PULL TOGETHER SPIRIT IS VOICED

Evidences, at Board of Trade Meeting, of Commercial Awakening.

NUMBER OF PROMINENT MEN IN ATTENDANCE

Monday Night's Banquet, the Fair, and Various Other Things Were Discussed.

The smoker and all members meeting of the board of trade last night was a great success. A number of the city's most prominent business men were present and steps were taken to further the success of the Western North Carolina fair, and the banquet which is to be held Monday night at the Battery Park hotel, for the purpose of enlisting the co-operation of the business men of this part of the state in making known to the world the boundless resources and opportunities of western North Carolina. Several of those present made speeches bearing on the future development of Asheville and the western part of the state, and there was evidence of a commercial awakening which promises results that have long been sought.

Mr. Erwin.
After the object of the meeting had been made known by Vice President F. M. Weaver, who presided in the absence of President H. W. Plummer, the opening talk was made by Marcus Erwin on "Asheville—Its Part in the Development of Western North Carolina." Mr. Erwin showed that the interests of Asheville and western North Carolina are inter-dependent and he declared that commercial activity at Asheville will push the development of the whole section. He urged the need of more factories and insisted that it is time for Asheville to become a live city.

Dr. Ambler.
Dr. Chase P. Ambler, who spoke of the "Substantiality of Hotels in Asheville," told of the wonderful strides that have been made since his residence in the city and declared that some of the projects started here have attracted the attention of the world. He referred to the wonderful possibilities that the hotels here have, and emphasized the importance of catering to the tourists; and he declared that we should raise the products with which they are fed instead of buying them elsewhere.

F. W. Thomas.
Speaking on "Factories in Asheville," F. W. Thomas brought out the point that it is not wise to force factories where they will not grow and prosper; at the same time he insisted that they should be encouraged to come here, and as a means of getting them, he said tourists should be looked after for, sooner or later, they would become industrially interested in the section. He referred to the good done by Mr. Grove, Mr. Pack and Mr. Vanderbilt.

Mr. Harris.
The speech of Dr. Harris had to do with the banquet above referred to and he said that it is now realized that co-operation of the whole section is necessary in order to get the best results.

P. H. Branch.
P. H. Branch spoke of the importance of more hotels for Asheville. He declared that more encouragement should be given to those who propose to build hotels.

A Million in Twelve Months.
The speech of Dr. W. L. Dunn was interesting. He said that enough attention is not paid to consumptives; that they are often considered a trouble instead of a source of benefit, and he made the astounding statement that the patients of five Asheville physicians, to his knowledge, had left $1,000,000 here during the past 12 months. He said that people of this class too often have trouble in finding quarters and he thought this should be remedied. Upon his motion a committee, consisting of Dr. Harris, Marcus Erwin and H. C. Allen, was appointed to confer with physicians as to plans for the improvement of this condition.

Mr. Erwin made a motion that those present be delegated to meet the trains Monday to welcome those who come to the banquet, and this was decided on.

N. Buckner, Dr. Ambler and A. C. Brandt were appointed to take up with the street superintendent the matter of putting the streets leading to the fair grounds in good shape.

Before the meeting was concluded Secretary Gudgeon of the Western North Carolina Fair association told of the bright prospects for the fair next week.

TO PREVENT ACCIDENTS AT GRADE CROSSINGS

Greensboro Will Require Construction of Gates—Increase in City's Tax Assessment.

Gazette-News Bureau, Daily News Building, Greensboro, Oct. 7.

As a result of recent accidents in Greensboro at railway crossings the board of commissioners have taken decisive action and on recommendation of A. E. Brown, commissioner of public safety, an ordinance has been adopted requiring the Southern railway to construct gates at the Summit avenue crossing and the Washington street crossing. It was at the Summit avenue crossing this week that Mr. and Mrs. Hoffin were seriously injured, only escaping death by a miracle when their buggy was struck by a passing train. The ordinance further provides that the railway must maintain a watchman at the West Market street crossing. The railroad company is required to comply with the ordinance within 30 days. A fine of $25 for each and every violation of the ordinance is prescribed.

Ed. Walker of the J. I. Case company left yesterday for New York in a 20-horse power Case to enter the Glidden tour for the run from New York to Jacksonville. Mr. Walker was accompanied by three Greensboro people who will make the trip and return to Greensboro by rail. Mr. Walker will also represent the Greensboro chamber of commerce on the tour. The car is expected to reach New York Monday morning. The Glidden tourists, already 80 strong, will leave New York for the run south on the morning of October 14.

Mayor J. T. Murphy has announced that the increase in the tax assessment valuation of real and personal property in Greensboro amounts to one million dollars this year over the previous year. The assessment as now made up for the city proper is nine and one-half million dollars as against eight and one-half million last year. The mayor stated that the advance was not due to the establishment of any particular wealthy concern in the city but rather indicates a steady, prosperous growth of the city and a general advance of property values and improvements to property during the past year.
