THE BIGGS SANITARIUM

PASTOR READS PLATFORM INAUGURATING PASTORATE

Duties of Minister and People; What Each Should Expect from the Other.

Rev. Calvin B. Waller, the new pastor of the First Baptist church, who came here Saturday from Knoxville, having resigned the pastorate of the Deaderick avenue Baptist church of that city, preached the first sermon of his pastorate here yesterday morning on the text "The impotent man answered Him, Sir, I have no man, when the water is troubled, to put me in the pool." At last night's service he preached on the text "No room for Jesus," which was taken from Luke 27. Both services were largely attended and the congregations were evidently impressed with the sermons of the new pastor.

Before preaching his morning sermon and after expressing his pleasure in filling the pulpit of the First Baptist church, Rev. Mr. Waller announced that he had prepared a platform which he thought would prove beneficial both to himself and to the church. He then read the platform, which referred to his duties and the duties of his people as to what his congregation should expect from him, what he should expect from the congregation, and what the members should expect from one another.

In beginning his sermon Mr. Waller spoke of the feat of the Jews at Jerusalem and of the great multitude of afflicted people that had gathered at the pool waiting for the angel to trouble the waters, and how Jesus noticed the man who had suffered with an infirmity for 38 years, and the man declared that he had no one to help him. Mr. Waller declared that the inclination of the people of the present day to go down to the pool and help is not strong enough, and said that it is his desire to lead his church to such places where crying humanity can be heard. The mission to the sick strangers which is about to be established here, he said, is in harmony with this teaching of Christ. The church, he said, loses an opportunity when it allows a person broken in heart or body to pass out of the city without attempting to alleviate his suffering.

He told of the ways to reach the people at the pool, by prayer, purse and personality, and insisted that it is the duty of each to go himself and not send someone else to the pool. In conclusion he said that the world needs people who live through the week as they live on Sunday, that live on the streets and in the homes and offices as they live in the church.

Why I Lost My Job

Reasons Why Thousands Like Me Cannot Satisfy Their Employers.

I believe my fate is not unlike that of thousands of other workers who daily lose their places for reasons they do not know, and probably would not believe. When their last pay envelope comes along, it is usually, "Your services no longer required." If the truth were known, the reason for their unceremonious removal would probably be that their usefulness was destroyed because of some mental worry, bodily ailment or general indisposition. These things, as we all know, are the most fruitful causes of failure in all walks of life. The battle of Waterloo was lost because of a headache. In this quick age our minds must be clear, rapid, active and free from outside influence or worry, or else we go down to failure with the throng of "floaters" who go from one place of employment to another, giving no satisfaction to others or to themselves, constantly growing older and less useful, with no ambition, no will power, and no hope.

Every man requires from every other man the best that is in him. But no man can use or get the best that is in himself until he is first freed from all fretful indispositions and worries.

That was my trouble. I was full of troubles. That's why I lost my job. My stomach in the first place was always out of order, and I was worrying about it and my mind grew cloudy, and slow. I made mistakes, and grew grouchy. That was the end.

There are thousands like me, going about with "quick lunch" faces, dyspeptic manners, and repulsive atmospheres. No employer wants such men's services.

Take my advice. A healthy stomach now and hold a good position, and my employer is satisfied and so am I.

I started to take Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets which I was told were good for the worst cases of indigestion and dyspepsia. The first two tablets made a wonderful difference in my condition.

One ingredient of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets digests 2000 grains of food. The stomach doesn't have to work at all. The Tablets do all the work, no matter how heavy your meal.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets cure brash, eruptions, burning sensations, flat, irritable, loss of appetite, nervous, heartburn, lack of energy, loss of memory and dyspepsia and indigestion in their very worst forms. No other little tablets in the world can do so much. You should carry them around with you wherever you go and take them regularly after meals. Then you will realize what it is to be freed from stomach torment, and have a clear mind, a quick nerve, a happy disposition, comfort and rest. Get Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets at any drug store for 50c a box.

Send your name and address today and we will at once send you by F. A. Stuart Co., 150 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

POSTAL BANK DEPOSITORS BONDS WILL BE ISSUED

Will Draw Interest of 2 1/2 Per Cent. and Will Not Be Subject to Tax.

The local postoffice officials have been notified by the postmaster general that beginning January 1 bonds will be issued in connection with the postal savings banks for the purpose of investment by the depositors in these banks.

The bonds will be issued in denominations of $20, $100 and $500, which will draw interest of 2 1/2 per cent, payable semi-annually, and the depositors can exchange all or part of their savings for these bonds. They will be issued in the form of registered and coupon bonds and will not be subject to taxation. The registered bonds are written in favor of the depositor and cannot be cashed by any other person and it is required that the money invested in them be allowed to the treasury for use one year. The coupon bonds are made payable to bearer and the money does not necessarily have to remain in the treasury a year.

The bonds will not be issued to persons who are not depositors and the money invested in them will not be counted in the $500 to which each depositor is limited.

Applications for conversion of money into bonds on January 1 must be made not later than December 15.

AMUSEMENTS

Coburn's Greater Minstrels. At the Auditorium tonight with its sweet singers, funny men, beautiful costumes, bright lights and special scenic equipments, Coburn's Greater Minstrels (entirely new people from last year), will duplicate and surpass their success of last season, with a bigger and better show, the latest songs and Modern and old time minstrelsy. Leslie D. Berry, the interactor and baritone, is the only singer retained this year from the old favorites. His songs "Good Bye My Love" and "Till the Sands of the Desert Grow Cold" both by Ernest Ballou, are the latest productions from this season's publications, and surpass "In the Garden of My Heart" of last year.

Mr. Berry requires no endorsement from his manager, as his singing and his personality have won him a host of friends in past seasons with his company, which is extremely gratifying. Mr. Hyman Goodwin, known as the Male Melba who has just returned from an engagement in England and Scotland is a new feature this season, and possesses a clear powerful soprano, a most unusual voice, equally effective in solo and chorus. Justin J. McCarthy, lyric tenor and yodeler, another new voice, has a splendid musical voice and pleasing personality, is singing "If All My Dreams Were Gold I'd Buy the World for You," a beautiful ballad just from the New York press; and an original yodel in his second number. Franklin H. Mayhew, basso, "Nocturne," by Gordon, a magnificent bass solo just published; Harry Frankel, contra bass; James Warner, baritone; Stanley Mortimer, tenor, compose a male choir equal to any minstrel attraction of the day. A splendid company supporting these voices guarantee a fine performance.

"Graustark." "Graustark," the romance by George Barr McCutcheon, will be the attraction at the Auditorium tomorrow night. Messrs. Baker and Coyle, the producers, guarantee a perfect performance in every particular. They send on tour a carload of scenery and effects. Mr. Baker, the adapter, in his desire to set the correct atmosphere, spent a summer kodaking through Europe and every scene is a replica of old-world royal environment. The costumes were designed from the plates of a celebrated court painter, Mr. Castle, who selected the cast and produced the play, has given the same attention to ensemble and detail which contributed so largely to the success of "Quo Vadis." "When Johnny Comes Marching Home" and Mme. Hochman-Helm's production of "Love's Lottery," of which he was the guiding hand. No effort has been spared to make this production the one sensation of the season, as it was last season. Tickets are selling at Whitlock's.

The Manhattan Opera Company. Lending the attention of musical producers to this city during the season will be Robert H. Kane's production of the great New York opera success, "When Reuben Comes to Town," which he opens the three night engagement of the Manhattan Opera company at the Auditorium on November 8.

MEN ARE HELPLESS AS CHILDREN

When Taken Suddenly Ill—There Is a Common-sense Remedy.

Big, strong men are as helpless infants when he is suddenly ill. The sturdiest chap in town usually loses his self-control, and is utterly unable to regard his condition with the common sense that characterizes his every-day actions.

For example: He comes home tired, eats a heavy dinner and sits down to read and smoke away a quiet evening. Suddenly he notices a weight on his stomach; then sharp pains around his heart, and a feeling of suffocation. Thoughts of "heart disease" rush over him, and in his agony he fears the worst.

His trouble was acute indigestion, brought on by overloading his tired stomach.

A couple of Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets might have given him relief—might have saved him hours of suffering.

Carry a package of Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets in your vest pocket—keep them in your room—Take one after each heavy meal, and ward off indigestion.

Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets relieve stomach troubles by aiding nature to supply those elements, the absence of which in the gastric juices, causes indigestion and dyspepsia. They tend to aid the stomach to digest all kinds of food and to quickly convert it into rich red blood.

We know what Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets are and what they will do. We guarantee them to relieve indigestion and dyspepsia. If they fail, we will refund your money.

from most plays of this sort it has an interesting plot which commands the strictest attention of the audience and is cleverly unfolded during the action of the play. Among the catchy musical numbers introduced during the action of the play, the most popular are "Killarney and You," "June, June, June," "I'm going to Steal Some Other Fellow's Girl," "Love Makes the World Go Round," "Come to the Land of Bohemia," "Reuben, Reuben, I've Been Thinking," "When Reuben Comes to Town," etc.

"Excuse Me." Rupert Hughes, the author of "Excuse Me," the episodic farce which Henry W. Savage will offer at the Auditorium next Saturday, Nov. 11, for a matinee and night performance, is one of the most prolific of modern American writers. In addition to "Excuse Me" he has a number of other successful plays to his credit and in the higher class magazines his name is encountered as the author of short stories, serial narratives and essays with quite remarkable frequency. He is a musical critic of more than national reputation. "Excuse Me" represents his first attempt at writing a pure farce, for the stage, and the deserved success which it has already earned, promises to give him enviable prominence in a field of literature which is absolutely distinctive.

"The Bohemian Girl." "The Bohemian Girl" comes to the Auditorium shortly. This is said to be a sumptuous spectacular production of Balfe's famous masterpiece, and will be presented by the Aborn Opera company with not only an unusual cast of soloists, big chorus, augmented orchestra and brilliant corps de ballet, numbering upwards of 100 people, but in the realistic scenes of which there are introduced a cavalcade of 20 horses, wonderful whirlwind acrobatics, real gypsies and other startling novelties.

If the kidneys are well and strong, the rest of the system is pretty sure to be in vigorous health.

Doan's Kidney Pills make strong, healthy kidneys.

T. B. Redman, 357 N. Main St., Asheville, N. C., says: "I cannot speak too highly of Doan's Kidney Pills, for they restored me to health and strength. I spent a great deal of money trying to get something that would rid me of my trouble, but all to no avail. My back pained me a great deal and my body was stiff and lame. The kidney secretions also gave me great annoyance. At last I was induced to try Doan's Kidney Pills and I obtained a box at Smith's Drug Store.
