THE CASE FOR ASHEVILLE.

"It is, of course, the impression that Asheville is one large tuberculosis sanitarium which inspires the dread described," says the Charlotte Observer, referring to fears of people elsewhere about health conditions here.

North Carolina wants more good citizens, and cannot get another class of immigrants as good as her own people, thousands of whom have been lured from her borders by the promise of easier fortune elsewhere.

Mr. Bryan says he has had no thought of abandoning politics for the ministry or any other calling. "I expect to make the study and discussion of public questions my chief business while I live."

Nobody has ever told whether the judge and jury in the Beattie trial also chew gum.

NEW TOWN PLANNED

"Morris." Between Asheville and Weaverville Will Be Developed At Once.

A new town is being laid out on the Asheville and East Tennessee railroad, four miles from the square, on the Morris farm, just beyond New Bridge station.

THE HOSPITALS AFFAIRS.

Miss Francis L. Patton gives a statement in the press of the financial affairs of the Hospital Association.

of the $1500 received from the Hospital Sunday Association last September, the accounts fell behind $265 between January 1 and June 1.

"Let us have at least $2000 on this day, set apart in this great work. It will be recalled that a committee appointed to investigate the hospital management recently made a report showing by comparison with a great number of similar institutions, this Mission hospital is run on lines of the strictest economy.

It may be that some people have been led to suppose that the hospital is in such financial condition that it will not be necessary to make as great effort on Hospital Sunday as has been made in the past.

Next Wednesday a meeting of editors, representatives of industrial or organizations, prominent people from all parts of the State, is to be held in Charlotte to launch formally a Back Home movement for North Carolina.

The railroads of course are interested in it, for it means more business for them; but merchant, manufacturer and farmer are also interested—it means more business for them.

North Carolina wants more good citizens, and cannot get another class of immigrants as good as her own people, thousands of whom have been lured from her borders by the promise of easier fortune elsewhere.

Asheville is not, of course, "one large tuberculosis sanitarium"—but some people think of it that way.

But, even so, Asheville is very far from being tuberculosis-filled. Its excess in number of consumptives above the average for cities of its size is more than offset by possessing a health department as superior to the average city health department as the mountains are higher than the plains.

Fishermen on the Hudson have been annoyed for some time by the loss of hooks and sinkers. The mystery was solved when an angler landed a big catfish. "In its mouth was a patent nail clipper with the point that cleans the nails sticking out through its lower jaw."

A FATAL MISTAKE

(BY SAVOYARD)

Washington, Sept. 4.—The Payne-Aldrich law to tariff slavery was to tariff slavery, and the veto of the Dredcott decision was to African slavery.

Now, that is the fount of wisdom whence Congress admonished to drink deep and learn something about the tariff. The real mission of this board is to do just what it has done—defeat a change of the Payne law.

I don't say the "board" will seek to deceive; but what they learn will be misleading, for the manufacturers of England, France, Germany and Holland are not going to open their books to them or to anybody else.

As for schedule K of the Payne law, it could not carry a single state of the union as against the Underwood-LaFollette measure, faulty as the latter is. If it were left to a popular vote the Payne law would be defeated 10 to 1.
