A. R. Ware, who are visiting in that city with relatives.

All of the grades of the Orange street school won the Friday half holiday granted for a high average of attendance, with the exception of the Fifth B grade. All of the teachers celebrated the notable occasion by taking part in a bountiful luncheon, served in the building after the dismissal of the pupils at noon.

Mrs. E. K. Randall, who has been ill with rheumatism for the past two weeks, is slowly improving, but is unable to walk yet.

Editor Barrows of the Hustler, Hendersonville, is in the city today.

A. A. Buehler leaves today for his home in Ohio to spend Thanksgiving with his parents and other relatives at Toledo, O.

Miss Marie Gruver, who has been staying at The Elm, on Walnut street, left this morning for Johnson City, Tenn., where she will spend a month.

WORKS OF ART.
Among the recent importations of art novelties and embroideries made by Mrs. A. S. Denoon, whose art store is situated in the Sondley Building, opposite the Asheville Club on Haywood street are a number of beautifully embroidered and hand made handkerchiefs direct from Switzerland, and Armenia. Many of the designs are exquisite in their dainty effects and have elicited the enthusiasm of some of Asheville's society ladies.

PHOTOS OF MEN

Alcolm's Business Magazine had Mr. Ray make photos of prominent New York Business Men, because his photos had lots of style, showing many looking men in easy natural poses, showing lots of character.

Asheville Laundry,
J. A. NICHOLS, Manager
PHONE 95.

Of more than passing interest to ladies hereabouts is the knowledge that Asheville possesses a tailoring establishment that produces man-tailored suits the equal of those made in New York and Paris. The efforts of Mr. Logan, the Pack Square tailor, in this direction last season met with such a decided measure of success that this season he has brought from the east a number of high class man tailors that do ladies' tailoring exclusively, their work being equal to any produced abroad.

They Can Be Had Now, But—

A great line of Books, 18c, 25c, 50c. Novels, Books for boys, girls' and children (Alger, Henty, Mayne Reid, Greenwood, Meade, Little Prudy, Trowbridge, Carey, and other good ones), Poems, etc. Pick them early, for they linger not.

Stylish Garments for ladies and misses reduced far below recent prices. Our Suits, Coats, and Caps are made by good tailors who know the cloths to buy and who make well fitting goods in the styles approved by wearers of fine apparel.

As to Men's and Boys' Suits and Overcoats you will travel far—very far—to find the equal of our assortment. All the new effects in stock, nearly up to the grade of custom work. We show good Wool Suits at $7.50 to $9 (Special Bargains lately made) and in the range 'twixt $15 and $25 a superb line.

Stylish new things just opened—in Fine Shoes, Novelty Fur Hats, Fur Scarfs, Muffs, and Children's Fur Sets, Steamer Rugs and Indian Slumber Robes, Fine Wool Dress Goods, Corsets, Ribbons, Embroideries, Neckwear, Mufflers, Kid Gloves, Golf Gloves, Union Suits, Underwear of all kinds, Aprons, Ingersoll Watches, etc., etc., etc.

We respectfully ask an early call on the merchandise for Christmas Presents. While we shall make a strong effort to keep the line up there are many choice dainty things of foreign manufacture of which we now have a stock but of which we can get no more. The N. Y. Importers are nearly bare now of the very best things.
