PLEA OF INSANITY IN SPENCER CASE

Trial Begins for Murder Which Ended a Two Years Se- ries of Robberies.

New York Herald Syndicate Special. Springfield, Mass., Nov. 16.—Hereditary insanity as an explanation of the "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" career of Bertram G. Spencer will be offered by counsel for the defence, according to an announcement made after the beginning of the trial of the young man on a charge of murdering Miss Martha B. Blackstone on March 31, 1910.

Spencer's arrest ended a two years' series of robberies which had terrorized the community. These robberies and the killing of Miss Blackstone on the night of the last one are admitted by the young clerk and his attorneys.

and they have determined to fight out the case with the insanity plea.

So great has been the excitement over the trial that it was expected much difficulty would be experienced in selecting a jury, but when the first session ended the box had been filled, and only 125 of the 237 veniremen drawn had been questioned.

Lawyers for the defence opened the trial by moving that owing to the high feeling against Spencer no

Normal today; Temperature 45 degrees; precipitation .10.

Forecast until 8 p. m. Friday for Asheville and vicinity: Fair and slightly colder tonight, followed by increasing cloudiness Friday, with probably rain and warmer.

For North Carolina: Fair and slightly colder tonight; Friday increasing cloudiness, probably followed by rain and warmer west portion; moderate northerly winds becoming variable.

Summary of Conditions.

The advance of an area of high barometric pressure from the eastern slope of the Rocky Mountains to the Ohio valley and Great Lakes has been attended by generally fair weather over the east-central portion of the country. Moderate temperatures are noted over southeastern districts.

The advance of a disturbance now central over Colorado will influence for increasing cloudiness, with probably rain and warmer Friday, preceded by fair and slightly colder tonight.

Springfield man be selected for the jury. This was promptly overruled. Motions to quash the indictment and have the accused removed to a State hospital for the insane also were overruled. Exceptions were noted in each case by the defence.

Miss Blackstone, a graduate of Smith college, was a teacher in a public school here. She was shot dead at a card party at the home of Mrs. Sarah J. Dow on Round Hill. Four women were playing, and when an intruder was observed Miss Blackstone screamed. The robber fired and she fell dead. A locket bearing the inscription "B. G. S." led to Spencer's arrest.

PRESIDENT AT TOMB OF FRANCIS S. KEY

Placed Wreath on Resting Place of "Star Spangled Banner's" Author.

Frederick, Md., Nov. 14.—President Taft came over into the Frederick valley yesterday to advocate his arbitration treaties in a speech before the associated boards of trade of Maryland at the opera house here and to lay a wreath at the tomb of Francis Scott Key, author of the Star Spangled Banner.

It was the biggest day this little town has had since Barbara Fritchie waved her flag at Stonewall Jackson's men and drew a poem from the pen of Whittier. Hundreds of twentieth century Barbaras waved flags at the president and drew nods of recognition from him. The house where Barbara Fritchie lived, long ago torn down, had stood by a bridge, over which the president passed. The site was pointed out to him and the motor car paused for an instant while the president looked.

The president's address was substantially the same advocacy of the treaties which he made in speeches on the 15,000 mile trip just finished. The journey to Key's tomb was made in a falling twilight and it was quite dark when the procession turned the cemetery gate.

Over a carpet of fallen leaves the president led the procession and bearing his head laid a wreath at the base of the monument. He also placed an other brought by the citizens of Frederick. There were no formalities and there was no speech.

Then the president and his party turned down the hill and took the special train back to Washington.

There is little danger from a cold or from an attack of the grip except when followed by pneumonia, and this never happens when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is used. This remedy has won its great reputation and extensive sale by its remarkable cures of colds and grip and can be relied upon with implicit confidence. For sale by all dealers.

The New Orleans Times-Democrat says that the Southern navy yards can only be preserved by offensive action. Offensive to Secretary Meyer, of course.—Charleston News and Courier.

"I do not believe there is any other medicine so good for whooping cough as Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," writes Mrs. Francis Turpin, Junction City, Ore. This remedy is also unsurpassed for colds and croup. For sale by all dealers.
