It was a touching scene when the secretary read a com-munication from the honored and bethat he should give his place to a younger man. The conference was perhaps the most attentive at this point of any time of the day, for at times, and especially during the con-sideration of the report of the committee on Sunday schools, the hall was very noisy and with difficulty Bishop Atkins kept order.

It is expected that the debate on the time limit" subject will be reached Friday, and it may be that consideration will be given the woman's rights business that day-if the two can be considered in the same day. Tomorrow morning it is expected that the report of the committee on temperance and other moral and social is-sues, regarding the use of tobacco, will come up for discussion. There is a minority report and an interesting day is promised

The Sunday school committee's report was not completed when the time for adjournment arrived, but the first four sections had been adopted after various and sundry amendments, especially regarding paragraph 4, were

The first section adopted included the home department and the cradle roll in the list of organizations concerning which reports must be made tarierly conferences, etc. The second extends the duties of the editor of Sunday school literature to mines and mining which now goes to travel in the interest of Sunday school work throughout the church's territory as chairman of the general Sunday school board; the third section is unimportant, while the fourth provides for the organization of each Sunday school into a missionary soclety to be conducted under such a policy as to missionary education (effort and offering) as shall from time to time be agreed upon jointly by the sunday school board and board of missions, and emphasized the monthly missionary day. The words "effort" and "offering" were eliminated after a rather lengthy and heated discussion on the part of those who objected to too much "red tape" as they termed it, being thrown about the work of the Sunday schools.

The report of the committee on church extension was adopted giving any unnual conference board, city oard of church extension, power with the consent of the annual conference to employ a secretary to give his time to the interests to the beard in the territory represented by Bishop Key Asks to Be Redeved.

In a message full of tenderness and leve, Bishop Joseph S. Key of Nashville, requested that he be released from active service in the Episocopacy and that his place be filled by a younger man. He stated that he is now 31 years old, was elected to the spicopacy 24 years ago at Richmond; that he had discharged the duties to the best of bis ability and in unbroken fear of God. He had served in the ministry for 32 years—coraing the court to be made by them.

While the president made the principal address at the unveiling of the monument to Pulaski, which stands in the triangle at Thirteenth street and Pennsylvania avenue, Secretary of War Dickinson was making the principal address at the Kosciusczko statue in Lafayette park, opposite the White House, and J. F. Smulski, of the Polish National alliance, made an ddress in Polish. The monument to Pulaski rected by an act of congress, but the statue to Kosciusczko is a gift to the nation from the Polish National alliance and other organizations of Poles who have made their homes in the free republic for which their distinguished countrymen fought. There was a double significance to the unvailing of the monument to Kosciusczko, for it marked the opening here tomorrow of the first Polish national congress to attend which thousands of Poles from all over the United States have come.

The purpose of the congress is to discuss in all its phases the condi-tion of the Polish nation, to acquire familiarity with the needs of the Pol-ish national life and find ways and means of fulfilling them.

Elaborate Ceremonies

The ceremonies which preceded the ledication of the statues were long planned and very elaborate. A miliary parade in which all the regular troops stationed at Fort Myer, as well as the national guard of the District of Columbia marched, was one of the Brigadier General Tasker features. H. Eliss, U. S. A., was in command.
