STOMACH SUFFERERS SQUANDER MILLIONS

In Search of Relief.

The world is full of disordered stomachs and 90 per cent of the money spent upon physicians and drugs goes in an attempt to cure the stomach.

People are made to believe that in order to gain health they must doctor their stomachs and use cathartics. So the doctor gets his fee for the stomach treatment and the druggist for the physic, until the savings of a lifetime are exhausted and yet no cure.

The sick stomach is in every case the result of over-eating, hurried mastication and improper choice of foods. The mucous lining all the way down the food tract loses its sensitiveness, and when food is forced down the muscles fail to respond. They do not churn the food as they should. The glands no longer give out gastric juice to dissolve the food and render it capable of assimilation. The man has become a dyspeptic.

There is one sure way and only one to bring positive relief. Put into that stomach of yours the very elements that it lacks to get that food into liquid form. It takes pepsin, diastase, golden seal and other ferments to accomplish this. The healthy stomach contains these elements. The dyspeptic stomach lacks part or all of them. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet is made up of just what the dyspeptic stomach lacks—Nature's digestives.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are not a medicine, not a drug, not a cathartic. They do not cure anything but Dyspepsia and indigestion and such ailments as arise from poorly digested food.

While they digest the food the stomach recuperates. The mucous membrane is coming out of its stupor, the gastric juice is coming to the surface, the muscles are regaining their power. Every organ of the body takes on new life, the skin gains color, and the eyes are no longer tinged with yellow. You live.

Why doctor and why drug yourself? Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will take care of your food while Nature cures you.

Try a box at your druggist's. 50 cents. Or, if you prefer a free trial package before buying, send your name and address today. F. A. Stuart Co., 159 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

EIGHT INDICTED AS TRADE COMBINE

Wall Paper Manufacturers and Jobbers Charged with Sherman Act Violation.

Cleveland, O., Oct. 6.—Eight indictments against four wall paper manufacturers and four wall paper jobbers, charging them with a conspiracy in restraint of trade in violation of the Sherman law, were returned by the federal grand jury here yesterday.

The indicted manufacturers are Winfield A. Huppuch, first vice president of the Standard Wall Paper company of Hudson Falls, N. Y.; Robert E. Hobbs, a director of the Hobbs, Benton & Heath company, Hoboken, N. J.; George Taft, a director of the William Campbell Wall Paper company, Hackensack, N. J., and John McCoy, of the York Card & Paper company, York, Pa.

The indicted jobbers are Jay E. Pearce, president of the J. E. Pearce Wall Paper company, of Cleveland; C. C. Allen, president of C. C. Allen & Co. of Columbus, O.; Norton Newcomb, secretary of the Newcomb Brothers Wall Paper company, St. Louis, and Chas. E. Maxwell, manager of S. E. Maxwell & Co., Chicago.

The indictments charge that Huppuch, Hobbs, Taft and McCoy, constituting a committee representing the Wall Paper Manufacturers' association of the United States, repeatedly met with Pearce, Allen, Newcomb and Maxwell, members of a committee representing the National Association of Wall Paper Jobbers in the United States, and devised a plan to prevent their products being bought by the five and ten cent stores of the country.

According to the indictments, 27 concerns from coast to coast are members of the Wall Paper Manufacturers' association and twenty-seven concerns are members of the jobbers' association, practically controlling the country's wall paper output.

The action of the grand jury is the sequel to many months of investigation by the government which last spring returned similar indictments against a number of jobbers. Owners of five and ten cent stores all over the country and two wall paper jobbers, whose names are withheld, gave evidence before the grand jury.

RECORD OF A DAY IN CAPITAL CITY

Funeral of W. B. Faison—Bear Cubs for Museum—Norris Makes No Bond.

Funeral of W. B. Faison—The Hotel Raleigh, Raleigh, Oct. 6.

Exceptions to the order of the corporation commission requiring the Southern Railway to build a new depot at Rutherfordton were argued before the commission yesterday by Henry W. Miller of Atlanta and James H. Post, local attorney for the railway. N. L. Edwards of Rutherfordton argued for the people of that town. The Southern took exceptions to the commission's order because it has a depot at Hamptonville, just outside the corporate limits of Rutherfordton.

From the First Baptist church this morning was held the funeral services over the remains of W. E. Faison, who died in his apartments in the Shepherd building Tuesday afternoon. Dr. T. W. O'Kelly, the pastor, conducted the services. The pallbearers—two from each lodge—were from the four orders of which Mr. Faison was a member. The honorary pallbearers were the presiding officers of the lodges and other close personal friends of the deceased. Members of the various fraternal orders attended.

A FINE NIGHTCAP.

The Best Thing in the World to Go to Bed and Sleep on.

"My wife and I find that 4 teaspoonfuls of Grape-Nuts and a cup of hot milk, or some cream, with it, makes the finest nightcap in the world," says an Allegheny, Pa., man.

"We go to sleep as soon as we strike the bed, and slumber like babies till rising time in the morning. "It is about 2 years now since we began to use Grape-Nuts food, and we always have it for breakfast and before retiring and sometimes for lunch. I was so sick from what doctors called acute indigestion and brain fog before I began to use Grape-Nuts that I could neither eat, sleep nor work with any comfort. "I was afflicted at the same time with the most intense pains, accompanied by a racking headache and back-ache, every time I tried to eat anything. Notwithstanding an unusual pressure from my professional duties, I was compelled for a time to give up my work altogether. "Then I put myself on a diet of Grape-Nuts and cream alone, with an occasional cup of Postum as a runner-up, and sometimes a little dry toast. I assure you that in less than a week I felt like a new man; I had gained six pounds in weight, could sleep well and think well. "The good work went on, and I was soon ready to return to business, and have been hard at it, and enjoying it ever since. "Command me at any time any one, as to the merits of Grape-Nuts. You will find me always ready to testify." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

FRIGHTFUL SUFFERING OF A WOMAN

Mrs. Garrett, of Vandervoort, Describes How She Suffered and How She Got Relief.

Vandervoort, Ark.—Mrs. Dora Garrett of this place says: "I suffered every month, for a year, and got weaker every day. My head and back would ache so bad, I could not sit up. I tried all kinds of medicines, and they all failed to cure me. Then my mother told me to take Cardui. When I had taken one bottle, I was able to do all of my work. I can recommend Cardui to be the greatest woman's remedy in the world. I have used it and know what it will do. When a woman is ill, the real trouble is generally some derangement of her constitution, and the headache, and backache, etc., are merely symptoms of her womanly weakness. The proper treatment, therefore, is Cardui, the woman's tonic. No other medicine, or tonic, has exactly the same results as Cardui. No other has the record of so many years of successful use in cases of womanly ailments.

If Mrs. Garrett had taken Cardui sooner, he might have been spared the long sickness and much suffering. A few doses of Cardui at the right time will often save serious suffering and prevent a long sickness. Don't delay. Begin to take Cardui at once. N. B.—Write to Ladies' Advisory Dept., Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn., for Special Instructions, and 64-page book, "Home Treatment for Women," sent in plain wrapper, on request.

Bear Cubs for Museum. Billie and Tom are the names given two pretty bear cubs which were received at the state museum yesterday. It will not be many months before these youngsters have shuffled off the mortal coil, because Curator Brimley secured them only for the purpose of mounting. They are about six and a half months old and are by no means gentle. When the proper amount of fur is developed they will be killed. Mr. Brimley expects to secure an adult male and female this winter and will have a family group in the museum surrounded by natural scenery. The cubs were captured in the swamps of Craven county.

L. J. Norris, convicted and sentenced to 20 years in the penitentiary for the murder of J. B. Bissett, will not be released on bond, his attorneys having secured from Judge Peebles an order allowing him to make his appeal to the Supreme court as a pauper. Norris, in an affidavit, said he did not have any funds. It is doubtful if his appeal will be pushed and the man may be allowed to begin his service in a few weeks.

Suit instituted in Wake superior court yesterday by Freeman & Lassiter, lawyers, against J. C. Chamblee, a member of the last grand jury, for the recovery of $300, the value of a fine horse alleged to have been driven almost to death by Chamblee. The suit has attracted a good deal of attention by reason of the fact that Chamblee was a member of the grand jury and was on business for the county. It is said that the other members of the jury who were with Chamblee will testify that he would not take their advice to drive slowly. The horse has been, veterinarians say, permanently disabled.

"The Bell of Justice."

The Theatro is showing the "Bell of Justice," the story of which follows: In Russia in the fifteenth century, the czar commands that a great bell be hung in the market place, that all who have suffered wrongs might ring it to show they wished redress. The first person to ring the bell is an old woman who has been done out of her property by a villain, who is summarily brought to account.

Sieur Dr. Magnore, a man of great wealth, marries and starts out with his bride in a sleigh, on their honeymoon. It is a typical Russian winter day, merrily proceeding, they are attacked by a pack of wolves. Their good steed "Sultan," strains every nerve and speedily carries his master and mistress to their destination.

Sieur Dr. Magnore and his bride are very grateful to "Sultan," for some years they give him the care and attention he so much deserves. When he is old, however, his master, who is also old and has grown very miserly, begrudges his faithful friend his food. Finally "Sultan" is turned out into the fields to exist as best he can. The rope of the "Bell of Justice" becomes worn and shortened, it is repaired by the interringing of hay with the hamper cable. "Sultan" wanders into the market place, and to satisfy his appetite nibbles and pulls on the rope. The bell rings and the inhabitants of the city rush out to learn the cause. The czar sees the horse apparently calling for justice, calls Sieur Dr. Magnore before him, and asks him if he is the owner of the horse. The ruler commands him to give the horse proper treatment and kindness. "Sultan" then passes his days in ease and plenty.

"How did that murder trial come out?"

"In the usual way. The defendant, two bailiffs and several of the witnesses are going on the stage."—Louisville Courier Journal.
