DIES WHEN CRUSHED BENEATH HEAVY WAGON

Guilford Man Loses Life When Mules Run Away—Other Gate City News.

Gazette-News Bureau, Daily News Building, Greensboro, Oct. 27.

Turner Tickle, a son of the late C. A. Tickle, died at his home in McLeanville township as a result of an accident Tuesday, when he was thrown beneath a heavily laden wagon. It seems that young Tickle was driving a wagon to which was attached two horses. The animals started at something in the road and Tickle rose in the wagon better to control them, when he was jerked beneath the wheels and fatally crushed. He was able to walk to his home, however, a distance of one-half mile, where he explained what had happened and soon became unconscious.

Charged With Intimidating Witness.

Vance Garrett, a young man from the Clay township, who has been wanted by the federal authorities for several days on a charge of attempting to intimidate a government witness, came in town and surrendered. He was held under $500 bond to await trial at the next term of United States District court. Several men of the Clay township section were arrested recently charged with violating the revenue laws and after the preliminary hearing Saturday it is alleged that Garrett went to one of the government's witnesses and threatened to do him bodily harm. The conversation, it seems, was overheard by a government officer, who immediately imparted the information to the judge with the result that a bench warrant was promptly issued for Garrett.

Seek Lane's Abettor.

The authorities of Guilford county are still at work in an effort to learn the name of the person who passed a saw into the cell of Roscoe Lane, in jail, charged with assault on Revenue Officer Henry with intent to commit murder. Lane secured the saw a few days ago and was industriously sawing away at the bars in an effort to effect his liberty when discovered and the saw taken from him. It is known to the authorities that the saw was passed to Lane by some person and the identity of the person is being sought by the officials.

Diphtheria Epidemic Closes School.

Health Officer Ross of Guilford county has caused the closing of the Monticello school, near Brown Summit, for a period of seven days on account of an outbreak of diphtheria. Reports from Brown Summit are to the effect that considerable alarm is felt in that section over the outbreak of the disease. The general impression is that the county health officer and school authorities acted with fine judgment in causing the closing of the school. County Superintendent of Health Ross yesterday made the startling statement that he believed "there will be more smallpox in Guilford county and other sections of North Carolina during the next few months than was ever before heard of." The authorities of Guilford have already taken steps to prevent any serious outbreak and are causing all children and others in the county to be vaccinated as a preventative.

Grand Chancellor McLean of the Knights of Pythias left for Tryon, Franklinton and Asheville to pay official visits to lodges in those places. He was to attend the district meeting at Tryon and also attend a district meeting at Franklinton Saturday night.

There is much marrying and giving in marriage in Guilford county this month. While there are still several days to go before November is ushered in, the register of deeds' office shows that already half a hundred licenses have been issued.

A dispatch from Wilmington says that the ministers of that city were literally kept on the run for several hours there Wednesday marrying folks. No less than six weddings were solemnized in the City by the Sea in less than six hours.

A quiet wedding was solemnized here when Miss Mary Partin of Durham became the bride of S. O. Rudd of this city. The ceremony was performed in the presence of a few invited friends of the contracting couple. Mr. and Mrs. Rudd left for Durham for a brief visit. Afterwards they will make Greensboro their home.
