

REVENUE AGENT'S JOB IS DANGEROUS

More So at This Time, When the Moonshiners Will Take Greater Risks.

ARE MORE DANGEROUS;
LIKE THE OLD DAYS

Blockading Is on the Increase,
Is the Declaration of the Revenue Officers.

The scrap between revenue officers in the employ of the United States government and moonshiners in Wilkes county several days ago, when Deputy Collector Henry was shot and seriously wounded, has resulted in no little comment here relative to the present status of the blockade. It has been stated that revenue officers for some time have realized that moonshiners were becoming more desperate; in fact, that they were returning to the old-time policy obtaining a quarter of a century or more ago when a revenue officer was looked upon as the moonshiner's mortal enemy and when the moonshiner and his household felt that he and they had performed a conscientious duty when they put a "revenuer" out of business. Those who remarked upon the shooting of Deputy Collector Henry and the apparent increase in blockading harked back to the days of the efforts of the late Herschel Harkins and other revenue officers, who risked life and limb to curtail the illicit output of the fire-water, and to the days when one Brockens, a daring revenue officer, invaded the "secret" precincts of the Jewellins, on the border of Madison and Bluncoke, some 16 or 18 years ago and fought it out with the blockaders, receiving in the battle 13 bullet wounds and dying after riding a distance of several miles.

Old-Time Desperation.
"Yes," declared an old revenue officer today, "the old-time desperation of the blockader has returned. Moonshining in this section has increased during the past two years 50 per cent, if not more. The worst part, however, is that the moonshiner has become bolder and more desperate. He will shoot a revenue officer now at the drop of the hat. He will do it in an effort to escape capture, knowing that once arrested he will be sent upon conviction, to the Atlanta prison for a term of months or years. Likewise there is great profit in the illegal manufacture and sale of liquor. North Carolina, as everyone knows, is a prohibition state. The moonshiner's goods are always in demand. If he can evade the minions of the law—either by escape or the 'revenuer'—he will make his money. He feels today as he did years ago that he had a right to work his corn either into meal or liquor and that the government hasn't anything to do with it. Before North Carolina went dry there was more risk and less gain. He could make the stuff and take the risk but the demand was not so great. Now the demand, in the opinion of the moonshiner, is greater than the risk and he simply takes the risk. The duty of a revenue officer today is threefold greater in point of risk of life and limb and a conscientious performance of duty than it was 15 or 20 years ago."

It seems to be the opinion among those well informed that notwithstanding the efforts of the field or raiding force of the revenue department the making of blockade liquor increases. One revenue officer was heard to declare the other day that a short time since he cut up a still in a certain locality not far from Asheville and that in less than 10 days after he had destroyed the outfit he received word or information that there were three more stills in less than half a mile of the scene of his operations.

"You can cut up one and two will spring up," said a revenuer the other day, in speaking of blockading. "There is a big profit in the business and the moonshiners are after that profit. They hate the revenuer but they hate the informer worse and therefore we are compelled to keep our informers literally in the dark to save them from bodily harm or death. I do not hesitate to say that blockading is on the increase and that the work of the revenue officers is more dangerous than for years gone by."

POLICE COURT

Several Cases of Interest Before Police Judge Adams Today.

There were several lengthy cases disposed of in the police court this morning. The defendants were charged with a variety of offenses, including disorderly conduct, retailing, etc.

George Cathey was before the court charged with disorderly conduct, and this was interesting by reason of the manner in which Mr. Cathey handled his own case. He pleaded guilty to the charge and when it came to examining witnesses he showed that he is proficient, though in the end he was found guilty and fined $5 and costs. He appealed from the finding of the court and the bond was fixed at $50.

IMPORTANT TO MOTHERS

A report of sixty-five years continuous use of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup by mothers in all parts of the world, is the highest praise that any remedy for "colic" or "teething" has ever received. Every year the young mother follows in the footsteps of her mother and finds Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup to be the favorite, and so it has gone on for a period of sixty-five years. Millions of mothers have used it for their children while teething with perfect success. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic and is the best remedy for diarrhoea, held by druggists and medicine dealers in all parts of the known world. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

Be sure and ask for Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup and take no other.

Mr. Cathey and a number of friends, no doubt in a halcyon spirit, were entertaining themselves in a Greek restaurant. Police Captain Williams testified that he went into the restaurant and asked Mr. Cathey not to talk so loud; that Mr. Cathey promised, but that after the officer went out he heard Mr. Cathey use certain language, rather unrestrained in his character, after which he placed him under arrest.

Mr. Cathey placed a number of witnesses on the stand, including one of the waiters of the restaurant. There seemed to be some question as to whether the waiter had made complaint to the officer as to Mr. Cathey's conduct, but his evidence was not very satisfactory.

Mr. Cathey intimated that while he was reasoning with the officer about the matter the officer said something about Judge Adams "having it in for Mr. Cathey," but Captain Williams denied this.

Berlin Jones was sentenced to 30 days on the road for assault with a deadly weapon on H. F. Swann, from which he appealed. In this case there was some dispute in a bowling alley and there was evidence that Jones struck at Swann with a knife.

Wiley Banks, colored, was sentenced to eight months on the county roads for retailing whiskey. He also appealed and the bond was fixed at $500. The prosecuting witness was Eugene Clark, a white man, who swore that he had bought whiskey from Banks more than once.

The case of Carl Lewis, who is charged with retailing to Gay Banks, was continued.

Loss of Time Means Loss of Pay.
Kidney trouble and the ill it breeds means lost time and lost pay to many a working man. M. B. Baint, 1214 Little Penna St., Streator, Ill., was so bad from kidney and bladder trouble that he could not work, but he says: "I took Foley Kidney Pills for only a short time and got entirely well and was soon able to go back to work, and am feeling well and healthier than before." Foley Kidney Pills are tonic in action, quick in results—a good friend to the working man or woman who suffers from kidney ill, or safe by all druggists.

TIMELY BATTING RALLY SAVED GAME FOR LOCALS

With Score 3 to 2 Against Them They Hammered Out
Four Runs in Eighth.

An opportune batting rally by the Mountaineers in the eighth inning of the second game between Asheville and Cleveland at Riverside Park yesterday afternoon saved the game for the locals. The rally came after Cleveland had a lead of one run and after the visitors had been shut out in the eighth by steady pitching and crack fielding. When Asheville went to the bat in the eighth the fans decided to "rattle" the visitors. Up to the eighth "Jim" Gunder had held the locals down to a few scattering hits but with the encouragement given the local boys by the throng of bleachers they donned their batting clothes and it was whack, bang and run from the moment the first Mountaineer stepped to the plate. With the opening of the eighth the score stood 3 to 2 in favor of Cleveland. When the smoke of battle cleared it stood 6 to 3 in favor of Asheville. The four runs were made on a walk, an error, four hits and a sacrifice fly. The Clevelanders seemed to realize at the outset of the eighth that they were beat. They played with little show of team work while the crack support that Gunder had been given prior to that time gave way to loose fielding.

In the ninth inning Cleveland rallied a bit and made an effort to tie the score but in vain, although one runner was forced across the home plate, and the game ended 6 to 4 in favor of Asheville.

An immense crowd witnessed the game and the afternoon while the gate receipts for both games were pooled, as were all the games played yesterday in the league. The grand stand netted the local team something over $100.

Cleveland . . . 100 100 101—4 8 3
Asheville . . . 000 200 045—6 9 3

HARE-BARD UNDERTAKING FIRM DAMAGED BY FIRE

Practically All Stock in Place
Burned or Injured—Other Damage.

Fire in the Hare, Bard & Co., undertaking establishment on South Main street last night shortly after 10 o'clock practically destroyed the stock the firm had on hand while warring damage to the C. Hank music house on the floor beneath and to the Harris Furniture company, also located in a store room beneath the scene of the blaze, was considerable. The fire originated in the rear of the undertaking establishment where the stock was kept and was discovered by a passerby on South Main street, who saw columns of smoke pouring from the windows and caused an alarm to be turned in. Had the fire occurred later in the night it is probable that the damage to property in that immediate section of South Main would have been great. The firemen responded quickly to the alarm and soon two streams of water were playing on the blaze. The fire which had gained considerable headway, was extinguished after 29 or 30 minutes but not until the carpets and other stock in the undertaking establishment had been either burned or badly damaged. Mr. and Mrs. High occupied apartments in the front of the building on the same floor occupied by the undertakers, and were not awakened until after the firemen reached the scene. Mrs. High was badly frightened when she discovered the building on fire.

MONTREAT PREPARING FOR HOSPITAL SUNDAY

Rev. E. L. Siler Says Work of
The Hospital is Appreciated There.

Said Rev. E. L. Siler of Montreat today: "The people of Montreat feel a deep interest in the Mission Hospital, and realize that it is doing an indispensable work for the poor and needy of the county. I feel sure they will express their interest in a substantial way next Sunday. We have planned to send envelopes and literature to each family through the mail, this week, and ask for a liberal contribution, without interfering with our regular collection."

In addition to this, a contribution box has been placed at the Montreat Grocery company's store, and anyone who desires to contribute has been asked to hand the money to the pastor or one of the deacons.

The pastor of one of the leading Asheville churches today applied for 1000 envelopes for the hospital collection.

THE BELLS RING END OF VACATION

Asheville Public Schools and Kindergartens Open for 1911-12 Term.

Vacation days are over and this morning it was back to the classroom for many ladies and ladies in Asheville. The school bell rang promptly at 9 o'clock this morning for the assembly and within a few moments the many class rooms in the several public school buildings in the town were crowded with returning students. The girls and boys entered the class rooms with smiling faces and ready for the fall and winter and early spring work. They had evidently enjoyed the vacation period and were ready for study and examinations and other requisites of the school system.

The several buildings had been put in "apple pie" order for the expected large student body, and when the children assembled the book lists were given out; there was a sort of informal reunion; new instructors were met and welcomed; former teachers were greeted with smiles and the "glad hand," and the new school year inaugurated with a determination for better work and greater accomplishment than ever before.

All the schools of the city started the fall work this morning, including the several kindergartens. The attendance, even on the first day, was greater than last year, and it is expected that before the week ends the enrollment will be greater by several hundred than last year. The school authorities have attended wisely to the reconvening of the fall term and the children have been provided with ample accommodation and a sufficient and competent corps of teachers.

Boston, Mass., Sept. 5.—The derby event of the second annual Harvard-Boston race meet, a cross-country flight of 160 miles through the country, the longest competitive cross-country flight ever held in this country, was won yesterday by Earl L. Ovington of Boston in a 50-horsepower Blériot monoplane. Lieut. T. D. Milling, in a Burgess-Wright, won in the second division for biplanes.

The course to Nashua, N. H., thence to Worcester, Mass., from there to Providence, R. I. and back to Boston was covered by Ovington in 186 minutes, 23 1/2 seconds, winning for him a purse of $10,000. Milling did the course in 322 minutes, 37 seconds, securing the $7,500 for the biplane class.

Ovington's successful finish of the cross-country flight last night determined for him a resolution formed a few days ago to enter the Pacific to Atlantic aeroplane race. He will be on the Pacific within two weeks.

MISS VAN WYCK IS SHOT AND KILLED BY SUITOR

Man Then Ends His Own Life
—Girl Niece of Former
Mayor Van Wyck

Queque, N. Y., Sept. 5.—Miss Katharine Van Wyck, 19 years, a niece of former Mayor Robert A. Van Wyck, and of Supreme Court Justice Augustus Van Wyck, while walking on the seashore yesterday was shot and killed by William A. Childs, Jr., the son of a wealthy retired dealer in electrical supplies. After killing the young woman, Childs shot and killed himself.

Childs had been attentive to Miss Van Wyck. Both were walking on the beach when Childs suddenly drew a revolver and began shooting. It is supposed Miss Van Wyck failed to reciprocate Childs' attentions. Before bystanders could reach the couple Miss Van Wyck was dead and Childs was dying. The young woman's family, who are prominent in Brooklyn, have a cottage here.

Miss Van Wyck was the favorite niece of former Mayor Van Wyck. Two years ago she went to Europe where her beauty attracted much attention and she was entertained by many prominent members of the American colony in Paris while she was visiting her uncle, the former mayor. It is said that when she returned home she began to receive attentions from older men than young Childs, who was only one year her senior.

William A. Childs, Sr., is accounted wealthy. On retiring he established two of his sons, Theodore and Arthur in business in California. The family has spent its winters of late in that state and its summers at Queque.
