THE FAIR.

We could, very pleasantly, put in all the time at the fair, and we have heard others say the same. The flight of time is unheeded in that spot where enchantments are gathered. It is no place, however, for a hungry man—the constant temptation to obey the primal impulse of nature and of crime, and take and eat, may be fine moral discipline but the feeling that in a moment the training of a life of conventional respectability might be disregarded is rather alarming.

People who have seen many agricultural fairs say it is comparatively very fine. We suppose that is said about all fairs, but we have not heard a single person say it is poor, or disappointing. Without comparisons, the Western North Carolina fair is a most enjoyable exhibit. It is a revelation, a concrete presentation of the possibilities of western North Carolina soil. The aristocracy of the farmyard; fine horses, beautifully sleek, contented cattle; a great variety of thoroughly hoglike hogs, chickens that look as if they might be bred for their beauty alone, ducks, geese; a bewildering array of the products of field and garden, the endless show of cereals, the rows and rows of plates, boxes and barrels of apples that look like the pictures in the catalogues; the household and pantry treasures, the general atmosphere of solid, usable wealth, of plenty, the chorus of barnyard music, the agglomerate of scents that would suggest to a blind and deaf man that he had come upon some prosperous farm; the throngs of people, drifting eagerly from one pleasure to another, the circus-like midway suggestions—it is all much better than a circus.

And whose is the credit? Why, everybody's. The people of western North Carolina made this show. The fair association have demonstrated wisdom and zeal and enthusiasm. The people who subscribed their money, and the newspapers, have a share in the triumph. A very considerable share of the credit, we feel sure, belongs to the traveling salesmen of this section, who bore a prominent part in the initiative work, and who have enthusiastically talked the fair in every town and village and hamlet. The man who has felt the greatest sense of responsibility, has done the most work and who doubtless feels the greatest satisfaction with the assurance of success is the secretary, Owen Gudger. Mr. Gudger has performed a prodigious amount of labor, intelligent, effective labor.

Hereafter, we believe, the association should arrange to feed the stock and have it cared for. A few men could do the work that each exhibitor has to see to. If the exhibitor prefers to care for his stock himself, and furnish the feed, let him do so, but the average exhibitor would probably be glad to pay a small fee and escape this responsibility.

The midway is the only one on earth that has Bill Cooper for barker and ticket seller and Walter Haynes as doorkeeper and floor manager.

It was Mrs. Vanderbilt's exhibit of figs, grown in the open air, that the kind compositor translated into "pigs" in yesterday's Gazette-News.

The Gazette-News did not enter an agricultural exhibit. It would have required a great deal of wall space to show this paper's agricultural efforts during the past year. The Associated Farm Press weekly agricultural page, the best, we believe, that can be produced, published in the daily and semi-weekly Gazette-News, would, for the 57 numbers, require a great amount of space. The results of skilled experimenters, employed by the State and national government; the reports of progress of the demonstration work in western North Carolina; the records of neighborhood successes in farming and gardening—and the great mass of good roads literature—some of them things are to be found in The Gazette-News nearly every day in the year. We have a notion to prepare an exhibit of these things for next year, if the association can furnish us enough space to display it.

URGES BANKERS TO REFORM THE MONETARY SYSTEM.

In his address to the bankers yesterday James J. Hill, who always talks interestingly, doubts whether, under the Aldrich currency plan, the control of the money of the country could be freed from the domination of financial interest and political influences. He regards the report of the commission, however, as highly valuable, the first real investigation of our monetary problems that has ever been made.

Congress, he thinks, may not adopt the Aldrich scheme, for a long while, if at all; if it were adopted it might prove to be permeated with errors that, having taken the form of national law, would not be easy to correct. He urges the bankers to take the initiative in some form of monetary reform based upon the information brought out in the commission report; it is entirely possible for them to do it, they are the ones directly interested and who should know more about the problems; any mistake they might make would be less in the nature of the irrevocable, he thinks.

Granting that this is possible—and Mr. Hill's assurance ought to be sufficient—whether it is done or not would seem to depend upon the amount of enterprise possessed by the bankers as a whole. We have always believed that bank deposits could be insured without the necessity of "passing a law." But so far they have not been.

Yesterday Afternoon.
 The free attractions at the fair yesterday afternoon were witnessed by a large number of people, especially the LaCrosse game which was seen by a large number which lined the baseball ground where the game was played and watched the peculiar game which has been played among the Indians from their earliest days. The game was played between the Ocona Lufta and the Soco teams and the former won by a score of 12 to 1. A shorter game was won by the same team by a score of 6 to 0. A point is scored every time the ball is carried through the goal of the opposing team. A small ball is used and each of the players have rackets which they throw away when they start for the goal. It is wonderful to see them catch the ball in the air and pick it from the ground. The game is about as rough as football and some of the players got some rather hard tumbles. Another game is scheduled for this afternoon.

The other free attractions included a balloon ascension which was pulled off successfully and "Happy Jack's" slide in flame across the French Broad river, also fireworks, all of which were greatly enjoyed.

Special Attraction.
 A special free attraction has been arranged for tonight at the fair grounds and will be the Indian "War" dance. This is not the old Indian "Pow-wow" dance, known to everybody, but is something entirely different and very few people have ever witnessed it. The dance will take place at 10:30 tonight, just following the slide of Happy Jack and will be around a big camp fire on the fair grounds. About 25 Indians will participate in it, and the sight promises to be a unique and highly entertaining one.

Meet me at Theatro daily.

LEAGUE FOOD COMMITTEE ASKS WILSON'S REMOVAL

National Consumers Body Also After the Heads of Solicitor McCabe and Dunlap.

New York, Oct. 12.—Resolutions commending the work of Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, chief of the bureau of chemistry, praising President Taft for his endorsement of Dr. Wiley "from the foolish and unfounded charges made against him," and urging the removal from office of Secretary of Agriculture Wilson, Solicitor McCabe and Associate Chemist Dunlap of the department were adopted yesterday by the food committee of the National Consumers league at its meeting here. The resolutions endorse Dr. Wiley for his efforts to have the food and drugs act enforced for the benefit of the consumer as well as the manufacturer. "and urge congress to amend the food and drugs act so that hereafter Dr. Wiley may be given a free hand in its enforcement."

Among the reasons advanced in a statement issued by the league committee for urging the removal of Secretary Wilson are the allegations that "he used his official position to force the Denver convention of the association of Standard National Food and Dairy department to vote in favor of the use of the drug sodium benzoate in foods," that he "has used his official position to favor the manufacturers of foods, drugs, liquors, and medicines," that he allowed the pure food law to be "set aside" for the production of glucose, labeled as "corn syrup;" that he was instrumental in giving the solicitor of the department the right to decide whether suits shall be brought for violation of the food law, after samples "have been found to violate the law," and that the law dealing with the label of beers "has not been enforced."

IMPORTANT TO MOTHERS

A record of sixty-five years continuous use of "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" by mothers in all parts of the world, is the highest praise that any remedy for "children teething" has ever received. Every year the young mother follows in the footsteps of her mother and finds Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup to be the favorite, and it has gone for a period of sixty-five years. Millions of mothers have used it for their children, with nothing with perfect success. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic and is the best remedy for diarrhoea. Sold by druggists and medicine dealers in all parts of the known world. Twenty-five cents a bottle.
