BRENNKE & CO. REQUIRED TO PAY $200 SPECIAL TAX

Retail Merchants Association Complained That Company Was Itinerant.

Tax Collector R. C. Crowell recently collected a special tax of $200 from Brennecke and company, who are conducting a special sale of dry goods at the corner of Patton avenue and Lexington avenue. This tax was collected on the grounds that the company was doing business as itinerant merchants. The case is similar to that of the man who was conducting the fountain pen sale at Rayner's drug store a few weeks ago and which case is pending in the hands of Judge Webb now.

It is said that there was complaint on the part of the Retail Merchants Association that the Brennecke company were itinerants. Mr. Crowell delayed action until he could hear from Judge Webb as to his decision in the case of the fountain pen man but not hearing from him he proceeded to collect the tax.

The tax was collected under the same act as that under which Mr. Crowell collected the $200 from the man who was conducting the fountain pen demonstration.

Constipation

"For over nine years I suffered with chronic constipation and during this time I had to take an injection of warm water every day. I was miserable. I tried Castoria, and today I am a well man. During the nine years before I used Castoria I suffered untold misery with internal trouble. Thanks to you, I am free from all that pain and suffering. You can see this in my face and my health."—J. P. Fisher, Kansas, Mo.

TO ATTEND MEET OF THE EDUCATORS

Large Party of North Carolinians Leaves This Evening—Pardons and Commutations.

Gazette-News Bureau. Yarrowburgh House, Raleigh, April 18. Traveling in a special Pullman, a large party of North Carolina educators will leave on the 6:50 train this evening by the Southern railway for Jacksonville, to attend the annual meeting of the Southern Educational association of which Robert C. Ogden of New York is president. The program has been prepared with the view of devoting much time to a discussion of rural life and rural homes and how to better them. The association of superintendents of public instruction of which J. Y. Joyner is president will meet at the same place and he will be in charge of the program Wednesday morning. The association meets April 19, 20 and 21.

The party from North Carolina will include State Superintendent J. Y. Joyner, Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Parker, C. H. Poe, editor of the Progressive Farmer; Mrs. W. R. Hollowell of Goldsboro; Mrs. C. D. McIver of the Woman's Betterment department, Mrs. W. N. Hunt of Raleigh, Prof. N. W. Walker and Prof. C. S. Noble of the University of North Carolina, Mrs. E. L. Stevens of Raleigh, Dr. George W. Lay of Raleigh, County Superintendent D. F. Giles of McDowell county, Superintendent Y. D. Moore of Caldwell county, L. C. Brogdon of the department of education, and others who will join them at Greensboro and Charlotte. The party is in charge of Prof. E. C. Brooks of Trinity college.

Superintendent T. T. Atkins of Pender county announces that a special tax election for school purposes has been carried by 24 votes for and four against. This makes the third time this particular district has voted on a similar proposition, twice rejecting it.

Pardons and Commutations. Four pardons and two commutations were made yesterday by Governor Kitchin and in each case the governor sets forth fully the conditions prompting such a course. The case of Tom Simons of Buncombe was mentioned yesterday.

J. W. Carlton of Durham county, serving 12 months on the roads for larceny, is given a conditional pardon. The governor says: "Prisoner bought stolen goods, knowing them to be stolen. He has served two-thirds of his sentence and is suffering from sciatica. His physical condition is bad; he is unfit for work, and it is doubtful if he can survive his full term. The county physician, members of the board of county commissioners and many citizens request his pardon."

Jesse Barlow and J. H. Hyams, sentenced at the March term, 1910, of the Martin County Superior court, for two years and four years respectively in the state's prison for burning a storehouse, have served 12 months and now get a conditional pardon. The governor says: "The evidence was circumstantial. The offense was an attempt to burn a barber shop, and the judge in recommending pardon states that there was only more than a scintilla of evidence against one of the prisoners. The only witness to show the conspiracy was a 12 year old negro boy—since the trial affidavits of several men whose characters are shown to be good, being filed showing this prisoner was elsewhere at that time, one of the affidavits showing that on that day his books show the prisoner was with him and was paid off for a certain piece of work. Pardon was recommended by attorney employed by insurance commissioner."

Henry Logan of Stanley county, sentenced March 7, 1911, for carrying concealed weapons, has his sentence commuted to 180 and pay all costs, he having served part of his sentence of three months on the roads. Action was taken upon recommendation of chief of police and prosecuting attorney of Albemarle.

Lee Wadford of Wake county, sentenced in September, 1910, for fornication and given one to three years on the roads, has his sentence commuted to eight months. He pleaded guilty of taking $10 of his sister's money and has served seven months.

AMUSEMENTS

Advance Sale for Hackett Opens Tomorrow Morning.

When the historian of the American theater gets down to work he will find a new name to add to the list of native playwrights. That name is George Brackett Hackett. His claim to the historian's attention is based upon his being the author of "The King's Game," the satire on the conventional romantic play in which James K. Hackett will return to this city next Friday, April 21, at the Auditorium.

Like all well educated men and women, Mr. Hackett lives within the shadow of Harvard university, his home being in Brookline, Mass., but he has started in the theatrical world as a stage hand in the famous Castle Square theater, Boston. He could have started more auspiciously, but with a cool Yankee determination he wanted to know what to do from the ground up. While acting as a stage hand he asked more questions of the chiefs of every other branch than they ever expected anyone would. He wanted to know what the electrician was doing; he asked why the property man allowed certain liberties; he noticed the actors and there was more rejoicing when he left the Castle Square theater to go to New York to get more information. During the New York period of inquiry, he found time to write "The King's Game." A record-breaking space of time intervened between its being read by William A. Brady and its production by the James K. Hackett company. One authority states the actual time was a fortnight.

Mr. Hackett does not intend to content himself with one success. He is at work on other plays, and in due time they will be produced under worthy auspices, as "The King's Game" was. The advance sale opens tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock and it would be advisable for those desiring good seats to be on time.

WAYNESVILLE DEMOCRATS HAVE NOMINATED TICKET

Dr. J. R. Boyd Named For Mayor Over Mr. Shelton and Mr. Howell—Aldermanic Nominees.

Special to The Gazette-News. Waynesville, April 18.—In a triangular fight for the nomination of mayor on the democratic ticket here Saturday night, J. R. Boyd won out over Mr. Shelton and J. H. Howell. The aldermen nominated are J. L. Stringfield, Dr. F. Abel, T. L. Stringfield, Larry Harden, and W. T. Blacklock, the latter being a member of the old board. It was one of the hottest primaries that has ever been held here. J. L. Stringfield led the ticket.

MISS OSBORNE WILL INVITE CONVENTION

Local Y. W. C. A. Secretary Will Seek to Induce National Association to Meet Here in 1913.

Miss Grace Osborne, the secretary of the local Y. W. C. A., left today to attend the biennial conference of the national board of the Y. W. C. A. which will be in session at Indianapolis, April 19 to 24. Miss Osborne will take with her an invitation from the local Y. W. C. A. and the board of trade to the national board to meet in Asheville in 1913. About 700 delegates usually attend these conferences.

This is the third biennial convention of the Y. W. C. A. of the United States of America. The finely equipped association building will be the headquarters of the convention, though most of the sessions will be held in the First Baptist church. In the church also will be displayed the publications issued by the national movement, including its official organ, The Association Monthly, and the exhibit of the national board which will present in graphic form some of the various phases of the work.

The convention is a national gathering at which will be enacted legislation to affect and influence for all time the work of the Young Women's Christian association in all sections of this country; it will likewise influence the development of association work in other countries where there are American secretaries sent out under the foreign department. The program has been carefully planned with all of these points in view. Aside from the regular business of the convention, the program offers much of value.

The regular business of the national organization will be transacted. Reports and recommendations, in view of the past two years of study and experiment, will be presented by the national board, to be considered and acted upon by the convention in their relation to the future policies and developments of the national work and as they will affect the activities of the national board for the ensuing two years.

The national organization now represents a membership of over two hundred and sixteen thousand women in the cities, educational institutions, industrial centers, mill villages and towns of the country. If the local associations were to send one voting delegate for each one hundred voting members, as they are entitled to do, over two thousand women would assemble in Indianapolis. One evening of the convention is to be devoted to a reception in the hotel Claypool, tendered to the delegates by the national board.

In and near Indianapolis is situated a group of educational institutions, whose students, it is hoped, will gather in large numbers in a student mass meeting, to be addressed by Miss Theresa Wilbur of the national secretariat staff, President Henry Churchill King of Oberlin College, and Dr. Willard T. Grenfell of the Labrador Coast. On another evening the physical work of the city associations will be demonstrated in a gymnastic drill, in which will take part representatives from many city association gymnasiums. A mass meeting to which every young woman in Indianapolis has been invited will be held on Sunday afternoon, and will be addressed by Miss Grace H. Dodd, president of the national board, and Bishop Edward H. Hughes of San Francisco, formerly president of De Pauw University.

One of the recent pieces of work taken up by the national board is an investigation into the conditions surrounding immigrant girls and the opportunities for the association work of the national board, or rather the subject will be reported upon, Miss Grace Abbott of Hull House will speak.

presents and purses of money were given him on surprise, and when he got up to respond he expressed himself as being deeply touched by such expressions of esteem. It is remarkable how he holds this large congregation together so long and so well. You may go to his church any Sunday afternoon or night and the place will be filled, year in and year out. He has one of the best singing congregations in the city. The native music of the race, better known as "spirituals" is used in most every service, and many visitors have gone to the church to hear this soul-stirring music sung. A committee of the church at the close of the program served a well-prepared banquet to the invited guests, which numbered several hundred. Dr. W. G. Torrence presided. W. J. T.

THE MARKETS

New York, April 18.—A hard drive at Missouri Pacific was the feature of the opening of the stock market. The first sale was made at a loss of 3/4 from yesterday's close, from which point the stock was forced down rapidly to 46 1/2, a decline of 1 1/2. A number of other railroad issues receded in sympathy. Losses were small.

Traders attacked fertilizer issues vigorously, forcing them down a point. Persistent liquidation in this quarter and lack of support to Missouri Pacific disturbed confidence to some extent. There was some show of weakness to standard stocks.

Prices fell away steadily during the morning session, in which trading was most active of any day for several weeks.

Selling subsided for a while after noon. The rail rallied a small fraction, then became very dull. Later the market relapsed to the low level.

WILL GIVE PEOPLE MORE TIME TO CONSIDER TAX

Commissioners Desire That Voters Take Initiative in School Tax Matter.

At the joint meeting of the board of county commissioners and the board of education yesterday it was decided that it would be better to give the people further opportunity to consider the matter of voting on the special school tax for the county before calling an election. They wish the people to take the initiative in the matter and they desire that they be fully informed about it. The bill enacted by the last legislature by which the election may be called is given below:

A bill to be entitled an act to authorize any county in North Carolina to vote upon the levying and collection of a special tax on property and polls to supplement the county school fund of said county.

Section 1. That the county commissioners of any county, upon petition of the county board of education of said county, may order an election to be held in said county to ascertain the will of the people whether there shall be levied on all taxable property and polls of said county a special tax, not to exceed thirty cents on the one hundred dollars valuation of property and ninety cents on each poll, to supplement the county school fund of said county.

Section 2. That said election shall be conducted for the county as nearly as may be under the same rules and regulations governing district special school tax elections, as set out in section four thousand one hundred and fifteen of the Revised of one thousand nine hundred and five of North Carolina.

Section 3. That in case a majority of the qualified voters at said election shall vote in favor of said tax, the same shall be annually levied and collected in the same manner and at the same time as other taxes of the county are levied and collected.

Section 4. That in case a majority of the qualified voters at said election in any township of said county shall vote for said special tax, the same shall be annually levied and collected in said township in the same manner and at the same time as other taxes are levied and collected, and used to supplement the school fund of said township.

Section 5. That in case a majority of the qualified voters at said election in any county shall fail to vote for said special tax, on petition of a majority of the members of the county board of education of said county, the county commissioners shall, after thirty days notice, order an election, in any subsequent year after the first election, for the same purpose and under the same regulations as the first election herein provided for in any or all of the townships of said county that shall have failed to carry said special tax in the former election.

Section 7. That the expense of holding said election shall be paid out of the county school fund of said county.

Section 8. That this act shall be in full force and effect from and after its ratification.

ECZEMA CURE A BEAUTY WASH

Although D. D. D. Prescription has been recognized for years as the one remedy for Eczema, Psoriasis, and all other forms of skin diseases, it is now known that there is no other wash, even those used by the beauty specialists, that can compare with this mild liquid for cleansing the skin of pimples, blackheads, rash, and all similar skin affections.

For this reason alone, a bottle of D. D. D. should be kept on hand in every household. A trial 25c bottle will show you the merits of this great remedy as a complexion wash.

D. D. D. seems to remove the cause, whatever the trouble may be, cleansing the skin, and leaving it as soft, as smooth and clear as that of a healthy child.

University vs. Davidson.

Special to The Gazette-News. Durham, N. C., April 18.—The baseball teams of the University of North Carolina and Davidson college will meet here today in their second contest of the season. The game will be played this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the East Durham park, and a large crowd is expected to attend, as much interest is being shown in the contest. The University boys won in the first game, which was played in Charlotte, by a score of 2 to 1. Since then the Davidson lads have shown wonderful improvement, likewise Carolina put it over Virginia at Charlotte last week, so the game today promises to be fast and close.
