"THIS IS MY 54TH BIRTHDAY."
Porter J. McCumber.
Porter J. McCumber, who has interesting stories on his hands now for re-election as United States senator from North Dakota, was born at Crete, Illinois, February 3, 1856. He was graduated from the law department of the University of Michigan in 1880 and the following year went to North Dakota, where he soon attained prominence at the bar. His public career began in 1886, when he was elected to the territorial legislature for a two years' term. Later he served as state's attorney for Richland county. In 1899 he was elected to the United States senate to succeed William N. Boech and was re-elected six years ago for the term expiring in March, 1911. Thompson, who was appointed to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Senator M. N. Johnson.

The MARKETS

The Leading Stocks on New York Exchange—Cotton Market Quotations.

New York, Feb. 3.—A flood of stocks was poured into the market with beginning of business today, and caused a violent break in prices. Declines ran from a large fraction to a point in practically all prominent issues.

Despite a determined drive against Amalgamated Copper, which sent it below 75, and scattered liquidation in less active stocks, the list made progress upwards, the rally reaching a point in many instances.

New York, Feb. 3.—Efforts were made to sustain United States steel above $9, when it broke to 75 5-8, and it was the signal for wholesale liquidation in all parts of the list. Leading speculative railroads and industrial stocks all broke from 2 to 3 points, and in special stocks the losses were even more severe. Feverish rallies of a fraction to over a point were poorly held, and the tone remained much unsettled at noon. Bonds weak.

HAYWOOD COUNTY STILL DESTROYED

And Some of the Neighbors Are Mad About It—Paris Cogburn Arrested.

SEVERAL FISTIC ARGUMENTS OCCURRED, IT IS REPORTED

The Distillery Appears to Have Been in Operation For a Number of Years.

Gazette-News Bureau, The Bon Air, Waynesville, Feb. 2.
As a result of the destruction of a large distillery out in East Fork township last week considerable hard feeling has been engendered among the neighbors, and latest reports from the Cruso vicinity are that a small "devil war" is almost in progress.
Paris Cogburn, alleged to be the owner of the blockade distillery, which was confiscated by Deputy Sheriff John Heatherly, was captured along with his property and brought here. He succeeded in getting persons to go on his bond of $200. When the case was called yesterday before the grand jury Cogburn could not be found. His bondsmen then caused papers to be issued for his immediate arrest.
The real cause of the disputations and ructions going on in the East Fork section is not known; but several reports have been heard that some of the neighbors were active in support of Deputy Sheriff Heatherly's course while several others took the part of Cogburn. As a result there were threats, and one or two fights are reported. It is evident if the distillery has been in operation for many years and the alleged proprietor is well known.
Charges have been openly made against Deputy Heatherly as to the way he made the arrest but so far no warrants have been issued for his arrest and it is thought by some of the conservative residents of the East Fork section that Heatherly acted entirely according to the law.
Candidates Thick.
Court convened yesterday. In the town there are no fewer than half a dozen political candidates for various offices on the scene, actively engaged in working for their respective interests, meeting old acquaintances and making new ones. W. J. Cooke and former Congressman J. M. Gudgeon, jr., of Asheville, and former speaker of the legislative house, Walter E. Moore of Webster, all three mentioned in connection with the congressional nomination, were here. J. P. Swift, recently sold his telephone exchange at Canton to a local company, and will turn his attention now to some material improvements in his exchanges in this town, Sylva, Dilshboro and Webster. These exchanges combined are perhaps the largest independent telephone concerns in western North Carolina.

MEAT WAS STILL ON THE RISE TODAY

But New York Dealers Report a Serious Falling Off in Sales—Grand Jury at Work.

New York, Feb. 3.—Meat was still on the rise in the local markets today. Retailers in many sections of the city, especially in the poorer quarters, reported a falling off of one-third to one-half in sales.
The grand jury is trying to find out if there is an agreement between the big warehouses to hold back supplies and maintain high prices.
Pursuant to power vested in it by law and the note thereby secured the undersigned will on the 21st day of February at the county court house door at 12 o'clock noon sell at public auction for cash to the highest bidder the following described personal property of said C. W. Kibler, to-wit: Certificates No. 12 and No. 59 for twenty-four and twenty-eight shares respectively, par value $100.00 per share, of the Big Ivy Timber company.
Said property having been deposited as collateral security with the undersigned to secure a certain indebtedness of said Kibler-Brown Lumber company and C. W. Kibler, and default having been made in the payment of said debt thereby secured.
This the 28th day of January, A. D. 1910.

BROKE UP 19 STILLS IN THE DARK CORNER

This Is the Record for January—All of Them Were Big Outfits.

According to figures obtained from the revenue officers, says the Greenville, S. C. News, they destroyed during the month of January nineteen illicit whiskey plants in the "dark corner."
"These plants were all big outfits, averaging in capacity about 25 gallons of whiskey a day. Figuring on this average of 'mountain dew' every day, it would seem as though the moonshiners can afford to make whiskey, even though they are placed at a loss in putting up new plants when the officers cut their stills."
"One of the officers the other day said that the moonshiners could easily get a dollar a quart for their whiskey, for drinking people preferred it to the booze bought from out-of-State concerns."
Sixteen thousand gallons of beer, eight bushels of malt, forty-one bushels of meal were poured out the past month in the cutting up of the nineteen distilleries by Revenue Officer Merrick and his men.
"The officers also confiscated 19 gallons of 'moonshine,' which was brought to the city."

Charles Frohman's production of "The Brass Bottle," which was to have followed "Oh, Shiner" at the Garrick Theatre, New York, has been indefinitely postponed owing to Mr. Shiner's success in "Your Rumble Servant," in which he will appear for the rest of the season.
