Fifth Annual Thanksgiving Sale of Household Linens Sale Begins Tomorrow—Tuesday

The sale begins TUESDAY, Nov. 21. Housekeepers look forward to this Thanksgiving Event, as the time when linen closets may be replenished at less cost. The Bon Marche is the recognized headquarters for the best in Linens. Our stock since the removal has been greatly strengthened.

Style, Quality and Value are the chief characteristics of this Annual Sale of Thanksgiving Linens. Last year the Sale was very successful, but we have gone further this season, our line is more extensive, more comprehensive than ever before.

This is a live store. We are not satisfied with good enough, we want better. This Sale demonstrates that we are ever on the alert for more business. We prepared for it months ago. Placed import orders, so as to get the lowest market price. The regular prices quoted here are our own prices, guaranteed to be the lowest similar goods can be bought for in the United States.

IMMENSE POWER PROJECT RUMORED

And the Completion of Links That Would Give Southern a Knoxville-Atlanta Trunk Line—Four Immense Power Dams to Be Built—Resurvey in Progress.

Among some of the railroad men of the city there are rumors of vast industrial developments that are being projected along the Little Tennessee river below Bushnell, which, if carried out, will be of far reaching influence in the industrial and railroad world. Like most rumors which have to do with great undertakings, they are not easily substantiated, as those interested are naturally averse to talking of their plans for publication, but these plans do appear so practicable and so probable, that it would be hard to believe that the rumors have not some good foundation. These developments if perfected will result in the completion of another trunk line for the Southern railway, something for which it is understood the company has long been working, and in the construction of three immense power dams on the Tennessee and one on the Chooch river. The dams are to be for the purpose of furnishing electric power to factories in North Carolina, Tennessee, Georgia and Alabama.

Relocating Survey Ordered.
The rumors arose from a certain order that it is said has gone out of the general offices of the Southern railway, which was that a survey be made, relocating the route of the railroad running along the Little Tennessee river, a part of which has already been built and is now in operation. Several forces of men are at work surveying the new route which will be located nearly 200 feet above the river bed, so that the dams can be built. It is understood that when the survey has been completed, the road is to be finished from Sevierville to Franklin, N. C., which will give a direct route from Knoxville to Atlanta. There are now two gaps in the road, one between Franklin and Bushnell, and the other between Fontana and the Tennessee line. Both gaps would probably have been filled years ago had it not been for the litigation over the right of way through a power site owned by the J. S. Bailey company at Rocky Point. According to reports, this power site with nearly all the river bed below Bushnell has been purchased by a great power company, the name of which is not disclosed, and the company proposes to build a dam at Rocky Point 150 feet high, which will back the water nearly to Bushnell, a distance of 23 miles. Two other dams are to be built below this, nearer to the Tennessee line, and the fourth will be built on the Chooch river.

Coal Fields-to-Sea Link.
The construction of the dams will mean much to the whole of western North Carolina, in fact the influence will not be limited to sections, but the completion of the railway trunk line will probably be of more immediate interest. The route up the Tennessee is said to be one of the most practicable, as a link in a c.o.m.-fields-to-the-sea road, of any that has ever been surveyed. It has been surveyed time and again and years ago it was staked off by the old "Black Diamond" company and it was thought certain that the road would be completed at that time.

During later years and after the Southern began to take up the matter, things have been held in check by the J. S. Bailey company, which owned the site at Rocky Point. The Southern tried to secure a right of way before commencing the construction of the road, but the work was started in three places on the line, at Bushnell, at the Tennessee end and at the Franklin or Georgia end, and the company evidently trusting to condemnation proceedings to complete the right of way, and it was given out that the power proposition was simply a hold-up scheme.

Of Almost Unlimited Value.
All the time the power company maintained that the site was of almost unlimited value and it is understood that large sums of money were refused for the right of way. At any rate the road was built from Bushnell to Fontana, a distance of about 15 miles, the road was also extended to Franklin from the Georgia line, and from Sevierville to the Tennessee-North Carolina line. A fine grade was secured, it being stated that when the road was complete a car could be started at the Georgia line and it would roll all the way to the Knoxville yards, coming to a stop without brakes. It was the securing of this grade which caused the railroad to refuse to build the road high enough above the power site that the dam could be built, but it is now said that the engineers think that even by doing this, they can get a grade not over 5-10 of one per cent, which is scarcely perceptible.

Investors have been alive to the possibilities of the Tennessee as a potential power source for a long time. The question seemed to be as to how the power could be used. From Bushnell to the Tennessee line, there is a great fall, and many rapids and the banks are steep and of rock so that the dams may be built on good foundations and at comparatively little cost.

VISITOR FOOTBALL TEAM WAS PIE FOR THE CADETS

Athens Preparatory School, It Is Argued, Must Have Furnished Victims.

It appears that the Bingham football team has been rather unlucky in some of the games arranged for the season, at least in the representations that have been made in Bingham, as it is to be supposed, considering the manner in which the games have been advertised. One game was advertised to be played with the football team of the University of Georgia a few weeks ago and when the match was pulled off, Bingham simply ran away with the visitors and it then came out that it was not the regular varsity team.

Saturday the Bingham team advertised to play the University of Chattanooga, and the score resulted 48 to 0, and now it appears that it was not the regular Chattanooga varsity team but, so far as can be learned, must have been the team of the Athens branch of the University.

CATARH OF THE STOMACH.

A Pleasant, Simple, But Safe and Effectual Cure For It.

COSTS NOTHING TO TRY.
Catarrh of the stomach has long been considered the next thing to incurable. The usual symptoms are a full or bloating sensation after eating, accompanied sometimes with sour or watery risings, a formation of gases, causing pressure on the heart and lungs and difficult breathing, headaches, fickle appetite, nervousness and a general played out, languid feeling. There is often a foul taste in the mouth, coated tongue and if the interior of the stomach could be seen it would show a slimy, inflamed condition.

The cure of this common and obstinate trouble is found in a treatment which causes the food to be readily, thoroughly digested before it has time to ferment and irritate the delicate mucous surfaces of the stomach. To secure a prompt and healthy digestion is the one necessary thing to do, and when normal digestion is secured the catarrhal condition will have disappeared.

According to Dr. Harnisson, the safest and best treatment is to use after each meal a tablet, composed of Diastase, Aseptic Pepsin, a Little Nux, Golden Seal and fruit acids. These tablets can now be found at all drug stores under the name of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and not being a patent medicine can be used with perfect safety and assurance that healthy appetite and thorough digestion will follow their regular use after meals.

The plan of dieting is simply another name for starvation, and the use of prepared foods and new fangled breakfast foods simply makes matters worse as any dyspeptic who has tried them knows.

As Dr. Bennett says, the only reason I can imagine why Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are not universally used by everybody who is troubled in any way with poor digestion, is because many people seem to think that because a medicine is advertised by a trademark it must be a humbug, whereas, as a matter of fact, any druggist who is observant knows that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have cured more people of catarrh of the stomach, indigestion, heartburn, heart trouble, nervous prostration and run-down condition generally, than all the patent medicines and doctors' prescriptions for stomach trouble combined.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the safest preparation as well as the simplest and most convenient remedy for any form of indigestion, catarrh of the stomach, biliousness, sour stomach, heartburn and bloating after meals.

of Chattanooga, which is simply a preparatory school.

Of course Bingham is a preparatory school, too, but it would seem that it is unfortunate, to say the least of it, to have spectators go to the grounds expecting to see a good game with a "varsity" team, and then witness a one-sided performance.

Naturally a university has more than one team, but a glance at the cards advertising the game of Saturday would lead one to suppose that it was the "varsity" team that will be played.

Bingham ploughed her way at will through the line of her opponents Saturday. She scored after about three minutes and continued to make touchdowns and goals about as fast as the players cared to make the effort, the visitors being able to make little resistance.
