

Fowler at Colfax Awaiting Repair to Parts of Biplane

Colfax, Cal., Sept. 20.—The parts ordered for the completion of the biplane in which Robert G. Fowler will continue his interrupted cross-country flight have not arrived today. If they come Fowler will endeavor to start across the Sierras. Fowler says he is anxious to get over the mountains as early in the day as possible to avoid contrary wind currents.

MOROCCAN CRISIS CONSIDERED PAST

Long Period of Anxiety Over African Situation Seems to Be Nearing End.

Paris, Sept. 20.—The long period of national anxiety attendant on the Moroccan negotiations is drawing toward a satisfactory conclusion. The French people have been slow in accepting the opinion which has prevailed in Berlin for several days, and it was only after a semi-official communication to the press, based on Ambassador Cambon's telegraphic report to the foreign office that sufficient reasons appeared for the conviction that the six months uncertainty is nearing an end.

Indians and Mexican Troops Battle

Mexico City, Sept. 20.—A number of persons were killed and wounded near the Rio Grande, Chihuahua, in an encounter between state troops and the rebellious Indians of Chihuahua, according to dispatches received here.

OUR PARTY UNITED, THEIRS IS FIGHTING

lower taxes, for greater economies and for better government.

"The great battle of 1912, must be fought on the splendid record of the democrats in this congress and upon that record we can win not only next year, but for years to come.

"To their eternal credit be it said that the democrats of the 52nd congress at the extraordinary session discharged their duty to the utmost and deserve well of the country."

"The very best and most important result of the extraordinary session was that we formed the habit of acting and pulling together and have come to take pride in so doing.

"The language of the president's veto messages raises a very grave question. He seems to think that congress should not consider or pass any tariff bills except such as he recommends, which is revising the medium operand of making tariff bills provided by the Fathers of the Republic. The assumption that congress shall neither consider nor pass a tariff bill until recommended by the president is not only absurd but is revolutionary, utterly subversive of our theory of legislation, if submitted to, will be another long step in the process of usurpation which in late years has so gravely increased the power of the executive at the expense of the legislative branch of government.

and provided it establishes for itself by its constitution, a republican form of government. The American people, who love a square deal, will not permit him to shift the issue from the great question of a state's having the right to adopt any sort of constitution which suits it within the limitations named, to a petty squabble about the recall.

"The provisions to go into a state constitution do not depend, upon the federal constitution, upon the whim, prejudice or taste of the man who happens to occupy the White House, which is a queer notion to be entertained by a representative of congress, but upon the will of the voters of the state itself; but the president seems to be laboring under the delusion that he knows better what the people of Arizona need and desire than they know themselves, and that his wishes and desires rather than theirs should be incorporated into their constitution, which is a queer notion to be entertained by an American president."

Referring to President Taft's veto of the various tariff bills, Mr. Clark said: "His action makes it clear that the sun shining at midday in a cloudless sky that the people can hope for no relief from tariff exactions at the hands of the republican party, must look to us for relief from the monstrous load which they are now carrying.

"For the last thirty odd years, the enormously increased patronage of the executive has increased his power to an extent never dreamed of by the founder of the republic and which should set men to seriously thinking as to whether so much power in the hands of one man is entirely salutary. "It is written: 'By their fruits, ye shall know them.' That test for human conduct was established by highest authority. By it, democrats are wined to be judged, for it is a fair and just standard. By it, we stand or fall. We feel certain that a verdict in our favor will be rendered by the grand inquest of the American people. We wait that verdict with supreme confidence."

Cataract Sufferers HEALTH EXHIBIT IS BEING PLANNED

If You Don't Know About Hyomei Try It at Smith's Drug Store's Risk.

Nearly every reader of the Gazette-News has read about HYOMEI, but many of them continue to suffer from cataract just because they do not exactly understand just what HYOMEI is.

To these sufferers Smith's drug store says you don't have to know anything about HYOMEI except that you breathe it and that it does not contain cocaine or opium or any harmful drug.

You can find out all about HYOMEI without taking any chances whatever. Just get an outfit today, read the simple instructions, give it a fair trial and then if you are not willing to say that it is the best remedy for cataract you have ever used, Smith's drug store will gladly return your money.

A complete HYOMEI outfit costs but $1.00. Extra bottles 50 cents.

TEACHERS SECURED FOR NIGHT SCHOOL

Preparations About Complete for Y. M. C. A. Night School.

Preparations are now about complete for the beginning of the Y. M. C. A. night school, which is to be conducted this winter. The teacher have been secured and already 34 students have enrolled in addition to those who will not be required to pay of whom there are a good many. The schedule has been arranged so that the classes will not conflict with the gymnasium or Bible classes.

Paul P. Brown of the American National bank will teach the classes in bookkeeping, penmanship, spelling and business English, on Tuesday and Thursday nights. D. M. Clarke, electrician of the Southern railway here, who is a graduate of the A. and M. college, and has had practical experience, will teach shop mathematics and mechanical drawing. Rev. W. A. Newell will have charge of the classes for the younger boys, who will study the common school courses, and he will also teach the boys under probation. The shorthand and typewriting classes will be taught by Assistant Secretary C. H. Burt of the Y. M. C. A.

The Y. M. C. A. management is very enthusiastic over the prospects for the night school and the boys have evinced much interest in it. No one will be required to pay tuition who is not able to do so.

SPEECHES OF INTEREST AT GOOD ROADS MEETING

Appalachian Association to Be Attended by Number of Road Experts.

The program for the meeting of the Southern Appalachian Good Roads association, to be held in Knoxville October 4-5, has been issued and promises to be a very interesting one. Dr. Joseph Hyde Pratt, state geologist of North Carolina and president of the "Central Highway association," is all president of the meeting and besides a response by him, on behalf of the delegates, to the welcoming address of Gov. W. H. Mann of Virginia, he is to give the program for a speech on the "Crest of the Blue Ridge Highway."

Many prominent speakers will address the meeting, including Gov. Cole E. Blease of South Carolina, Gov. Austin E. Wilson of Kentucky, Congressman John H. Small of North Carolina and Senator F. M. Simmons. The latter will address the meeting on the last day of the session on "Federal Aid to Road Building." Instructive talks will be made by good road enthusiasts from several states and some highly interesting scientific facts will be given by the visiting delegates by some noted engineers, who have studied the subject thoroughly and are in a position to furnish useful information. Among these will be Prof. M. H. Stacy of the University of North Carolina, Dr. W. M. Thornton of the University of Virginia, and several others. Addresses by Hon. L. B. Page, director of the United States office of public roads, and L. E. Johnson, president of the Norfolk and Western Railway company, will add much to the interest of the meeting. Special highways throughout this section, and will include reports from H. D. Varner on the Central highway of this state, John Wood of South Carolina on the Spartanburg-Asheville highway, P. B. Beard on the Salisbury-Hickory-Lenoir highway; also the one already referred to from Dr. Pratt on the Crest of the Blue Ridge route.

It is likely that a large delegation will go from Asheville and Buncombe. The delegates were appointed about a week ago.

Bloom to Get Commission.

Washington, Sept. 20.—According to unofficial reports received in Washington, Private Frank Bloom, of the Third field artillery, on whose account Colonel Gardner, commanding Fort Myer, Va., was recommended by President Taft a few months ago, has passed his examinations for promotion and will shortly be commissioned a second lieutenant in the army.

Aeronaut Is Badly Injured.

Hartford, Conn., Sept. 20.—Edward Barfinger, the aeronaut, is in a critical condition at a hospital here as the result of injuries sustained when he fell yesterday at the fair grounds while attempting a double parachute drop.

Prof. Marsh was almost injured when he attempted a triple drop from the same balloons.

HEALTH EXHIBIT IS BEING PLANNED

Sanitary Department Will Have a Most Unique Display at Fair.

One of the most unique exhibits that will be made at the Western North Carolina fair this fall will be that of the Asheville sanitary department. The department has not completed the arrangements for the exhibit but it has decided on a number of things that will be shown. The fair management has granted the department the use of the little octagon summer house in the middle of the grounds, and the displays will be made there.

To begin with, all the educational literature of the department will be shown, the posters, placards and bulletins. The methods of testing milk or butter fat, casein, and water will be shown and it is likely that the tuberculosis test for dairy cows will be explained.

Another interesting feature will be the growth of the fly, "musca domestica," from the egg to maturity which can be seen under the microscope and the development of the mosquito can be seen in the same way.

The meat inspector will be on duty from time to time will exhibit reserved portions of certain carcasses that have been condemned, showing the vital parts and how they look when diseased.

The department will also have on display a miniature model of the sewer closets, used by the city with such success. There will be other exhibits which have not been arranged.

WIFE MURDERER TERMS DEATH SENTENCE JUST

Samuel H. Hyde of Anderson Found Guilty—Plea of Defense Was Insanity.

Anderson, S. C., Sept. 20.—Samuel H. Hyde, confessed murderer of his young wife and her father, was convicted by a jury late yesterday of murder in the first degree, the penalty for which is hanging. The death sentence will be pronounced by Judge Prince today.

The reading of the verdict had no visible effect upon the prisoner, who said later that the finding was a just one, that he was guilty of murder and expected to be convicted.

The crime for which Hyde was convicted was committed on the night of July 13 last. While Mrs. Hyde and her sister, Willie Beasley, aged 15, lay asleep in one bed, and her parents, W. V. Beasley and wife, were asleep in another bed in the same room, Hyde entered and fired three shots into his wife's body, killing her instantly, and fired twice at her sister, both shots taking effect but not seriously wounding her. Re-loading his revolver, he shot and killed Beasley, who was attempting to disarm him.

Mrs. Beasley was the principal witness for the prosecution at the trial, describing in detail the events on the night of the tragedy. Sheriff King told of Hyde surrendering to him and saying he planned the murder of his wife, and was well pleased with the deed.

Several witnesses testified in support of the claim of the prisoner's counsel that he was a victim of hereditary insanity.

THE MARKETS

New York, Sept. 20.—Heavy selling was resumed at the opening today. Prices of the most active issues declined.

Announcement that the Federal government would permit the International Harvester company to adapt itself to the Sherman law requirements without bringing a dissolution suit effected a marked change in speculative sentiment. The market grew stronger after very pronounced weakness. Liquidation of United States commerce commission to suspend dinner freight rates were the most depressing factors in the early decline. Recoveries during the second hour were general. Most standard railroad stocks sold a trifle above yesterday's closing.

Stamp in Cotton Market.

New York, Sept. 20.—The cotton market opened steady at a decline of one and eight points. Immediately after the call the market became excited and weak under heavy general selling. Nearly all houses with southern connections had selling orders and below 11 cents for December, the market ran into stop-loss orders, which sent the price of that position off to 10.84, or 23 points under the closing figures yesterday, while October fell to 10.75, 27 points net lower and to a new low record.

Covering checked the break toward the end of the first half hour, causing a rally of five or six points from the lowest.

There was less activity in the late forenoon. Nine or 10 points recovery, from the early low level found a lot of cotton offered, with the south a particularly free seller. The undertone continued nervous and unsettled. Forward middling, prices were about 21 to 22 points net lower or only a couple of points up from the lowest on December and January contracts.

FOR REPEAL IN MAINE MAJORITY STANDS AT 26

Augusta, Me., Sept. 20.—After having completed the tabulation of the official returns on all four questions which appeared upon the ballot at the special election a week ago, the governor and council last night adjourned until Thursday, September 28, when they will meet to consider corrections. The results as announced yesterday were as follows:

On repeal of the constitutional prohibitory amendment: For repeal, 60,487; against repeal, 60,461. Majority for repeal 26.

The state-wide primary system was adopted by a majority of 4,026.

The majority for locating the state capital permanently at Augusta was 18,294, and that for increasing the debt limit in cities of 40,000 was over 520.

Attorney General Pattangall stated that the question of the repeal of the prohibition amendment was still in doubt and it was his belief that corrections would show a majority against repeal. The time for receiving corrections will not expire until Oct. 9. Governor Plafier said that corrections would be made in the returns of several towns which might materially affect the result.
