ENTERTAINMENT PROGRAM ISSUED

Handsome Souvenir Card of Good Things Arranged for the Retail Merchants.

UNDER THE AUSPICES OF U. C. TRAVELERS

Reception at Swannanoa-Berkeley Tomorrow Night, Banquet on Next Evening.

The wholesale houses of Asheville and surrounding country, including parts of other states, which propose to entertain the retail merchants of Western North Carolina under the auspices of the Asheville council No. 285, United Commercial Travelers, during the Western North Carolina fair, have issued handsome souvenir programs to those invited. The entertainment begins Tuesday night with a reception at the Swannanoa-Berkeley hotel and lasts through Wednesday, ending with a banquet at the same hostelry. The entertainment also includes free rides over the city, talks and addresses.

The program is arranged in the shape of a six leaves folder, printed on both sides in blue-black ink, and contains six beautiful cuts, showing views of Asheville and nearby points, and a map of Western North Carolina which contains the new county of Avery, said to be the first made showing the new county lines. The views are: "A Bird's-Eye View of Asheville," "Panoramic View of Pack Square," "Riverside Park and Lake," "Overlooking French Broad River and Riverside Park," "View of Overlook Park, 1000 Feet Above Asheville" and "Pack Square at Night."

The Program.
The program is as follows:
Tuesday, Oct. 10, 7 p. m.—Reception at Swannanoa-Berkeley.
7:30 p. m.—Spec. cars for fair ground; inspect fair, witness fireworks and other attractions.

Wednesday, Oct. 11, 9:30 a. m.—Special cars from the Swannanoa-Berkeley to West Asheville and over all electric lines in city.

3 p. m.—Meet at Swannanoa-Berkeley and secure tickets for special matinee at Grand Opera house which begins at 3:30 p. m.

8 p. m.—Banquet at Swannanoa-Berkeley. John C. Orr, toastmaster. Invocation by Rev. C. W. Byrd, D. D., address of welcome by Mayor J. E. Rankin; response by L. Lee Marr, of Bryson City; "The Need of a Western North Carolina Spirit and How to Create It," by Neptune Buckner, secretary of Asheville board of trade; voluntary five-minute impromptu talks; music by Asheville quartet.

The following firms are co-operating in the entertainment:
Armour & Co., Asheville Grocery company, Asheville Harness company, Asheville Hardware company, Asheville Milling company, Asheville Paint & Glass company, Asheville Provision

GIRL MURDERED; INDIAN IS JAILED

Ross French of Cherokee Band Saved from Mob by Being Hurried to Asheville.

FRENCH CALMLY PLAYS CARDS IN JAIL CAGE

Is Charged with Attempted Criminal Assault and Murder of Miss Ethel Shuler.

Sitting on a bunk in the county jail and unconcernedly playing cards with one of the other prisoners, Ross French, a 21 years old Cherokee Indian of the western band, who is charged with murder and attempted criminal assault of Miss Ethel Shuler, the 14 years old daughter of George Shuler of Swain county, near Birdtown, Thursday afternoon, and who was brought here yesterday from the Waynesville jail to escape a mob, seemed unmindful of the crime which he is said to have confessed and of the danger of being lynched, which he had just escaped.

When first seen by a reporter the Indian appeared as though he were willing to talk but as soon as the conversation approached the subject of the crime he said, "I can't stand much from you," and would not talk much more. He said, however, that he had been to Birdtown to play ball and had met the young girl and asked her why "she was mad" at him. He also said she had struck him on the head with a stone.

To the officer who brought him here he confessed the crime, stating that he had attempted criminal assault and that the girl had fought him, and getting hold of a rock had struck him, after which he drew his knife and cut her throat.

Body Found Thursday Night.
The body of the girl was found Thursday night about 8 o'clock on the road which leads from Birdtown through some woods, a few hours after she had left Trantham's store at that place. French was placed under arrest the next morning and it is said the top of his hat was covered with blood, but that he had disposed of the clothes he wore the day before. He accounted for the blood on his hat at the time by saying that his wife had thrown a dead bird at him, that he had killed.

Fled From the Mob.
French was placed in jail at Bryson City to await trial at the next term of court, which is to be held in a few weeks. It was learned by the officers, however, that the farmers of the section were very angry and were talking of taking the Indian from the jail, and Deputy Sheriff Beck left with him yesterday morning to place him in the Waynesville jail for safe keeping. It was not long until the officers heard that the avenging mob was on the way to Waynesville and the militia was called out to protect the prisoner. At the same time the officers evidently felt that French would be safer elsewhere and he was taken from the jail by way of the back door, placed in an automobile and taken to Clyde, where Deputy Sheriff Beck boarded the train with his prisoner for Asheville. It was on the way that he made his confession, after which he requested that his body be sent back to his wife in the Indian reservation when he had paid the penalty of his crime.

The Indian will probably be kept here until court convenes in Swain county, and he will then be taken to Bryson City to be tried. There were reports yesterday that the angry mob meant to follow to Asheville and attempt a delivery but there has been no sign of anything of the kind.

French stated this morning that he is the son of Will French, who is now in South Carolina. "I'd like to see Will mighty well," said he. The Frenches are among the more prominent of the Indians. They come from Oklahoma, being members of the western band of the Cherokee Indians.

George French, an uncle of the prisoner, has often been in Asheville, acting as interpreter in the trials which some of the Indians appeared in. There are numerous members of the Shuler family living in all parts of the county.
