

Bon Marche

A Superb Showing of Fashion's Latest Fancies in Spring Apparel

Every department in this popular store is filled to overflowing with beautiful Spring goods. Accommodating salespeople are ready and anxious to fill your every want. It is a known fact that nowhere in the city will you find such large varieties and such excellent values. Then, too, the Bon Marche guarantees satisfaction--you can depend upon the merchandise purchased here, whether a pin or an elaborate suit or costume.

Easter Gloves Await Your Approval

Ever on the alert for the newest and best for our patrons, we count ourselves favored indeed by those leading makers of gloves whose productions contribute to render this showing unique in the many spring novelties it presents.

The Centmeri kid gloves are the best we show, to those that have been fortunate enough to wear a pair, there is no need stating they are the best that money can buy. The most critical women buyers purchase these gloves and will accept no substitute.

In the glace and undressed kid for $1.90 and $2.00 pair.

Other kid gloves are priced at $1.00 to $1.65 pair in all colors.

Silk gloves, in black and colors, for 50c pair up.

Spring Styles in 1910 Millinery

Our Milliners have been working night and day, to place before you for your inspection, the most beautiful display of Spring Hats this section has yet seen. The elaborate creations of America's foremost designers are shown on the second floor of the Bon Marche's store.

See our hats, compare them with others. If you are looking for values, this is certainly the place to come. Then the styles we show will naturally appeal to ladies who know and appreciate distinctive models in up-to-date Millinery.

The large "Monoplane" hat still retains its popularity and the presence of cloud-like masses of tulle, and the extensive use of unfinished leghorn and black velvet indicates the high favor these decidedly effective styles enjoy.

Spring Suits and Dresses Are Wonderfully Becoming

The remarkably varied assortment of correct styles are surprising and pleasing, even those who come prepared to be extremely critical--the showing is superior. Closely allied to the many exclusive features of style is the unexpectedly beautiful blending of colors and shades in the fabrics, all of which represent the best and newest type of the weavers' art.

Another thing that is attracting the buyers to this store is the very reasonable prices we are offering them for. Our strongest line sells for $25.00. In this line we can show you a variety of suits second to none. There are some superb dresses at this price also, for both street and evening wear.

Garments are literally pouring into our Ready-to-Wear Department. Never have we shown so large and diversified an assortment as now. Pay a call to this department--whether you wish to buy or not--it will be time well spent.

BALANCE WRONG IN HENDERSON

Mr. Cannon Figures that County Bought $300,000 Worth of Things It Could Have Raised.

MEETING AT DANA; CORN CLUB FORMED

All Day Gathering, the Ladies Attending, Too--Addresses by Mr. Parker and Prof. Schaub.

Gazette-News Bureau, Hotel Gates, Hendersonville, March 14.

It was an all day affair, about 75 farmers gathering from a radius of 15 miles of country, bringing their wives and children--that the "seed corn meeting" held at Dana Saturday. Demonstrator T. B. Parker and Prof. I. O. Schaub gave the farmers some interesting information about the cultivation of corn and the advantages of making a careful selection of the seed to produce the largest yields.

Although the roads in many places were very bad on account of the recent rains, yet the weather, Saturday, was ideal for an all day gathering and the farmers having no particular work at home, the fields too wet for plowing, arrived in Dana early in the morning bringing their households and each a large basket of dinner. About 1 o'clock Mr. Parker announced that the meeting would adjourn for dinner. The ladies began preparing a spread of every variety of good things to eat "off the farm," and soon all were seated about a beautiful "dinner on the ground." In the afternoon the subject of the boys corn contest was thoroughly explained. A Cannon of Horse Shoe, the well known Henderson county farmer, spoke to the audience in a forceful manner, urging the farmers to lend their aid to the boys, encouraging them to stay on the farms and raise more corn. He said that the younger generation of farmers will soon be called upon to supply the country with produce and that his 29 years experience of farming in Henderson county had brought him to the conclusion that this country can at least meet the demands for produce consumed by people in Henderson county. He has figured out that at the present and during the past year, over $300,000 worth of produce which could be raised here was shipped into the county from the west and other parts.

"This certainly should not be the case any longer," said Mr. Cannon. "We must be up and doing, and the best way possible is to teach the boys and at the same time keep it up ourselves."

SOLD A STOLEN HORSE AND THEN SKIPPED OUT

The Facts Indicate That That Is What Lyda Morris Did.

Several days ago Lyda Morris hired a horse from a livery stable in Waynesville, and it is alleged he has not returned it to the owners. The authorities here were notified to look out for either Morris or the horse and yesterday afternoon Officer Wright was asked to make a search over in West Asheville. The horse was found near R. M. Wells' residence.

Morris had been seen in West Asheville Saturday trying to trade horses with several persons. It was learned that he found a purchaser who paid him handsomely in cash, besides giving in addition an old mule, which later proved to be too slow for the rider, who gave the mule the "go-by" in the edge of West Asheville and it was found there yesterday and returned to the owner.

The horse which it is alleged was stolen is now in possession of Deputy Wright. No trace of Morris has been found.

The MARKETS

The Leading Stocks on New York Exchange--Cotton Market Quotations.

New York, March 14.--Trading was in light volume at the outset today, price changes for the most part being unimportant. There were fractional gains in New York Central, Northern Pacific, Reading, U. S. Steel, and few other specialties.

The smallness of Jealings in stocks was ascribed by room traders to expectation of a Supreme court decision in the American Tobacco company case. More substantial influence was caused by the tightening of the money market. The tone was firm at noon. Bonds were irregular.

Speculation was heavy in tone during the late session, but here was no severe pressure of stock and the leaders ruled at about last week's close.
