PULLING TOGETHER FOR WESTERN FAIR

Neighbors Are Co-Operating—Mr. Giles Says It Is Going to Be a Great Success.

PANTRY DEPARTMENT MANAGER IS SECURED

It Is Mrs. Frank R. Israel—Management Is Anxious to Secure Early Bookings.

D. F. Giles of Marion, secretary of the McDowell county fair association was in Asheville yesterday. Mr. Giles is co-operating with Secretary Judger and is doing all he can to make the Western North Carolina fair a success. The McDowell county fair is to be held the week following the fair here. Mr. Giles told Mr. Judger that he thought from present prospects the Western North Carolina fair would be better even than the state fair. A number of excellent exhibits are expected from McDowell county.

Mrs. Frank R. Israel has been asked to take charge of the pantry supply department and has consented to act in this capacity. She has had much experience in this work and has also visited many fairs and knows how they should be conducted.

Most of the buildings of the association are now completed and although it now seems that there will be ample space entries are coming in fast and the management would like to get all booked as soon as possible so that, if necessary, they can make adjustments.

Mr. Judger is writing out personal letters to fruit men throughout the section in an effort to have a great fruit exhibit.

The poultry exhibit also promises to be excellent.

The Western North Carolina Fair association and the Haywood County association are co-operating in every way that is of mutual benefit.

ANNUAL ELECTION OCCURS TONIGHT

Photographers Visit Biltmore Estate—Final Session to Be Held Tomorrow.

This morning's session of the Photographers convention was opened at 10 o'clock and the regular program was carried out. A short business session was first held; then the question box was opened and a round table discussion followed, which included many questions of vital interest to both the photographers and the association. Several new business matters were also brought up and disposed of. Talks followed for the good of the association, by a number of the most prominent members. The session adjourned at 1:30 o'clock until tonight at 8.

This afternoon the visiting delegates and commercial representatives will be tendered a drive over the Biltmore estate, and tonight the last important session will be held, when reports will be heard from the various committees, new officers will be elected and the next place of meeting chosen. The convention will close tomorrow morning.

Last night's session was featured by two addresses, the first made by L. F. Hammer, Jr., of the Hammer Dry Plate company, and the other by M. W. Tyree of Washington, secretary of the national association. Both addresses were of high order and were greatly enjoyed by the photographers.

Mr. Tyree spoke on "System" and he insisted on the importance of photographers conducting their business along modern and systematic lines and he made a number of valuable suggestions, especially in regard to the keeping of accounts and the following up of bills. He discussed the business as well as the artistic and mechanical phases of calling, and in all, the talk was one of the most interesting and profitable yet heard.
