"Cotton Oil" Demonstration.
A series of interesting demonstrations will be given next week, beginning Monday, by the Southern Cotton Oil Company in the Y. M. C. A. auditorium. The demonstrations will be a social feature of the week, as they are given under the auspices of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, and the serving of delicious five-course luncheons will be a feature of the series. The friends of the ladies, who are the sponsors for this very interesting exhibition of what can be done with cotton seed oil, will unite with them in making a thorough success of the week. Mrs. Henry Redwood is president of the Asheville chapter, Mrs. Ephraim Clayton, treasurer, and Mrs. Charles Malcolm Platt, chairman of the committee, which has the demonstrations in charge. Different ladies will act as hostesses from day to day, giving a note of individuality and hospitality to the luncheons which will be served from 12 to 2:30 o'clock, at small tables attractively placed and arranged. The menus will be published daily to sharpen the appetites of would-be lunchers. Many housekeepers have already expressed interest in the demonstrations which will be conducted by capable authorities in culinary and domestic science. The U. C. will share in the financial returns from these demonstrations.

Program for Woman's Club.
The program for the Woman's club for the ensuing year will be mailed shortly to the club members. The club will continue the study of Shakespeare, but will take up the dramas more thoroughly and exhaustively than last year. The first meeting will be held October 3, and will be a review of "Julius Caesar"—the play that will be the theme for Dr. Edward Howard Griggs' opening lecture, November 10. Mrs. S. Elizabeth Bolton will be the leader. "The Tempest," after Dr. Griggs' lectures, will be studied at the next two meetings. Mrs. Mary C. Robinson, leader; "Henry IV," part I and part II, Mrs. Charles Malcolm Platt, leader; "Henry V," Mrs. Charity Husk Craig, leader; and "Henry VIII," Mrs. William J. Cooke, leader. Several meetings will be given up to the study and reading of each play, and the leaders, who will outline the work, will choose a number of assistants to help in carrying out and developing the program.

Dutch suppers and informal chafing dish evenings are the favorite social diversions at the Manor, interspersed with occasional outings by stream and woodland. Tomorrow Mr. and Mrs. Bremer will spend the day at Eagles Nest. In the evening there will be the usual mid-week dance, always popular with the young people. Thursday evening, Burnet Jordan will give an informal recital for the Manor guests and Mrs. Baldwin of Jacksonville, Fla., will entertain her friends, informally, with a chafing dish party.

Two very interesting exhibits of the Allanstand Cottage Industries are attracting attention and admiration daily at the Appalachian exposition. They are the most comprehensive and finest exhibits that have been sent out. One is displayed in the Arts and Crafts department and the other in the c. in devoted to mission workers. Asheville people visiting the exposition are delighted with the beautiful displays sent from this city.

There would not be a case of Indigestion here if readers who are subjected to stomach trouble knew the tremendous anti-ferment and digestive virtue contained in Diapiesin. This harmless preparation will digest a heavy meal without the slightest fuss or discomfort, and relieve the sourest, acid stomach in five minutes, besides overcoming all foul, nauseous odors from the breath.
Ask your pharmacist to show you the formula, plainly printed on each 50-cent case of Diapiesin, then you will readily understand why this promptly cures Indigestion and removes such symptoms as Heartburn, a feeling like a lump of lead in the stomach, Belching of Gas and Eructations of undigested food, water brash, Nausea, Headache, Billiousness and many other bad symptoms; and, besides, you will not need laxatives to keep your stomach, liver and intestines clean and fresh.
If your stomach is sour and full of gas, or your food does not digest, and your meals don't seem to fit, why not get a 50-cent case from your druggist and make life worth living? Absolutely relief from stomach misery and perfect digestion of anything you eat is sure to follow five minutes after, and, besides, one case is sufficient to cure a whole family of such trouble.
Surely, a harmless, inexpensive preparation like Diapiesin, which will always, either at daytime or during night, relieve your stomach misery and digest your meals, is about as handy and valuable a thing as you could have in the house.

SWINNEY'S LONG FIGHT ENDS AT LAST; HE SLEEPS
His Lifeless Body Found in His Home: Death, the Invincible, Besting a Formidable, Bold Warrior.
Another hero of the "Lost Cause" made the journey to that unknown land last night when John Swinney, the one-armed, one-legged woodchopper of the town, passed to rest. Mr. Swinney was perhaps one of the most unique figures in Asheville. He served with valor in the Confederate army and gave a leg and an arm to the cause—the right arm and the right leg. Unhappily by the loss of these two important members the old soldier was no object of charity. With his sharp axe he went his way from day to day seeking woodpiles and refusing to eat at a pauper's table. All he asked for was work. He could chop more wood in one day than any other man, perhaps, in the town. He was a man of great endurance; a man bold in speech and with a determination never to enter the county home. Several years ago veterans of the civil war and members of the Daughters of the Confederacy offered to provide for the old man and make his last days peaceful. He refused to accept their generous offer saying that all he wanted was plenty of wood to chop. Truly, was his greatest curse. He was an interesting talker; a man who could entertain even a casual passerby for an hour with reminiscences of the war that in '51 to '65 tried men's souls.
It seems that Mr. Swinney had been in ill-health for the past several days. In fact he had not been up town since last week. He made his home on Hall Street and it was there his lifeless body was found this morning. Coroner Morris was summoned shortly after the discovery of the dead body but finding that death was due to natural causes an inquest was dispensed with.
There are many in Asheville who will grieve to learn of the death of John Swinney. He was 65 years of age and with odds so great against him had made a game fight. He surrendered, not at Appomattox, but only to the Grim Reaper.

Palace Theater Attracting Great Attention.
The attractions at the Palace this week are of such character that every one who has been to see the show is high in praise of the program.
The great "Mistaken Identity" act, which is full of interest and teeming with comedy, was a great favorite last night and made a tremendous success. The motion pictures were good and the program was witnessed by two packed houses. Every day seems to increase the patronage to this theater, under the new management, and Manager Davenport seems to spare neither pains, time nor money to get together a program that will meet with the commendation of the people of Asheville.
Tonight will be offered a great and interesting program and those who could not get seats and who did not have the opportunity to go last night should not miss the offering.
