

ERRAND HUSBAND IS TAKEN TO TASK

Mrs. Field First Publicly Scolds Her Helpmeet, Then Smacks Him in Face.

RAID ON BLIND TIGERS BY GREENSBORO POLICE

Two Boys Arrested for Implication in Killing of Another, but Released After Hearing.

Gazette-News Bureau, Daily News Building, Greensboro, Sept. 28.

Something of a sensation was created in Clegg's poolroom near the passenger station about 10 o'clock Tuesday night when Mrs. J. M. Field of Greensboro suddenly made her appearance in the place and marching straight to her husband, who was among the hangers-on in the place, demanded that he accompany her home. The request was backed up by the glint of a steel pistol held firmly in the woman's hand. Mrs. Field evidently meant business. She thrust the revolver in her husband's face and it is probable that but for the interference of another man in the place, who caught Mrs. Field's wrist and wrenched the revolver from her grasp, a tragedy would have been enacted. Once disarmed, Mrs. Field, who appeared in a desperate frame of mind, began to upbraid her husband. To those who listened her story was one of pity and of want; of a home with four children and nothing to eat. She declared her husband had neglected her and the children, who she declared were starving and without proper clothes, while he loafed around the poolroom and spent his income on bad women. Field accompanied his wife outside the poolroom and once outside Mrs. Field proceeded to administer corporal punishment. She smacked her husband several times in the face and warned him in no uncertain terms that his conduct must cease and that he in future would be required to provide for herself and children. Field, it is said, travels for the American Cash Register company.

Give the Boosters the Glad Hand.

Reports received from those who accompanied the booster train of the chamber of commerce, which left here yesterday morning, are to the effect that the Greensboro business and professional men are being enthusiastically received by the citizens of the towns where the booster train has stopped. The boosters spent last night at Jackson Springs and today are making a number of important stops before returning to Greensboro tonight, the stops including Winston-Salem, Lexington, Thomasville, High Point and other places of importance in this section.

Launch Burned.

A dispatch from Elizabeth City yesterday afternoon told of the burning to the water's edge at Manteo of the launch Edna May, plying between Manteo and Hatteras. The fire was discovered about 5 o'clock in the morning while the launch was at her mooring. There was an escapement of gas and almost in the twinkling of an eye the small boat was enveloped in flames. The crew and passengers were thrown into a panic. The crew did everything possible to assist the passengers, who all escaped without injury. Engineer Casey of the launch was badly scalded about the face and hands.

Boys Arrested on Grave Charge.

County officers have arrested Gaston Smith and Al Jones, two white boys of the Pomona section, charging them with being implicated in the killing of October 5 of Lacey Hackett, near Pomona. Jones was present at the time of the killing. The warrant was issued at the instance of the father of the dead boy. It seems that at the time of the killing the general supposition was that the affair was an accident. It is said, however,

PAPE'S DIAPEPSIN FOR A BAD STOMACH

No Dyspepsia, Gas, Heartburn or Indigestion in Five Minutes.

If you had some Diapepsin handy and would take a little now your stomach distress or indigestion would vanish in five minutes and you would feel fine.

This harmless preparation will digest anything you eat and overcome a sour, out-of-order stomach before you realize it.

If your meals don't tempt you, or what little you do eat seems to all you, or lays like a lump of lead in your stomach, or if you have heartburn, that is a sign of indigestion.

Ask your Pharmacist for a 50-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin and take a little just as soon as you can. There will be no sour risings, no belching of undigested food mixed with acid, no stomach gas or heartburn, fullness or heavy feeling in the stomach, Nausea, Debilitating Headaches, Dizziness or Intestinal griping. This will all go, and, besides, there will be no undigested food left over in the stomach to poison your breath with nauseous odors.

Pape's Diapepsin is a certain cure for out-of-order stomachs, because it prevents fermentation and takes hold of your food and digests it just the same as if your stomach wasn't there.

Relief in five minutes from all stomach misery is at any drug store waiting for you.

These large 50-cent cases of Pape's Diapepsin contain more than sufficient to thoroughly cure almost any case of Dyspepsia, Indigestion or any other stomach disturbance.

that recently reports have been circulated which caused the father of the dead boy to feel unsatisfied as to the accident story, and he determined to have the matter threshed out in the courts. It is also said that some time during the summer the Hackett and Smith boys had a fight and that they had been cursing each other on the day of the killing. The killing of the Hackett boy occurred one afternoon after he and his companions had spent the day squirrel hunting. They had left the woods and were standing near a small bridge east of the Pomona cotton mills when the gun, which was in the hands of Smith, Hackett's head, the entire load of shot taking effect and death resulting almost instantly. The boys declared that the gun was accidentally discharged. No inquest was held, the general opinion prevailing that the killing was entirely accidental. It is understood that Jones was arrested as an accessory after the fact. The preliminary hearing last evening failed to produce sufficient evidence, in the opinion of the trial magistrate, and the boys were discharged.

The Methodists' Washington Church.

Gen. Julian S. Carr of Durham and Rev. Dr. George L. Sexton of Houston, Tex., were in Greensboro yesterday for the purpose of interesting and acquainting Methodists of this city and immediate section in and about the plans of the general conference of the Southern Methodist church for the section of a magnificent and representative church at Washington. Dr. Sexton is secretary of the general conference committee on the building of the church, and Gen. Carr is the North Carolina member of the committee. Gen. Carr and Dr. Sexton had an exhibition at the Guilford hotel elaborate plans of the many local churches and toward the church building fund. The proposed church is to cost between $250,000 and $400,000, about $225,000 of which has been provided for.

Raid on Blind Tigers.

The police of Greensboro made a concerted raid on blind tigers Tuesday night and as a result there was a large docket in Municipal court yesterday morning. The raid included white and black, and a considerable supply of liquor. Several were tried yesterday and road sentences handed out, while others are still to be tried. The officers have been watching the movements of the blind tigers for some little time and Tuesday night, feeling that the time was ripe, the raid was pulled off.

TELEPHONE GIRL IMPORTANT FIGURE IN "GET RICH QUICK" SCHEME

Jared Flagg, Jr., who with several others, including David N. Morgan, a former United States Treasurer, was arrested in New York following an exposé of a "get rich quick" scheme, has been released on bail. Edward L. Schiller, who was Flagg's confidential clerk, at a salary of $50 a week, has also been released. Miss Madeline Russe, a pretty nineteen-year-old girl, is said to have been the master mind in the affairs of the company. This, however, is denied by Flagg, who says she is merely his telephone operator.

VISITING TEACHERS INSPECT SCHOOLS

Various Problems of Their Work Discussed by Principals and Superintendents.

The county superintendents of education and the high school principals of the western educational district of North Carolina, who met in convention at the court house last night, spent the morning in visiting the various city schools and taking note of the methods by which the pupils are taught and controlled. This was part of the regular program of the convention and was not the least interesting. The city schools are well equipped and conducted by modern methods, and those attending the convention enjoyed the morning's work. At 2:30 this afternoon there was a conference on "Observation of School Work," which was led by L. C. Brogden, and following this J. A. Byrnes conducted a conference on "Rural Libraries," at which a number of important questions had been arranged to be discussed, relating to the condition of the books lost, the care of the books, what books are being read, encouraging the children to read and other matters along this line. The opening session of the convention was held last night with a good attendance, most of the 17 counties of the district being represented. The work of this session consisted in the conference on "supervision," which was led by Prof. L. C. Brogden. The state superintendent had arranged ten questions to be discussed at this conference and they referred to enrollment, attendance, and in the schools the eliminating of tardies, grading and classification, visiting the teachers, improving the work of the teachers, problems of administration and many others. The superintendents told of the results they had accomplished. These conventions are considered of much importance by the state superintendent and it is thought that both the superintendents and high school principals will obtain much benefit from this one.

ALL LOTS WERE SOLD; PRICES SATISFACTORY

Elkmont Most Successful Sale He Ever Conducted, C. R. Moore Says.

"The sale of lots at Elkmont Heights yesterday was the most successful one I ever conducted in my life," stated Charles R. Moore of the Southern Land Auction company today. Every one of the lots put up for sale was quickly disposed of and at what the company considered a reasonable price. It is stated that they bought from $66 to $225. It is said that nearly 500 people attended the sale. Mr. Moore gave away 200 tickets on the Asheville and East Tennessee railroad, to the place of sale, at the junction of the Burnsville and Beavertown roads. The sale was thoroughly advertised, which had as much to do with its success as the land itself, which is well located; besides doing a great deal of newspaper advertising the promoter drove about the streets for several days, the vehicles decorated with signs, and told through a megaphone of the attractive nature of the proposition.

A Genuine Surprise.

"We have the surprise beautifully planned," said young Mrs. Westerleigh to the guests, "and Frank doesn't suspect a thing. I think he has even forgotten that today's his birthday. He will get home from the office at about seven o'clock. Then he always goes upstairs to take off his coat and put on his smoking jacket for the evening. When he is upstairs I will call out suddenly, 'Oh, Frank! Come down quick! The gas is escaping.' Then he will rush down here, unsuspecting, to find the crowd of friends waiting for him."

It went off exactly as planned. Westerleigh came home at the regular hour and went directly upstairs. The guests held their breath while Mrs. Westerleigh called out excitedly, "Oh, Frank, come down quick! The gas is escaping in the parlor." Every light had been turned out and the parlor was in perfect darkness.

ness. There was a rapid rush of feet down the stairway, then a voice said, "I don't smell any gas."

"Better light the jet," Mrs. Westerleigh suggested, tremulously. "Here's a match."

There was a splutter and suddenly the room flooded with light. Everybody screamed. The hostess fainted. For there, in the center of the room, stood Westerleigh, attired only in a natty union suit, with a fresh pair of trousers carried over his arm.—From Norman E. Mack's National Monthly.
