WEAVERVILLE IS A "ROOMY PLACE"

At Least Seven Residents Have from 25 to 75 Acres Around Their Homes.

Correspondence of The Gazette-News. Weaverville, July 23.—A visitor to the town remarked recently that there was one thing about Weaverville that he liked very much and a thing that he had not noticed about many other towns, and that was, the impression of roominess that came to one when he first arrived. He said: "I have noticed that there are at least seven residents here who have from 25 to 75 acres of land around their homes and any number with as many as 5 or 10 acres and there are very few homes which do not have at least one acre, and even those that have not, have large roomy lots. The people here do not realize what they have. There is such a chance for a town of unparalleled rustic beauty." All of which is true. What we need is to form a civic improvement club, or something of the kind, and make the town one of the best resident towns in the state. It does not need to be a business town; its proximity to Asheville precludes that.

And now is the time to begin. People are coming here in large numbers every day. The Weaverville car carried out over 30 passengers on the 5 o'clock trip yesterday. The Woman's Home Mission society will have a bazaar this afternoon, from 4 until 10 o'clock tonight, together with an entertainment of some sort about which there seems to be a little mystery. It is called "An Affair in an Orange Grove." The proceeds will go toward paying for the new church organ. Quite a goodly number of articles have been contributed for the sale.

Mrs. Hill of Goldsboro has bought a lot from J. J. Reagan and will erect a small summer cottage. The heavy rain, wind and thunder storm this morning did considerable damage to corn. Just how much cannot be determined yet. In some fields the stalks are flat on the ground. Some of them are broken, though probably the greater part of them can be straightened up.

American Woman's League certificates will be accepted on NEW subscriptions only, to The Gazette-News.

Sale of Valuable Real Estate. The property known as the Adams Home Place, near Bingham school, consisting of a well constructed nine room house, forty acres of good farm land, fine orchard, stables, etc., beautiful views, will be sold by the owner at public auction for cash at the county court house door in Asheville at 12 o'clock noon on Monday, the first day of August, 1910.

Persons desiring full information concerning the property will apply to Adams & Adams, attorneys at law, No. 6 Drummer Building. d till ju 21

To the Republicans of Asheville Township: I hereby announce myself a candidate for constable of Asheville township, subject to the action of the township convention. B. W. WARREN, 123-102. 33 N. Main St.

Political Announcement. Notice—To the voters of Buncombe county: I hereby announce myself a candidate for sheriff of Buncombe county subject to the Republican convention. It is nominated and elected I shall strive to do my duty. J. M. JARVIS.

BUSINESS AGENTS FOR THE FARMERS

(Continued from page 1) a lot of young embryo doctors are at work making the analysis which will show how many of the members of the North Carolina national guard have hookworms. All these youngsters are practical chemists, and they can thus do good service. They are under the direction of Dr. John A. Ferrell, who is at the head of the hookworm work in North Carolina, under the provisions of the Rockefeller fund. Dr. Wycliffe Rose, one of the directors of this fund, was here today and conferred with Dr. Ferrell and also with State Superintendent J. Y. Joyner.

The condition of the mother of Gov. Kitchin is unchanged, but must be serious. She is 62 years of age, and has nine sons and two daughters, all of them being at her bedside. The Farmers Union yesterday adopted a resolution that there should be a business agent in each county, to buy fertilizers and pay cash for them, out of a fund to be raised for that purpose. The Union knows quite well what a difference there is in prices between "cash" and "time." Many dealers have made fortunes by charging high prices for fertilizers sold in the spring, to be paid for in the fall.

A resolution was also adopted to regulate the sales of leaf tobacco, by having an agent in each county where this crop is grown, the growers to organize and this agent to look after their interests, the Union to provide warehouses for storage and sale. It is part of the plan that the sales shall be so well regulated as not to rush the tobacco on the market. This is how the Union will face the "tobacco trust."

It was decided to handle cotton in the same way. As to cotton seed, the Union decided that the oil factories must give ton for ton; that is, a ton of cotton seed meal for a ton of raw seed. The mills get the oil and the hulls and yet have given only 1000 to 1500 pounds of meal for a ton of seed until this season, when some gave ton for ton. No trouble is expected in getting ton for ton now. The Union has 35,000 members in this state and is a power.

THE MARKETS

The Leading Stocks on New York Exchange—Cotton Market Quotations.

New York, July 23.—The prices of stocks bounded upwards again with the opening of the market, gains running one to two points over last night for practically all active issues. After occasional gains the market gathered force from fresh advances. Reports that embarrassed holdings were taken over by syndicates alarmed the shorts. The demand was large both for home and foreign accounts. Bonds firm.

The demand for stocks died down and the price slipped back to 1 to 1 1/2 on dull trading. Offerings almost ceased at the lower price. The market more than held its gain during the noon hour on a diminished volume of business. There were some reactions from the high level at 1 o'clock.
