Brown pitched a star game for the Mountaineers at Riverside park yesterday afternoon, allowed the Soldiers from Johnson City just two little hits and but for an error in the ninth would have shut-out the visitors. The final score was 2 to 1, the Soldiers making their one run in the ninth. Kelly, who was in the box for the Soldiers, was hit freely but he managed to keep the hits well scattered. He was given good support and the run-getting was scarce and far-between.

For the first three innings neither team was able to score and then in the fourth the Mountaineers worked the squeeze-play and scored the first run. McKenzie hit a hot one to Kelly and went safe to first. Bullock went out on an attempt to bunt the third strike; James sacrificed. Drumm beat out an easy grounder and in stealing second gave McKenzie his chance to score on a squeeze-play. Mabry retired the side.

In the eighth McKenzie scored his second run. Richards went out and then McKenzie got his third hit to center. Bullock grounded and McKenzie advanced and on James' single to left came home.

The ninth saved the visitors a shut-out. Harris grounded out. D. Taylor sent a hot one to James and safe on first. Alexander got a hit over second and on Leuk's single Taylor scored. Scurry flew out to Stewart and Alexander was thrown out at second.

A Reliable Medicine—NOT A NARCOTIC.
 Mrs. F. Marti, St. Poe, Mich., says
 Foley's Honey and Tar saved her little boy's life. She writes: "Our little boy contracted a severe bronchial trouble and as doctor's medicine did not cure him, I gave him Foley's Honey and Tar in which I have great faith. It cured the cough as well as the choking and gagging spells, and he got well in a short time. Foley's Honey and Tar has many times saved us much trouble and we are never without it in the house." ## SURVEY OF STATE FROM THE CAPITAL

Raleigh's Fire Fighting Equipment Defects Are Still a Source of Great Concern.

Gazette-News Bureau, Chamber of Commerce Rooms, Holleman Building, Raleigh, Sept. 10.

Raleigh's fire fighting equipment defects are still a source of great concern, especially the continued bad order of the alarm system. Early this morning there was a fire on Swan street that burned one house at a loss of over $3000 and damaged an adjacent one considerably. The house burned was occupied by William Day, who also lost all his furniture. The house damaged was that of Arthur Belvin. The alarm box failed to ring properly and the telephone had to be resorted to to get the fire fighters started right to reach the fire. This caused disastrous delay. Commissioner of Insurance J. R. Young says there will be results serious for Raleigh's insurance interests soon if there is not something done soon to eliminate these troubles. A representative of the Southeastern Tariff Association was here a few days ago looking into the situation. Commissioner Young says the urgent need here is for a full paid fire department with a chief to devote his entire attention to the department. This, of course, in addition to having the apparatus, including the alarm system, in perfect condition. Furthermore, he says the city should install a chemical engine and a number of hand chemical apparatus. These would reduce the damage very greatly by making it unnecessary to flood many houses with water, as is the case now when only water is used to combat the smallest fire. Evidently Raleigh is at the parting of

Imagine, A Season Without A Puncture

Many people have driven their cars over every kind of road, thousands of miles without a puncture or blowout. Many more have gone, not only one season, but two or three without giving a thought to their tires, or being subjected to a particle of tire trouble or cost.

With all of them it has not been a matter of "good luck," or chance. They took a simple, inexpensive precaution that you may exercise and which will settle tire problems forever. Their cars are equipped with

Standard Tire Protectors

Here at last is the practical solution of the tire question. With them you may come and go, day in and day out, without the least bit of anxiety. Your repair bills will take a sudden drop.

Sharp stones, glass or nails cannot penetrate our durable protectors—still they do not reduce the "life" of the tire nor affect its resiliency.

The Protectors slip over the tread surface of the tire and are held firmly in place by the natural inflation pressure. There are no metal fastenings. Sand, gravel and water cannot get in. Impossible for them to work off, and no creeping takes place.

Made for any size tire or wheel.

Come in today and get our handsome booklet and see why "Standard Tire Protectors do protect." Let us show you letters from those who know by experience. If you can't call, write.

HOW A CIRCUS HELPS BUSINESS WITH LOCAL STORES.

That it does local merchants some good to have a big circus like the John Robinson Shows to come to town is amply evidenced by the large contracts made by local dealers. It takes money to run a great show, and it takes a vast amount of material to feed the employes and animals.

Circus people live well, and only the best of everything is used in the commissary department. That a big show leaves a liberal lump of money in a city at times is evident from the contracts made here. To a local coffee firm the mammoth order of 1,000 pounds of coffee was given. From an equally well-known grocery house $500 worth of groceries was contracted. Two hundred and fifty pairs of shoes were added to the commissary wagon, three carcasses of beef came from a local butcher, as well as 500 pounds of animal meat. An order of $225 alone went to one butcher. Several hundred loaves of bread feed the hungry masses of the circus people daily, and these, too, come from local bakers. Seventy-five quarts of milk from the dairies. Eight tons of hay, one hundred and fifteen bushels of oats, two tons of straw, and a host of other necessities were purchased in the city. All told, nearly $3,000 will be left here as a result of the advent of the John Robinson Shows. Eight hundred dollars per day in railroad fares is paid by the circus peop. One of the business men in connection with the show is Peter Ross, the only registered steward in the circus business, who has charge of the feeding of the multitude as well as the purchasing for the hundreds of hungry mouths.

John Robinson's Circus will exhibit in Asheville September 19th.

"A Toothsome Flavour"

True for you, there's a treat in the crisp, nutty, delicate sweet taste of Grape-Nuts served with cream or milk.

(Don't spoil the food by trying to cook it. That work is done and perfectly done at the factories.)

The cream should soften it a bit, but not enough to excuse the teeth from at least a few good earnest "chews" for old Dams Nature sends rich blessings to the long chawer. Old course the one with weak teeth can soften the food with milk down to a mush if necessary, but the good old Dams don't smile quite so cheerfully on them.

You know children and adults must use the teeth and grind freely to make them grow strong and to preserve them. Then the act of chewing brings thru the much needed saliva from the gums, and that helps amazingly in the digestion of foods of various kinds.

The saliva is not so much required with Grape-Nuts, for this food is partially pre-digested, that is, the starch turned into a form of sugar in the process of making, and that helps even in the facilitating factor.

Grape-Nuts people are healthy and eat good things. There's a Reason about the little book, "The Road to Health," in your drug store.

the ways in the matter of cutting loose from her old volunteer fire department and turning to a full paid and thoroughly regulated fire fighting organization with the latest equipment.

The executive committee of the Fourth congressional district (democratic) has elected Hon. James R. Young chairman to direct the campaign of Congressman Pou for re-election and has authorized Mr. Young to arrange for a joint canvass of the district with whomever the republicans put in the field as Mr. Pou's opponent. Mr. Young says he will gladly meet whomever his opponent may be. The indications now are that Mr. Cooley of Nash county, independent candidate, will be endorsed by the republicans. He has the handicap of having been a supporter of Mr. Pou in past campaigns and of having moved that the nomination of Mr. Pou be made unanimous in the recent democratic convention in which he was a delegate.

Major Dixon at Waynesville. Major B. F. Dixon, state auditor, left yesterday morning for Waynesville to deliver an address in connection with a big Confederate reunion there. He will spend several days in the mountains setting a much needed rest.

Col. Fred A. Olds, secretary of the Raleigh chamber of commerce, was out yesterday afternoon with 101 orphans of the North Carolina Methodist orphanage in line showing them a birdseye view of the country from the Masonic Grand lodge temple, taking them through the hall of history and state museum and for a call on Mrs. Kitchin at the Governor's mansion where they were delightfully entertained by Mrs. Kitchin. The principal was also a stop in one of the principal moving picture shows during the afternoon. The orphanage is now fully open for the fall and winter work. Quite a number of the children left the past few weeks to visit relatives.

A. and M. Football Matters. Eddie Green, the football center for the North Carolina College of Agriculture and Mechanical Arts, is already getting his men in line for the "try-out" practice and has such an abundance of fine material, he says, that he will have no trouble in cutting out about the best team the college has ever had—a goodly bunch of the best of the old players and a number of exceptionally promising freshmen. Manager Ross has completed the schedule for the season in the following order: Wake Forest at Wake Forest, September 24; Georgetown University at Raleigh, October 1; George Washington University at Raleigh, October 8; Wake Forest at Raleigh, October 15; Villanova at Raleigh, October 20; Eastern college at Raleigh, October 29; Washington & Lee at Lynchburg, November 5; Richmond college at Raleigh, November 12; Virginia Polytechnic Institute at Norfolk, Thanksgiving day, November 24.

A Fake Detective. The fake United States Detective, H. H. Woodstrom, colored, in jail, the past week under the charge of palming himself off as a United States detective and having other offenses hanging over him that meant complications in the city court and in a couple of magistrate's courts, made the phenomenal record last afternoon of escaping three courts in three hours and winning his liberty with the understanding, however, that he would lose no time in getting out of town as an undesirable citizen. He had been arrested for flourishing a revolver and was found to have a United States detective badge and handcuffs in his possession. He set up the defense straightway that he was really a detective for Uncle Sam. Pressed for his credentials other than the weapon and badge he said three negroes from Washington had made him a detective at Norfolk a week before. He had a satchel filled with a variety of kinds of roots and herbs and there was a pint of vile whiskey in an army canteen swung over his shoulder. The United States commissioner discharged him on the ground that he could not be held on the detective charge as he had attempted no official act as a detective. Then the city police took him in charge and Woodstrom's lawyer induced the police justice to suspend judgment for carrying the revolver on condition that he leave town. Then the township constable attempted to hold him for an old case of magistrate court costs, but this was found to be out of date. So the remarkable negro who is really crazy was allowed to depart on an evening train to plague some neighboring city.

Insurance Department Report. The fiscal year for the North Carolina Insurance department, Hon. J. R. Young, commissioner, runs from April to April and the report for the year ending April of this year has just come from the offices of the state printers. It comprises 152 pages and includes the financial standing of all the insurance concerns doing business in this state. The revenue of the department for the year was $246,566, a gain of $12,098 over the preceding year. The taxes on the gross receipts of the insurance companies amounted to $178,342; licenses for companies to do business in the state, $42,902; and fees and licenses for sub-agents $25,322.
