

Why I Lost

My Job

Reasons Why Thousands Like Me Cannot Satisfy Their Employers.

I believe my fate is not unlike that of thousands of other workers who daily lose their place for reasons they do not know, and probably would not believe. When their last pay envelope comes along, it is usually, "Your services no longer required."

Every man requires from every other man the best that is in him. But no man can use or get the best that is in himself until he is first free from all fretful indispositions and worries.

There are thousands like me, going about with "quick lunch" faces, dyspeptic manners, and repulsive atmospheres. No employer wants such men's services.

Take my advice. A healthy stomach now and hold a good position, and my employer is satisfied and so am I.

I started to take Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets which I was told were good for the worst cases of indigestion and dyspepsia. The first two tablets made a wonderful difference in my condition.

One ingredient of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets digests 3000 grains of food. The stomach doesn't have to work at all. The Tablets do all the work, no matter how heavy your meal.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets cure brash, eructations, burning sensations, bloating, irritations, loss of appetite, nausea, heartburn, lack of energy, loss of memory and dyspepsia and indigestion in their very worst forms.

No other little tablets in the world can do so much. You should carry them around with you wherever you go and take them regularly after meals.

AUSTIN DAM FAULTY

Experts Testify at the Inquest to Fix Blame for Deaths in Disaster.

Coudersport, Pa., Nov. 3.—That the dam of the Bayless Pulp and Paper company at Austin, Pa., the breaking of which on September 20 caused over three score deaths and millions of dollars of property damage, was faulty in practically every detail, was the opinion of Professor Frank B. McKibbin of the engineering department of the Lehigh university, and Alfred D. Flinn, department engineer of the board of water supply of New York city, expressed yesterday when the inquest into the disaster was resumed.

The inquiry was again continued to accommodate E. C. Hatton of Wilmington, Del., who designed and constructed the ill-fated dam for the paper company. When the inquest is taken up next month, Mr. Hatton will be the only witness examined and a verdict will come quickly.

St. Louis, Nov. 3.—Norman J. Coleman, the first secretary of agriculture of the United States, died this morning on a train bringing him to his home here. He suffered a stroke of apoplexy yesterday in a sleeping car near Lexington, Ky.

TINY CITY "FARM;" $500 IN A SEASON

The Cost of Living Problem Does Not Fease Justice James, with His Garden.

SALES $25 A WEEK FOR PART OF SUMMER

Mr. James Does Most of the Work, and Has Time to Devote to Other Matters.

Day after day one hears of the high cost of living and about as often remedies for it are given, economies both great and small, various systems to follow in order to save, the kind of steak to buy, or not to buy, and how long to wear a winter coat.

Probably the most acceptable remedies are those which provide that the people procure more of the things that they consume themselves. This does not necessarily refer to the farmer, but as will be shown, applies with equal force, rather with more force, to the urban dweller, since the farmer is not so much concerned about the high cost of living.

It has been demonstrated right here in Asheville, within a quarter mile of Pack a square, that money which would provide food for the average family for a year can be obtained from the produce raised on one-half acre of ground, and this during six months of the year.

Magistrate W. A. James has this summer, in the very shadow of the Auditorium, raised garden truck which he has sold to his neighbors and the markets for nearly $500 since May 1. Before the garden season is entirely over it is probable that he will have sold the full $500 worth. In fact, it may amount to more than that now, since Mrs. James has sold some vegetables that Mr. James has not kept account of; and it is not counting what was used at the home table. Since May 1 there has not been a day except Sundays when he has not made a sale and one day the sales amounted to nearly $10. The total figures so far amount to over $445 in excess of some sold before May 1.

"Squire James says that he has barely half an acre of ground and he has done nearly all the work himself. He does not make any mystery about his personal solving of the high cost of living. He simply planted the stuff, the common "garden varieties," and disposed of it. He had no trouble in selling it, in fact he could have sold more than he raised.

Mr. James has put the amounts of the sales down in a book every day. The biggest receipts were in May, amounting to more than $25 per week. Dry weather cut down the receipts later in the summer, but in October he sold $41 worth. He says he will dispose of $40 worth more, which will make about $500 for the full season.

This would seem to prove that the high cost of living is not as serious as people consider it to be. When one man can produce enough on a half acre of land—and still help to feed the average family for a year, it seems that there is little ground for fears of starving.

MRS. FERGUSON ROAMED WOODS WITH HALF BREED

She Testifies in Divorce Suit Resulting from Her Trip with Maine Guide.

Bridgport, Conn., Nov. 3.—Mrs. Wallace Ferguson, jr., of Stamford, whose husband accused her of undue familiarity with a half-breed Indian guide, testified in the trial of her husband's suit for divorce and her counter-suit, before Judge Howard J. Curtis in the Superior court. She coolly parried many keen thrusts aimed at her and proved a skillful witness.

The defense scored a point through the introduction of witnesses from a private detective agency, who discredited affidavits made by George Owens, a guide, whose depositions concerning Mrs. Ferguson's trips in the Maine woods with George Graham, another guide, were presented by her husband's attorneys. The detective avers that Owens had told them that his depositions were untrue.

In Mrs. Ferguson's testimony it appeared that George Graham, the guide named as co-respondent, is a half-breed Indian. His mother was Indian and his father Scotch or Irish.

Mrs. Ferguson declared that she did not discover this interesting fact until she had examined a photograph taken of Graham by a New York photographer, in which Graham's Indian features appeared prominently. She said that this only increased her interest in him, which, she declared, was purely impersonal. She said that she thought it was fascinating to roam through the Maine woods with a half-breed Indian for a guide. As to propriety, she saw nothing wrong in it.

"I would have preferred my husband," she said, "but he wouldn't come. I never attempted in any way to conceal these things from him."

Mrs. Ferguson admitted having bought a pair of gold suspenders, buckles and a pair of gold parrot buckles for the guide. She also had bought six shirts and pajamas for him.

INCREASE IN FARM VALUES IMMENSE

Lands Worth $25 an Acre Ten Years Ago Now Readily Sell for Four Times as Much.

SOME RICH FARMERS IN WESTERN SECTION

The Leicester and Sandy Mush Sections, and Their Fine Farms—Farms Worth in Other Counties.

The rapid increase in agricultural land values in Western North Carolina, particularly in this county, is little short of wonderful, considering what the biggest part of the increase has taken place in the past ten years. Land that could have been bought ten years ago for $25 per acre would now bring $100.

Nowhere has this wonderful increase been more pronounced than in the Leicester and Sandy Mush sections of the county. And it is interesting to note that the increased value in this case is entirely due to the increased productivity of the soil, that is it does not depend upon outside influences, such as railways and proximity to towns. It is purely a rural neighborhood.

By some it is considered the best farming section in Buncombe. Here is what a man who recently made a trip through Leicester, says about the farms:

"Traveling recently in the Leicester county, the best farming section of Buncombe county, I found many young farmers worth $100,000. There are probably scores of farmers who are worth more than $100,000. Twenty years ago a farmer whose possessions amounted to $10,000 was considered a very rich man, whereas now it is nothing out of the ordinary.

"A great many of them have nice new houses and barns, the farms are well stocked, they own the best farm implements, all are educating their children in good schools. This same condition prevails throughout the county, to a considerable extent, but the Leicester and Sandy Mush sections are the richest.

"A case in point—a young man living in Leicester precinct No. 2, eight years ago bought a farm from an Asheville man, at the price of $7000, paying $350 in cash, which was $500 more than had he borrowed the rest. He has paid for this place and bought two others—and made all the money out of the ground. A man told me that $20,000 would not buy out the young farmer now. He made 1200 bushels of wheat on his original farm last year, besides other crops.

"This money is made out of general crops, mostly, and horses and cattle."

This gentleman then went on to speak of the increase of land values in other counties.

"In the Crabtree and other sections of Haywood county there are any number of farmers worth from $50,000 to $200,000 each. I have heard of one woman farmer worth $100,000. All these fortunes came from farming and stock raising, much of the value being represented in land. Farms, some of them, are worth five times as much as they were five or ten years ago. Indeed, it is almost safe to say that every farm in western North Carolina has increased five-fold in value in the past 15 years.

"As for Cherokee county I was told that 15 years ago, when a republican was elected sheriff, all the republicans in the county together, could not make his bond, and they had to call on a wealthy democrat for help. Now there are at least 15 republican farmers in the county, any one of whom could make the bond."

Priests' Advice Led to Their Recovery.

Thin, weak, or frail people—those who "take cold easily" and sufferers of Bronchitis and Asthma, should be prepared with Eckman's Alternative in the house.

Remarkable cures of even Tuberculosis (Consumptive) persons are often accomplished. Here are two cases:

"Gentlemen: On June 3, 1907, I was operated upon for Tubercular Peritonitis at St. Mary's Hospital, Rochester, N. Y. After the operation my physicians gave me up. I was then cured by a priest to take Eckman's Alternative, which I did. My weight at the time was 72 lbs. I began to improve and steadily gained in health and strength. I now weigh 125 lbs. and am absolutely cured."

"Gentlemen: I was troubled with Asthma and Bronchitis for 17 years. After trying many remedies Eckman's Alternative was recommended to me by a parish priest. I am now feeling fine. I cannot praise it enough."

ALL YOU NEED IS A CASCARET TONIGHT

No Sick Headache, Pileus Stomach, Coated Tongue or Constipated Bowels by Morning.

Turn the rascals out—the headache, the biliousness, the indigestion, the sick, sour stomach and foul gases—turn them out tonight and keep them out with Cascarets.

Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then and never know the misery caused by a lazy liver, clogged bowels or an upset stomach.

Don't put in another day of distress. Let Cascarets cleanse and regulate your stomach; remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and that misery-making gas; take the excess bile from your liver and carry out of the system all the decomposed waste matter and poison in the intestines and bowels. Then you will feel great.

A Cascaret tonight will surely straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep. A 10-cent box from any drug store means a clear head and cheerfulness for months. Children love to take Cascarets because they taste good—never gripe or sicken.

REV. CALVIN B. WALLER WILL ARRIVE TOMORROW

New Pastor "an Eloquent Preacher, Beloved Pastor, Noble Christian Man."

Concerning Rev. Calvin B. Waller, who has resigned the pastorate of Deaderick Avenue Baptist church, Knoxville, Tenn., in order to accept the call of the First Baptist church, of Asheville, the Baptist and Reflector has the following to say in its last issue:

"Brother Waller was educated at Carson and Newman college, where he graduated with the degree of Bachelor of Arts. He taught school six years as a member of the faculty of the Jonesboro High school and as principal of Fall Branch High school. Leaving the school-room for the ministry, his pastorates have been Elizabethton, Tabernacle church, Chattanooga, six and one-half years; Deaderick Avenue church, Knoxville, two and one-half years. All of these pastorates have been remarkably successful. During his pastorate in Knoxville four hundred and fifty have been added to the membership of the church, more than $10,000 has been raised for all purposes, a handsome new building has been erected to take the place of the one destroyed by fire, and it has been sufficiently completed to be opened for all branches of work in the church, though the main auditorium is not yet completed."

"Brother Waller is an eloquent preacher of the Gospel, a beloved pastor, and a noble Christian man. We join with thousands of his friends in Tennessee in wishing for him, as we believe he will have a happy and prosperous pastorate in Asheville. May God's blessings rest upon him. We commend him most cordially to our North Carolina brethren. At the same time, we give them our fair warning, that we have only loaned him to them, and we shall expect to have him back in Tennessee sometime. He belongs to us."

"Brother Waller," says the Raleigh Biblical Recorder, "enters upon his work at Asheville this week, and we give him hearty welcome to our mountain metropolis and our statewide brotherhood."

Rev. Mr. Waller will arrive here tomorrow on train No. 15 at 2:05 o'clock from Knoxville, and will be greeted at the station by members of the congregation. A special car has been chartered which will leave Pack square at 1:30 o'clock, carrying the board of deacons and others of the congregation that may wish to go. The new pastor will preach at the morning service Sunday.

GOVERNMENT TO APPLY NEW INDUSTRIAL PLAN

War Secretary Stimson Favors Introducing "Scientific Management" in Federal Shops.

Washington, Nov. 3.—Scientific shop management is given the endorsement of the United States government, Secretary of War Stimson is convinced of its desirability and advantages, basing his conviction on a report made by Gen. William Crozier, chief of ordinance. The secretary is satisfied that its introduction into government workshops would work no hardship to labor.

"It means a betterment and in no wise an impairment of the conditions of labor," he declared in a statement. The report has been availed by organized labor and the employees of labor with much interest. It is generally believed that the question will be one that will figure largely in the coming national political campaign, and for this reason, especially, General Crozier's findings are regarded as being of unusual importance, as are the comments of Secretary Stimson.
